

TOWN AND COUNTY BRIEFS

Mr. and Mrs. Hamp Knight are the proud parents of a new ten-pound girl.

Mrs. F. J. Faison and baby girl are spending the week with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peterson.

We note that R. H. Abernethy of Bynum was one of the baseball boys at Elon College who won the letter "E".

The Elon and Campbell College boys are back home for the holidays. The University and other college students will soon be in.

We boasted rather early of that Saturday shower. It was very light and cold weather followed that more than counterbalanced the benefit of the shower. Fire felt good for a day or two.

Many friends regret the serious illness of Mrs. Henry A. London during the past week. However, it is good to know that her wonted resilience is restoring her to her accustomed health.

We hear that the physicians at Watts Hospital are hoping that Mr. Jas. L. Griffin may come home in time to vote in the primary. That will be fine.

Mr. J. H. Anderson of Lillington was in Pittsboro Monday with a view of moving his harnett county saw mill to Mr. Alf Norwood's place in Baldwin township.

Mr. J. T. Bland visited Mr. R. V. Griffin at Graham Sunday, and the best of it was he brought back Mr. Griffin's renewal for us.

Miss Mary Womble, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Womble, returned recently from Cadwell county, where she taught the past session.

Mrs. George Bynum recently underwent an operation for appendicitis and also for gall bladder. She is at Watts hospital.

A nice shower Saturday afternoon brightened up gardens and friends just when such a shower was beginning to be needed. Things look good this year. Maybe Chatham is to have a real crop.

Misses Virginia Bean and Eleanor Shoemaker attended the senior ball at the University as guests of Messrs. Lee Powell and Willie Morgan. By the way, Miss Shoemaker, who has been here during the past school session with her aunt, Mrs. Matthews, is returning to her home in Michigan.

Not to hear a word from a subscriber who is behind makes us wonder sometimes if he wants the paper. These hard times we are trying to accommodate our subscribers, but do not want to send the Record to a single person who does not appreciate it.

Mr. O. R. Hilliard wishes it announced that the Hilliard-Elkins-Perry-Phillips reunion will be held year at Hickory Grove church near Harper's Cross Roads on the fifth Sunday in June, and that everybody, especially of the family connections mentioned, is invited to come and bring a well filled basket.

Brother Daily's picnic was a big thing. The editor failed to get there, but regrets missing the big dinner and the many fine folks present. It is reported that there were possibly more than 200 people present, including preachers galore. Even one of the editors of the Christian Advocate was present. Baptist, Presbyterian, Episcopal, as well as Methodist, preachers were there, and still many basketfuls of whole food and fragments were taken up. Verily, it must have been a big dinner! Several sprightly talks were made. It was Brother Daily's birthday, but we fear that a few such days would mean fewer years for that hearty brother.

Civilization Hardly Skin Deep

Did you ever read of a more savage behavior among the wild Indians than that among the supposedly civilized people of Sherman Texas as described in the following summing up from the Monroe Enquirer? Here it is:

That our vaunted Christian civilization is only thin veneer, I submit the following extract from the notorious Sherman, Texas, lynching:

A great cry went up when the first men in the vault dumped the body, still limp as if recently dead, down the ladder from the second story hole in the wall. The body rolled over and over down the ladder, striking the ground with a thump. Women, babies in their arms, shrieked and cried out with what observers termed ghoulish glee. Men seized upon the lifeless negro, tied a chain about the body, fastened it to the rear of an automobile and started "down to nigger town."

Through the streets of the negro section they dragged their bloody load and the journey ended at a large negro store which housed a drug store, beauty shop, undertaking parlor, tailor shop and other enterprises.

A tree was nearby. The body was strung up to the tree and boxes piled beneath. A fire was lighted, then the drug store was set fire and a brilliant Texas moon added it rays to the gruesome sight.

After virtually destroying the drug store the mob suged down a three block section of the negro district, a stampede of humanity ran amuck, clubs, bricks, bottles and fists were wielded against windows and doors. Virtually every store was entered and its interior wrecked.

Soon the sidewalks were covered with broken glass which, sparkling in the glare from torches, the flaming building and the moon, cast grotesque shadows on the dangling figure of the negro, hung to the tree by the chain which had dragged the body through the streets of Sherman.

COUNTY COURT CASES

Judge Bell convened court Monday long enough to dispose of two cases. Both defendants pleaded guilty. John Allen Clark, for abandonment, pays cost and $5.00 a month for two years toward the support of his children. Bond of $200 required.

June Snipes for stealing chickens pays costs and gives $200 bond for good behaviour. A. L. Brooks and G. B. Emerson were prosecuting witnesses. Rufus Bynum lost the chickens.

Girl's Friendly Society Meets

The G. F. S. candidates met with Mrs. Shannonhouse, the directress, on Wednesday afternoon, May 21. After preliminaries, each of the eight members present gave a current event as her name was called. As they paid their dues they told how they had earned the money. The dues are five cents a month. After all reports were given, as unfinished business we discussed the story read last month. Bet Johnson rehearsed her story. As new business we decided to learn the Girl's Friendly Prayer. As each learns it she is to receive a candidate's button.

Let Mrs. Shannonhouse had read us several stories with good morals, we looked at the picture brought by the girls. After that we went out in the yard and played Sardines, a game we all enjoyed. Finally Mrs. Shannonhouse took us all up to the drug store and treated us to ice cream and cake. I think we enjoyed this meeting better than any other we have had.

BET JOHNSON, REPORTER

The 7th Millionth Chevrolet Detroit, Mich., May 28—The seven millionth car built by the Chevrolet Motor Company is on its way to its owner somewhere in America. The epochal car, which happened to be a coach, rolled off the assembly line Wednesday morning, May, 28, in the company's huge plant at Flint, Mich. The car was the 1,845,938 six-cylinder car produced by Chevrolet since this model was brought out in January 1929.

Dickens Loses $100 Worth of Bacon

Mr. B. M. Dickens, of Brickhaven, was here Monday morning to have the sheriff go and try to get a track of the miscreant who stole his bacon on Sunday night.

He had lost all the bacon he had except one ham, and thinks that was left because the thief became uneasy and not out of good will. The rascal went in at the rear of the smoke house, breaking his way in. When Mr. Dickens' son came in about ten or eleven o'clock he saw the collie dog acting as if he had seen something behind the smoke house, but he did not consider it seriously, and it is supposed that the thief was then busy and that the coming of the young man caused him to leave the one ham.

The car in which it was taken away must have been parked at a considerable distance, as Mr. Dickens saw no evidence of parking near the place.

Officers went down to spy out the land, but it would be surprising to report that any definite clue had been found. However, it would seem to be some one the dog knew or, if he is a typical collie, he would have objected more seriously.

A BELL REUNION

Mr. John Bell and sister Mrs. R. P. Johnson have recently had quite a reunion of the Bell family. Mr. and Mrs. William Bell of Chicago were here and at Moncure several days. Mr. and Mrs. John Bell, Jr., came over from Fuquay Springs, where Johnnie manages one of the Progressive groceries. Mr. and Mrs. William Utley of Moncure have also been at the Johnson home. Harry Bell came for a visit from Sanford, and Miss Minnie from her school.

Mr. William Bell is now holding the responsible position of advertising manager for the Quaker Oats Company in Chicago, and has a million and a quarter dollars to spend each year in advertising the products of the company in whose services he has grown up, starting as salesman in a small district of this state. It goes without saying that he is drawing a fine salary.

McNEILL BOOK CLUB

The McNeill Book Club held its May meeting with Mrs. George Brooks, Dr., with nine members present. Mrs. William Bell and Mrs. Will Utley attended as special guests of the club.

The program was devoted to William Sidney Porter, better known, by his pseudonym of O. Henry. The features of the program were well chosen, being such as would refresh the memory of the best known facts of Porter's life as well as call attention to the events, equally interesting but not so generally known.

Mrs. N. C. Shiver read "The Municipal Report," which in the view of many is O. Henry's best story. Mrs. Shiver has a pleasing voice, good enunciation and interpretation and these pleasing qualities made her reading most enjoyable to her audience.

Other members contributed interesting facts about O. Henry, one quoting the characterization of him as "the tallest of North Carolina's literary pines."

Chatham Boys Win Big Honors

It is a most notable fact that three Chatham county youths among 2000 University students have attained the highest distinctions allowed to about sixty students. Of 39 students receiving the Kappa Beta Alpha keys, as marks of the highest scholarship, two hail from Chatham—C. W. Goldston of Goldston and Lawrence London of Pittsboro. Two or three weeks ago, the Record cited young Harper of Pittsboro as distinguished by being one of the few admitted to the Golden Fleece honor society. The number of Chatham students at the University is insignificant among the hosts there, but the number of honor men is all out of proportion.

To the Democratic Voters of Chatham County

I recommend to you W. H. Garner of Goldston. He is a loyal Democrat, farmer, and business man who has made a success of his own business and is well fitted and capable of representing our county in the State Senate.

As we have not had a representative from this part of the county in over twenty years, we feel that we are entitled to some recognition and should have it. We also feel that Center township, and especially Pittsboro, has had its full share of representatives and office holders.

With two Pittsboro lawyers chosen as judge and solicitor of the County Recorder's Court and with two other Pittsboro lawyers seeking places as senator and representative, it would appear as if the Pittsboro lawyers would bobble up the whole works as far as their number would suffer. That would make four of them in office, not to count the county attorneyship and attorneyship to the school board, leaving only one more Democratic lawyer in town to be provided for.

Under those circumstances, it seems that we are getting to place where we are living under lawyer domination. Consequently, the people of this part of the county feel that we should have a man to represent us in the senate who is not a lawyer. Garner is a farmer and a business man. Remember that only primary day.

Respectfully, D. H. Ellis, Rt. 1, Bear Creek, N. C. (Political Advertising)

How About This, J. Dewey?

Perhaps our friend J. Dewey Dorsett does not see the Monroe Enquirer, and would miss the following paragraph unless we print it. Besides, we want his friends here in Chatham to see how liberal Dewey is to the afflicted: Thus comments the Enquirer:

This workmen's compensation is about to go to seed. It is said that Charles Everhart, while cutting a chew of his own tobacco, stuck his own knife in his own thumb, resulting in infection and an operation, he has been awarded over $200 in compensation from the insurance carrier of the Thomasville Chair Company. According to a ruling of J. Dewey Dorsett, industrial commissioner at Raleigh. How come? Isn't this compensation business for the purpose of compensating those who are injured while doing the work they are being hired to do? Or did the Thomasville Chair Company have Everhart hired to cut and chew tobacco?

APPEARANCES DECEPTIVE

An officer said: "I can always spot a home brew enthusiast because of a callus across the bridge of his nose, caused from drinking hootch out of a fruit jar.

Maybe that callus was made by his spectacles. One can't ALWAYS tell. Appearances are often deceptive. It is not always the big bank with the finest marble fixtures that is the soundest financially.
