

Pittsboro Man Dies in City of Los Angeles

Mr. Samuel Spencer Jackson, Brother of late Mrs. London and Miss Carrie Jackson, Died Friday Evening—Body on Way to Pittsboro.

In far away Los Angeles, California, on last Friday evening, Samuel Spencer Jackson, the only brother of the late Mrs. Henry A. London and Miss Carrie Jackson surviving to that date, passed away.

This scion of several of the oldest and most distinguished North Carolina families, including the Worths, Spencers, and Jacksons, left his native town quite a number of years ago and has not been back since the burial of his elder brother Jonathan Worth Daniels. He was a graduate of the University and taught school here and later practiced law. When he left here to settle in Chicago he was still unmarried, and it was only ten years ago that he became the husband of Miss Bertha Mae Cheek of Los Angeles, Cal. In 1920 he moved from Chicago to the booming California metropolis, where he seems to have prospered in business.

He and Mrs. Jackson had recently built a handsome new home and had urged that his sisters visit him; while he himself and wife planned a visit to the old home town of the husband. Since the death of Mrs. London, sympathizing with the loneliness of his sister Miss Carrie, he had been particularly insistent that she should visit them. But plans on either side for a reunion were disrupted by Mr. Jackson's rather sudden death last Friday evening, the announcement of which reached his sister the next morning by telegraph.

A later wire informed the bereaved relatives here that funeral services would be held in Los Angeles Tuesday afternoon and that immediately afterwards Mrs. Jackson would start with the body for Pittsboro.

It is not yet known when the body will arrive, but the burial can hardly be before the first of next week. As the Pittsboro relatives have never met Mrs. Jackson, the meeting will take place under most distressing circumstances. The London family, including Miss Carrie Jackson, has been most woefully bereaved in the past year. This will be the third time that the people of Pittsboro have been called upon to pay last respects to esteemed members of the family. Mr. Jackson was sixty-five years of age. His parents were John Jackson and Lucy Worth Jackson, the latter a daughter of the former Governor Jonathan Worth.

Chatham Farmer Splurges A Bit

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Harris, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Hughes of Raleigh, returned last week from a ten-day trip into Kentucky. When Mr. Harris was asked why he didn't let a fellow know he was going, he replied that he didn't want it generally known, as it might not have been safe for those two hundred fine turkeys he has at his New Hope home. Mr. and Mrs. Winston Upchurch, of Durham, came and spent the time at the Harris home and took care of the turkeys. Mr. Harris reported a pitiable condition prevailing in Kentucky because of the drought. He wanted some of the sheep that were being forced upon the market, but the red tape required to have them shipped here, plus the freight, prevented his buying a hundred. The party spent two nights at the Grove Park Hotel, Asheville, on the return trip, and Mr. Harris had the experience of paying eight dollars a night for a place to sleep. The eating in Asheville was done at a cheaper place. However, as he got $800 for turkeys last fall and is pulling in money almost any old day, he could afford to splurge a little.

Address Upon Cancer Control

Dr. H. H. Bass, state chairman of the American Society for the control of Cancer will deliver an address upon the topic of cancer-control Wednesday afternoon, at 3:30 o'clock. This is the time for the regular meeting of the Woman's Club, which club is sponsoring the address by Dr. Bass. Mrs. Hunt urges members to be present and hear this discussion of the most important question of the control of the dread disease of cancer, which has become a real menace to the health of the people. Also, the public is cordially invited to hear Dr. Bass.

Brown's Chapel News

The meeting was fine. Mr. Russell preached with power twice a day from Monday to Friday inclusive. Twelve were added to the membership of the church, including Mr. J. F. Carter, a fully mature man.

We could not pay him, but did present him with a small purse of $27.00. He will be long remembered here as a real messenger of God.

Mr. C. M. Lindsey of High Point took breakfast with his uncle, J. A. Perry, Sunday morning when on his way to meet his family at the home of her father, Mr. Ira Foushee.

Mr. and Mrs. I. W. Durham and son Isaac and the latter's wife and baby spent part of last week with relatives in this community.

Miss Jewel Justice returned home last week from South Carolina, in which state she has been attending school this summer.

Mr. Ihrie Clark and family spent some time here last week, attending the meeting and visiting relatives.

The church is indebted to Mrs. E. J. Dark, J. A. Perry, and W. K. Mann for their faithfulness in keeping good lights for the meeting.

The young folk of the Sunday school patterned after their elders and had a picnic on the river, with a watermelon cutting. Mr. J. R. Goodwin and Mrs. E. J. Dark are the teachers and were present.

It should be said that the "Revival" that Mr. A. F. Whitaker attended" was at his home where he and Mr. I. W. Durham talked and prayed together, in addition to talks to the two preachers who visited him.

Miss Zula Glenn of Greensboro spent some days here with her uncle Mrs. Addie Crutchfield.

Mrs. T. N. Mann and son, Frank, who is a member of the marine corps, and Frank's bride and her sister Miss Porterfield of Atlanta spent a while last week with Frank's uncle H. F. Durham.

Miss Inez Headen of Siler City has been visiting her sister Mrs. E. J. Dark. The latter has returned from Durham, where she has been under treatment.

Mrs. Dodson of Mebane visited her niece Mrs. A. P. Dark last week. Mr. Luther Martin, Mrs. Mattie Martin Neese and Rev. Mr. Neese of Greensboro, visited Mr. Martin's old home community here last week.

Mrs. Josie Harris and family of Durham recently spent the day here with Mrs. Mary Mixon. Miss Catherine Harris remained over to longer with her cousins.

Mr. Emory Dark and several friends are spending some time in the mountains.

Junius Durham has white leg-horn pullets that began laying before they were four months old. He has Kaffir corn and sun flower planted for winter feed. Adrain Mann and Jerome Durham have brought out the school trucks in readiness for the opening of school Sept. 1.

Mrs. Clyde Pickett Dies at Sanford

The sympathy of his friends is extended to Mr. P. T. Farrell in the death of his daughter, Mrs. Clyde Pickett, at the Central Hospital, Sanford, last Thursday night.

The funeral service was held in the Carrboro Baptist church Friday afternoon and the burial was in the Carrboro cemetery.

Mrs. Pickett was thirty years old. She leaves, besides her husband, two children. Mr. Pickett is a supervisor on Highway 53, with headquarters at Sanford.

Mrs. Pickett recently underwent an operation upon her nostrils, but that operation seems not to have been the cause of her death, unless in debilitating the system to such an extent as to allow some other disease to dominate. The operation was followed by something like the jaundice.

Besides her father and step-mother, there are two sisters and four brothers surviving her, namely, Mrs. J. L. Farrell, of Durham, Clarence Farrell, Tarboro, Herman and Clyde, Pittsboro, Alfred, Raleigh, and Daniel Farrell of Gastonia.

Chapin of Pittsboro; Mr. and Mrs. Clem Lasater of Pittsboro; Miss Fleta Thomas of Raleigh; and a number of other friends there, about ninety in all.

Bear Creek News

Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Saunders were visitors in the home of J. D. Willett last week. Miss Hazel Holt after visiting relatives in Chatham and Lee counties, has returned to her home in Kennerlyville. She was accompanied home by Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Williamson and son, Wilbur, Leonard Yarbrough of Sanford, and Mrs. T. B. Beal and daughter Frances.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Stanley and family and Mrs. Hardy of Greensboro were Sunday afternoon visitors in the home of W. A. Coggins.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Burke and sons S. B. and C. K. and T. P. Weaver were week-end visitors in Greensboro.

The revival came to a close at Sandy Branch church last Sunday night, around 60 conversions and reclamations were made during the meeting. 23 joined the church. Rev. E. W. Byerly the pastor, was assisted by Rev. Hoyle Love of High Point.

Mrs. Emma E. Coggins, the widow of S. T. Coggins, committed suicide last Saturday morning by shooting herself in the bath room of her home in Greensboro. She had been in poor health for some time and had been unconscious a good portion of the time for the past week. Her husband fell or jumped before a moving train in May 1929 and was killed. Poor health and worry over the loss of her husband are attributed as the cause of her rash act. She was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Wilkie, who lived about 2 miles south of town. She was married to Samuel Temple Coggins and to this union were born 3 children, two of which died while small. Mrs. Scott Paylor of Gastonia survives. She is also survived by one brother, J. T. Wilkie, of Charlotte, and one sister, Mrs. C. W. "Ella" Hampton, of Greensboro. She, with her husband moved from this community to Greensboro about 32 years ago. The funeral services were held from the home by O. E. Lee of the First Baptist church of Greensboro, and another service was held at Bear Creek Baptist church, being conducted by Rev. J. Clyde Turner, pastor of the First Baptist church, Greensboro, who read the latter part of the 8th chapter of Romans, and commented on same. There were a host of people in attendance. Between 750 and 1000 were the estimates.

Miss Lessie Johnson, the youngest daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Johnson, and Earnest W. Fields, son of the R. D. (Cap) Fields, son of the R. D. (Cap) Fields, and are on a tour in the North. Mrs. Fields is a 1929 graduate of the Bonlee High school and has many friends in this community. While Mr. Fields holds a position with a wholesale dealer in fish in Siler City. We wish for them a long and happy life together.

EDDINS-WRIGHT

Kennon Eddins and Miss Charlotte Wright surprised their friends, and even families, by heing away to Danville Sunday and getting married. Both of them are quite young. The bride is a daughter of Mrs. Sallie Wright and is a graduate of the Pittsboro high school. The groom is the 19-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Eddins. Both of them are employees of the silk mill here, and as the silk mill pays unusually good wages the young couple start with fair prospects. The Record wishes them great joy.

SCHOOL OPENS AT BYNUM IN SEPT.

The 1930-31 school session begins at Bynum September 1st. Parents of all school children are urged to send them on Monday, the first day of school. Parents too, are invited and welcome to attend our opening. Come out and let's work together to make this the best school we have had.

There is no change in the Corps of teachers; those of last year will fill the places as follows: Grammas Grades, Mrs. J. W. Norwood, principal; Misses Minnie Belle Wilson, and Ila Copland, Primary Grades, Misses Annie Baldwin, Clytie Foshue and Lucille Harris.

Mrs. R. P. Womble delightfully entertained a number of her friends at her home last Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Montgomery of Greensboro were guests of Mrs. E. G. Broadnox last week end. The B. Y. P. U. of the Baptist church held its regular meeting Sunday night at seven o'clock, with 38 members present. After a song by the union, Mrs. Seymour read the scripture lesson and Mrs. R. H. Fitchett led in prayer. The union is divided into three sections and following the devotional each section went to its room. Mrs. J. J. Hackney was leader of the adult section and the subject for the evening was "The Life of Abraham" After a reading by Mrs. W. T. Utley, Mr. R. H. Fitchett and Mr. J. B. Powers made splendid talks on Abraham's life, faith, loyalty to God. The leader of the intermediate section was Miss Mary Seymour, with Miss Lois Wilkie, Miss Martha Seymour, Miss Carrie Lee Hendricks and George Wicker on program.

Mrs. J. B. Powers was leader of the Juniors and they also had a splendid program. Following these programs, the sections all assembled again and Mr. Dan Morrison, who is Secretary of the Union, read the minutes of the last meeting, after which a song was sung and then dismissed.

Miss Suggs of Southern Pines is the guest of Miss Alma Walden this week. Rev. Jonas Barclay, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, is holding a series of services for several days this week.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Harwood and daughter, Betty, who has spent the Summer on Crocoke Island, will return to Moncure the latter part of the week. Mr. Harwood will be principal of Deep River School again this year and this School opens Tuesday, September first.

Mr. C. D. Wilkie invited the writer and family and other friends to his home late Sunday afternoon to enjoy a water-melon slicing which they enjoyed and appreciated very much. His melons have been large and fine this year.

Mr. B. M. Dickens also invited your correspondent and family and other friends Tuesday evening. Mr. Dickens has also had some large and fine melons this year. These water-melons slicings were very much enjoyed.

We are glad to state that Miss Hetty Womble, who was operated on for appendicitis recently at Carolina Hospital, Sanford is getting on nicely at this time and her friends hope that she will continue to improve and soon be at home.

The members of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Methodist church were delightfully entertained last Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Broadnox after a most enjoyable social conversation, the president, Mrs. W. W. Stedman called the meeting to order. After a devotional was held and then a short talk by president, several things for the goods of Society were discussed by the members. An interesting letter from Mrs. LeGrand Everett, Conference Supt. of Study, was read by Miss Mary Bloud. The president of Moncure society was appointed Superintendent of Study, of said society, and the book entitled "A Trailing of the Conquistadores", by Samuel Guy Smith, will be the book that will be studied, on foreign missions this fall. After the meeting was dismissed, a delicious course, frozen Banane Whip with Devil's Food Cake, was served by the hostess. The September Social will be held at the home of Mrs. G. T. Carr.

The members of the Hi-League and also Senior League put on a good program last Sunday evening at 7:30 O'clock. Miss Emma Lee Mann is president of Senior League and the members of both leagues consist of a fine bunch of young people.

The August business meeting and Social will be held at the home of Miss Roberta Lambert Wednesday evening of this week. According to "F. V. N. P.", (who the dickens is he or she?) there will be "mock conference held" at Union Grove A. M. E. church Sept. 7, 8, 9, 10. A program of preaching, etc., is given that indicates that there is either no "mockery" in the thing, or more than is lawful for any Christian congregation.

New Hardware Store to Open

Siler City Hardware Company to Stock Brooks-Ebanks Store—Mr. Jennings Phillips to Be in Charge.

The corner store room recently vacated by the closing out of the Brooks and Eubanks stock is to be utilized immediately by the Siler City Hardware Company for a hardware store. The negotiations for the building were completed by Mr. Rowland, manager of the Siler City store, last week, and a few changes in shelvings are being made preparatory to the stocking of the store.

The Siler City store has a large stock and a part of that will be transferred here. Buying of lime, roofing, cement, ec. by the carload will continue at the Siler City store and part of the carload lots will be transferred by truck to Pittsboro.

Mr. Jennings Phillips, who for some time has been employed in the parent store, will be in charge of the Pittsboro branch. It is presumable that the stock here will be on a par with that at Siler City—that is, the same variety of goods will be attainable here, whether the quantity in stock is as large as in the parent store or not. A half-hour is all that is needed to transfer goods from one store to the other.

NEW HILL ITEMS

The revival meeting began at New Elam the third Sunday in August and continued until Friday evening. The attendance was very good. Rev. E. M. Carter did the preaching and his messages were plain and instructive in spiritual things. Mr. Carter is a man of God, and thru his good work we feel the spiritual life of the church was refreshed. There were six additions to the church.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Johnson of Fuquay Springs have been visiting friends in this community. Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Thomas and little daughters, Mildred and Virginia, of Graham visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Goodwin Saturday.

Mr. F. M. Lasater of Durham is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Lasater. Miss Mildred Saunders of Mount Gilead is visiting Misses Bessie and Ethel Harn at Bonsal.

Miss Mary Webster of Greensboro is spending some time with her mother, Mrs. Addie Webster. Mr. C. M. Goodwin of New London Conn. is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. V. M. Goodwin.

Mrs. T. H. Windham and children of Raleigh visited her mother, Mrs. W. H. Beckwith, last week. Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Tysinger and little daughter, Eugenia, of Ashboro spent the week end with the latter's parents, Mr and Mrs. R. F. Sturdivant.

Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Seagroves and daughters, Ruby and Ethel of Raleigh spent the Sunday with the latter's mother, Mrs. Betie Goodwin. Rev. B. J. Howard of Chapel Hill visited friends in the community Sunday. He was a former pastor at New Elam for several years and his many friends are always glad to welcome him back.

Miss Vada Goodwin is spending the week with her brother, Mr. Bailey Sturdivant at Pittsboro.

THE PASCHAL TWINS CELEBRATE BIRTHDAY

The following dispatch from Wake Forest to the News and Observer will interest many readers: Wake Forest, Aug. 21.—A remarkable birthday party was that celebrated here today by Dr. George Washington Paschal, professor of Greek, and his twin brother, Robert E. Lee Paschal, sons of the late Senator Richard E. Paschal, of Siler City, ardent patriot and Southerner. The twins, now 61 but vigorous and healthy, have helped make Chatham county famous for something other than rabbits. George, a Ph. D. of the University of Chicago, and professor at Wake Forest College for 35 years, has taught Greek to probably more students than any two professors in the South combined. However dead or alive this subject may be, there are today students in his classes who commute 100 miles to Wake Forest solely to study it.

Robert, for 34 years has been principal of the Fort Worth, Texas senior high school. This institution, according to the latest report of the Southern Association of Secondary Schools and Colleges, holds the record among Southern high schools for size of graduating classes and number entering college. There were 508 graduated at this school last year, according to Mr. Paschal.

Robert, received a B. A. degree from Wake Forest in 1891, George in 1892.
