News of the Week on Chatham County Farms

The "Jersey Bulletin" issue of August 5th carried a cover picture of "Draconian" a young bull that recently sold for $8,000 at the B. H. Bull and Sons' sale at Brampton, Ontario. "Draconian" is a son of "Pioneer of Oakland," and of especial interest to us is the fact that he is a half brother of the young bull brought down from Virginia, and now owned by John Norwood, and the Oldham brothers in this county.

The thresher purchased by the Mitchell's Chapel Colored Farmers Club last winter has threshed some 18,000 bushels of grain during the past season. These men report that the threshing machine was idle only four hours of the entire time, and did the work very efficiently and economically. This threshing machine is made by J. I. Case and Company and was sold by Mr. Henry A. Bynum of Pittsboro.

Chatham farmers are showing increased interest in the use of lime for the growing of legumes. During the past week, the county agent assisted in taking orders for seven 30-ton cars of this material all to be used this fall by Chatham county farmers under small grains and clovers.

Ernest Brewer of Siler City is planning to use a car load of lime on his farm at Kimbolton this fall. Practically all of this lime will be used for small grains and clover. Mr. Brewer plans to seed twenty acres in sweet clover next spring, and will lime his land this fall preparatory to seeding this clover.

Mr. W. W. Stedman of Moncure is another sweet clover "fan." Mr. Stedman is using ten tons of lime this fall, and plans to seed that many acres in sweet clover next spring.

The first of the Jersey cattle brought in from Virginia to freshen is the heifer owned by J. Lee Harmon of Moncure, R. F. D. No. 2. Lee expects this heifer to produce three gallons of milk with her first calf.

JUNIOR CLUB NEWS

Activities of the 4-H Members of Chatham County; Stage All Set for Calf Club Show

Some thirty purebred Jersey females and six pure bred males will be shown at the First Annual Chatham Calf Club Show at Pittsboro, Friday, August 30. The Jerseys will all be shown on the court house lawn. The program begins at 10 a. m. with a talk by Mr. A. C. Kimrey of the office of Dairy Extension of State College. Talks will also be made by Mr. Ward C. Snarr, American Jersey Cattle Club representative, and Mr. F. H. Mendenhall, manager of the North State Creamery. Premium money is being donated by the American Jersey Cattle Club of America, the North State Creamery Company of Burlington, and the Durham Dairy Products Company of Durham. The judging and placing of the cattle will be done by Prof. F. M. Haig of the Dairy Department of State College.

Burt Dark and Guy Dark, sons of Mr. A. B. Dark of Siler have done a real job in fitting their calves for show. These boys started fitting their calves only about two weeks ago, but they now have them in good shape.

Paul Clark, son of Mr. Vet Clark, is also working hard on his calf, and has it in good shape.

Owing to the fact that most of the boys fitting their calves are having difficulty in keeping the home made blankets on their calves, the county agent is planning to order regular calf blankets for calf club members.

FARMERS WIN LIME AT HOG GUESSING CONTEST

As a result of the estimation contest held at the farm of J. M. Edwards some time ago, six farmers won a car of lime, donated to them for estimating most correctly the gross weights of the 20 hogs in the feeding demonstration conducted by Mr. Edwards. This lime is being donated by the Liberty Lime Company of Virginia.

Mr. W. W. Stedman was first prize winner, his estimate being within five pounds of the correct gross weights, while Mr. G. M. Womble of Moncure was second, his estimate being within thirty pounds of the correct weights. Other winners in this contest were: Mr. W. H. White, Siler City R. F. D. No. 2, Mr. Gurney Clark, Pittsboro R. F. D. No. 2, Epps Clark, Pittsboro, R. F. D. No. 2, and Mr. Arthur Harrington, Merry Oaks. Mr. Stedman won a prize of ten tons, while the next five closest estimators won four tons of lime each.

McComb and Block, Livestock Commission merchants of Richmond, Va., donated $7.50 in prizes for the three men estimating most correctly the gross weights of the hogs in the demonstration conducted by Mr. Ira White of Siler City R. F. D. No. 3. The three winners in this estimating contest were J. Lee Harmon, Moncure R. F. D. No. 2, O. L. Lambert, Siler City R. F. D. No. 3, and W. H. White, Siler City R. F. D. No. 2.

BEAR CREEK FARMERS GOOD GUESSERS

Mr. B. N. Welch of Bear Creek, R. F. D., reports a yield of 81 1/2 bushels of wheat on the five-acre wheat demonstration he conducted in co-operation with the county agent and the Chilean Nitrate of Soda Educational Bureau last spring. On the acre plot receiving no nitrate of Soda, Mr. Welch made a yield of eight bushels per acre. Where nitrate of soda was used, his yield was exactly doubled. Figuring the cost of nitrate of soda, other fertilizer and labor, Mr. Welch made a profit over and above expenses of $14.34 per acre on his wheat.

The Chilean Nitrate of Soda Educational Bureau donated $7.50 in prizes for the three most accurate estimates of the yield of this five acres before it was harvested. Mr. Lonnie Scott, Bear Creek R. F. D. No. 1, won first prize of $3.50, his estimated yield on the five acres being 82 1/2 bushels. Mr. C. B. Beal was next with an estimate of 84 bushels and Mr. A. E. Cox was third with an estimate of 86 bushels.

NEWS OF THE WEEK IN NEIGHBORING COUNTIES

Hens in demonstration flocks throughout North Carolina laid an average of 16 eggs per bird and paid about 21 cents each above feed costs for the month of July.

Much plowing under of clover sod has been done this month in Lincoln county. The season has been fine for turning land.

Two registered Jersey cows from the herd of R. L. Shuford of Newton in Catawba county were purchased by the Crossnore school in Avery county this month.

Buncombe county farmers have begun to handle their farm woodlots according to methods advocated by R. W. Graeber, extension for-ester.

Proving the value of live-at-home systems being followed in western North Carolina, it is said that not a single farm has been sold under a Federal farm loan mortgage.

R. H. RUFFNER SEES BIG FIELD FOR CATTLE BREEDER

Only about 8000 of the 300,000 dairy cattle in North Carolina are pure bred animals and the improvement to be made in the blood lines of the remaining 97.5 per cent which are not purebred should come from the 2.5 per cent that are pure bred.

"But in addition to improving the cattle we now have on our farms, there will likely be an increase in number with the present growth of the dairy industry," says R. H. Ruffner, head of the animal husbandry department of State College. "It is universally accepted that pure bred animals exceed grades and the better bred stock thus commands a higher price. However, this higher price sometimes restricts their use. A pure bred animal is one whose sire and dam are recorded by name and number in a register of the breed. Then, in addition to the register, there is for each breed, another register in which are entered the names of cows which have completed records meeting specified requirements of milk and butterfat productions under definite regulations."

Prof. Ruffner says that it pays a dairyman to test his cows for production because it raises the standard of the breed and increases its popularity. It pays also because the owner may sell the animals and their progeny at a higher price.

Each year, North Carolina farmers buy some 2,500 dairy bulls. All of these should be pure bred and should come from within the state. Three reasons are given for this—first, the bulls are acclimated; second, there are as good breeders within the state as elsewhere in the country, and third, North Carolina is the only state in the Union at this time which is freed from Bovine tuberculosis.

TO A POSSIBLE SOUL MATE

I long to know your views on life.—
On Freud, on Bergson, on Voltaire:
I want to ask you questions but—
I do not dare.

Do you prefer a clanging street
Or windy quiet on a hill?
I yearn to hear your answer but—
I must be still!

Your preference in kinds of pie
Can not be voiced for my instruction:
Because, alas, we've never had
An introduction!

Mrs. Catharine McIver Dead Monday evening, August 19, as the sunset glow faded in the western sky and the summer's day drew to a close the community was saddened by the death of its oldest and most beloved resident, Mrs. Catharine McIver. It was fitting that death should come quietly and peacefully with the passing of the day when all nature rests and peace broods over the earth for a long, well-lived life was brought to a close. A life lived modestly, yet a life so filled with humility, patience, faith and simple goodness that its sweetness will ever linger and live on and on in the lives of those with whom she came in contact. The influence of such a life cannot be estimated. It is an inspiration even to the most indifferent. Eighty-six summers lived wisely and well. A wonderful and an enviable record worthy of emulation. Mrs. McIver was an example of old age at its best—sweet, gentle, loving and beloved. One of the most beautiful attributes of this home so sorely grieved was the reverence and devotion in which this wonderful mother was held. Left a widow many years ago, her children took charge of home affairs and their devotion and deference to her has been marvelous. It seems that as far as was humanly possible every wish was gratified. She was indeed queen of home and of hearts—and deservedly so. Her life has been a blessing and a benediction not only to the family but to all who knew her.

The funeral services were conducted by her pastor, Rev. E. C. Maness, at the Buckhorne church, Tuesday afternoon, and interment was in the new Corinth cemetery. The many beautiful flowers and the large crowd present attested, in part, the esteem in which the deceased was held. The following children, together with a number of grand children and great grand-children survive: Mrs. R. O. Buchanan of Jonesboro; Mrs. R. G. Avent of Sanford; Mrs. T. A. Ausley, Miss Lizzie McIver and Messrs. J. D. and B. M. McIver of Corinth.

The little home nestling amid the Buckhorne hills is sad and lonely but it will always cherish and be blessed with memories of the beautiful life lived there and no doubt the gentle spirit will hover near that loved spot and comfort those who loved her so devotedly and so unselfishly.

Television is now used by a New York producer in selecting chorus girls from all over the country.
