News of the Week on Chatham County Farms

James Stowd, Bruce Ward, Bernice Ward and Frank Mann accompanied the County Agent on a visit to the Reynolda dairy farm at Reynolda last Friday. These boys expect to purchase registered Jerseys shortly, and the trip was made for the purpose of looking over some heifers that were for sale. These boys were fortunate in having an opportunity of seeing the famous bull which has just been purchased by the Reynolda company. The sire of this bull was three times grandchampion at the National Dairy Show, his grandsire was also three times champion, and his great grandsire was champion at the National Dairy Show the only time he was shown.

The favorable weather prevailing during the past few weeks has seen much land broken, a large portion of which we are glad to say is Lespedeza sod.

A number of farmers in the vicinity of Pittsboro are participating in a cooperative shipment of lime. This car of 33 tons of lime will arrive during the latter part of the first week, or the first part of the second week in March. Several cars of lime have also been ordered for farmers in the western part of the county.

Mr. A. V. Ferguson of Siler City RFD intends to cut his cotton crop by half this year, and use the dust poison method for control of the boll weevil on his entire crop.

The County Agent is expecting a car of Mammoth Yellow soy beans at Pittsboro during the second week of March. This is the last

Carolina Druggist Pioneered Modern Way to Treat Colds

Developed Valuable Formula While
Seeking Way to Avoid "Dosing"
Children's Colds

While trying to find a treatment for the colds of his own children which would avoid constant "dosing," so disturbing to delicate little stomachs, Lunsford Richardson, a North Carolina pharmacist, developed Vicks VapoRub—the modern external treatment for colds.

Being applied externally, this modern vaporizing ointment cannot disturb the digestion. When rubbed on throat and chest it gives off medicated vapors which are inhaled direct to the inflamed air-passages; and, at the same time, it acts through the skin like a poultice or plaster.

As one enthusiastic mother told another about this better method of treating colds Vicks soon became widely known. In time adults, too, found by actual use that it is equally good for their own colds. Today, the whole trend of medical practice is away from needless "dosing," and the fame of Vicks has spread to over 60 countries.

The ever-increasing demand is shown in the familiar Vicks slogan. First announced when Vicks reached "17 Million Jars Used Yearly," and later raised to "21 Million," the figures have again been changed—so there are now "Over 26 Million Jars Used Yearly."

cooperative shipment of soy beans for this year.

As a result of a number of hog feeding demonstrations completed last year, the County Agent has inquiries from a number of farmers in regard to the "Shay Method" of feeding out hogs. We hope to induce enough farmers to feed hogs to ship several cars from Siler City next fall and one car from Pittsboro. All farmers who are interested in feeding out hogs are requested to get in touch with the County Agent.

Entrants in the Chatham County Five-Acre Corn Contest are coming in rapidly. It is hoped that at least fifty Chatham farmers will enter this county contest this year. We would like to hear from any farmers who may be interested.

SOME USEFUL HINTS ON RAISING CALVES BY HAND

1. Do not overfeed milk. One pound to each ten pounds of live weight is sufficient. The calf should be induced to eat grain and hay by the time it is about two or three weeks old.

2. Milk containing about 4 per cent butterfat is best suited to raising calves. Many Jerseys and some Guernseys produce milk so rich that one-fourth skim milk should be added to the whole milk from such cows.

3. Calves should be fed at regular hours, three times a day for the first week.

4. The milk should always be around 100 degrees Fahrenheit at feeding time.

5. Each calf should be fed in an individual pail and the milk weighed at each feeding.

6. The pails from which the calves are fed should be washed and sterilized just as those from which the milk is sold.

7. For the first two weeks it is best to keep calves in individual pens to prevent the spread of infection and to make calf raising easier.

8. Changes in the quality of milk fed to young calves should be made gradually.

9. About sixteen pounds of skim-milk per day is the maximum amount to feed a calf per day. This amount should not be reached until the calf is between two and three months of age.

10. The quarters in which the calves are kept should be dry, well lighted and ventilated, and protected from cold during the winter months.

FARM RELIEF FUND TO BE AVAILABLE FOR CHATHAM FARMERS

On February 25, Congress passed a bill appropriating $7,000,000, a part of which will be available for North Carolina and Chatham county farmers to be used as a loan for the purchase of seed, fertilizer etc, the money to be available in a few days. There will probably not be enough money available to take care of all requests, but an effort will be made to assist as many farmers as possible who are eligible for this loan in this county.

To be eligible for this loan, farmers must have sustained severe crop losses last year, and be with out funds, seed, feed or fertilizer, or a basis of credit from which to secure same elsewhere. The County Agent has requested that all of the bankers in the county, and certain merchants serve on a committee to pass on the eligibility of farmers for this loan. If you are eligible for this loan, see your banker at once. The County Agent has written all of the bankers of the county asking that they furnish him with names of farmers who would be eligible for this loan.

Poor prices may be the result not of poor demand but of poor product.

"Roughage is just as necessary to the soil as to the cow"—W. H. Barton.

It is sometimes better for farmers to think so hard that they cannot work than to work so hard that they cannot think.

Quality is a production which is closely related to the supply demand problem.

Whoever cultivates a garden not only cultivates vegetables but contentment, patience, pride, and reliance on God.

WILL CONDUCT DECLAMATION AND RECITATION CONTESTS

Two contests of county-wide interest to the Chatham county high school boys and girls will be held at Siler City and Moncure.

A declamation contest for boys will be held at Moncure high school Friday evening, March 7th, at 8 o'clock.

A recitation contest for girls will be held at Siler City Friday evening, March 14th, at 8 o'clock.

Lawyer W. P. Horton, of Pittsboro, gives the winner of each contest a beautiful, special designed medal. Mr. Horton promises to give medals annually if the school boys and girls show interest in this phase of school activity.

Last year these contests were confined to Pittsboro high school contestants, but henceforth they will be open to any high school in the county.

Letters have been sent to all the high schools and it is expected that the following schools will send a contestant for each contest: Pittsboro, Siler City, Moncure, Bonlee, Goldston, Bells, Bennett, and Silk Hope.

Mr. Horton realizes that there is a lack of interest in public speaking on the part of high school boys and girls. These medals are given with the idea of stimulating interest in public speaking. It is the opinion of many educators that our high schools and colleges are not encouraging students in the development of the art of speaking. An athlete is much more popular than a good debater. A "monogram" or "letter" is more coveted than a debator's emblem or medal. It is fine to be a star athlete but the world will always need men who can stand on their feet in public and express themselves.

It is hoped that the students will lend their support by attending and that they will back their school representative as much as they do their athletic teams.

Show windows of the world

Mr. Kipling to the contrary, East does meet West—in the advertising pages . . . British cutlery and Chinese porcelains. French furniture and Persian rugs. Marble from Italy and ivory from India. Coffee from Brazil and tea from Ceylon. . . Products from every corner of the earth come to you in the advertisements. They are the show windows of the world.

Without leaving the arm-chair in your own living-room, you can pass from an Oriental bazaar to a breakfast food factory in Battle Creek—and back again. The journey is fraught with color and romance. You learn something of far-away lands and peoples—of periods and patterns. You begin to understand problems of craftsmanship and processes of manufacture.

And you learn value. You realize that products consistently advertised are the finest of their kind. When you go to buy, you know exactly what you want, how much it should cost, where to find it and what to ask for. . . . You save time and money by shopping in the world's show windows.

Advertisements are a practical and cultural part of the modern background—read them regularly.
