

PRAISING HOOVER

We do not like parodies on the 23d Psalm, but after two or three had poked "The Laborer's Psalm" at us and wanted it printed and had been declined, we took the thing the next time one wanted it printed in order to have the thing over with, and now here is an answer by a Republican. We are giving a square deal and printing it, but please let's have no more travesties on the 23d Psalm. Here goes:

In my distress I cried unto the Lord, And he heard me. Deliver me, O Lord from the whiskey And deception of the Democrats.

He caused the people to see, Just where their salvation would be. So the dear Hoover we have— An answer to the people's prayers.

The simplest and greatest thing taught in school, Is to let the majority rule. Just because your man didn't win, Don't kick the one that did get in.

Now all who work and try, Their state of unemployment will die. Surely you can't hope to gain, By running down Hoover just because he isn't wet as rain.

It's strange to me how the unemployed, With income taxes could be annoyed, Try getting down to workk And stop making like Hoover is trying to shirk.

We that work enjoy our gain, While others want prosperity to fall like rain. Live at home, take care of what you've got, And do try to be a true patriot.

Fear not, Hoover is with thee. The Republican party will protect thee. Even though you are poor as a mouse, During his reign prepare to own your very first house.

GOD NOT TO BLAME

Mr. Editor: There is a lot of talk about hard times, and it is hard times with us for certain. But what is the cause? Surely, God is not to blame. Then, it must be we who are to blame. I feel as if we are not living the lives we should and not serving God as we ought. So I feel that we are to blame for the hard times. If we expect and wish better times, let's all try to live nearer and serve God better than ever before. In that case, I feel that God will help us—it matters not whether we be farmers, merchants or anything else, for it all has to come from old Mother Earth. And unless we serve our Maker, how can we expect him to help us. May God have mercy on us and help us in every good thing we undertake.

I CAN NOT PASS

Examinations are my pest, I can not pass, yet though I study all night to rid myself of the presence, My brain runneth empty. Oh! ignorance thou are with me, thou preparest no answer for me in the presence of my teacher, thou fillest my eyes with tears. Thy rod and thy staff they comfort me not. Surely, ignorance and stupidity shall follow me all the days of my life, and I shall dwell in the same grade forever.

NEW JERSEY WOMAN SAYS HER HEALTH IS RESTORED AFTER 5 YEARS OF SUFFERING

Mrs. S. L. Tapper says for five years I have been suffering with indigestion and stomach trouble. A friend of mine told me about SPEAGOLAX so I tried it and the first bottle did me so much good that I took two more. I haven't had a sign of indigestion since and I can eat things now that I haven't been able to eat for years. My nerves are back to normal, my backaches have stopped and I feel like a new person and I give SPEAGOLAX the credit.

APRIL GYPSY

I didn't know where I was going Nor just how long I would stay— But I felt the gypsy winds blowing, And I had to be on my way.

I was mad for the smell of the dogwood And hungry for a patch of sky, I was longing to roam in the wildwood With you close . . . by my side.

So I followed the road that was luring And found, at the end of my quest, A heart and a love—so enduring, And all the things I love best.

Oh, the stars were mine nad their beauty To thrill me as stars always do; I forgot for an hour all duty In the glamour of loving you.

DON'T STINT

Every man wants a Bank Account, but STINTING one's self of food and other things essential to the highest degree of efficiency is not the way to get it. The secret is to Make MORE.

Any Chatham county farmer, with a fair season, should produce everything needed for food and feed except sugar and coffee and the condiments, such as salt, pepper, and flavoring extracts. When he has done that, he can live like a king and will need comparatively few dollars for other living expenses.

When he gets a dollar then, there will be some chance of his putting it in the Bank.

The next time you see a home with that "I'd like to live there" atmosphere, look at the roof. The chances are that the roof is of color in harmony with the general color note of the home exterior.
