

TOWN AND COUNTY BRIEFS

Misses Alice Stutts, Margaret Smith, of Siler City, and Miss Tyson of Harper's Cross Roads, visited Miss Mozell Welch recently. Miss Welch herself is visiting relatives near Liberty this week.

Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Faison came up Sunday from Sampson to visit the latter's parents. A fifty-nine-pound watermelon was part of the Sampson produce brought. Mrs. Faison and the baby, Peggy Lou, remained to spend several days in Pittsboro.

Dr. and Mrs. Ihrie Farrell, of Troy, spent the week-end with the former's parents here.

Mrs. Gilbert Shaw of Durham was in Pittsboro for a few days, including Sunday.

Mrs. C. M. Eddins captured a 'possum one night recently that had been eating her chickens. Mrs. 'Possum is held in captivity, though the little 'Possum would like to see her come back home.

The Record failed to note that Miss Flossie Clark had returned from a Durham hospital, where she spent more than a week.

Miss Mabel Thomas participated in the marriage of the Johnston-Watson marriage ceremonies at the New Bern Presbyterian church. She, assisted by Mrs. S. W. Thompson of Morehead City, is reported by the news dispatches as charmingly rendering a program of wedding music.

Dr. Charles E. McManus of Siler City was married at Greensboro, Tuesday, August 19th, to Miss Ossie Florence Edwards.

Miss Margaret Charlotte Copeland was listed among the graduates of the two year normal course at East Carolina Teachers College, Greenville.

Misses Elva Gunter and Dora Knight of Winston-Salem visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. D. Woody Sunday. Miss Cloyce Woody, who has been home for two weeks, returned to Winston-Salem.

Miss Fleta Thomas has returned to her home after spending her summer vacation with Mrs. J. E. Harmon and other relatives.

Nooe and Holler are erecting a saw mill near the Nooe planer here in Pittsboro.

Rev. R. H. Gordon conducted a meeting at his Mt. Gilead church last week which proved very helpful. He has recently held meetings at Emmaus and Pleasant Hill.

Little Miss Outlaw from Zebulon is visiting Mrs. F. C. Mann.

Mr. Ike London and children came up from Rockingham and spent the week end at the old home.

Mr. I. Y. Spencer, a farmer of Guilford county, was down Tuesday with a view of purchasing a farm in Chatham.

An unsigned communication from Carbondon tells of the marriage at Martinsville, Va., of Miss Wanda Lee Oldham and Mr. John W. Martindale of Carbondon. They expect to leave Carbondon, according to the communication, Sept. 15th for Washington, D. C. Whether there are any such folks in the world, we have no means of knowing except from this unsigned communication, or whether if they really have married.

Some of the most embarrassing situations for newspapers come out of publishing false reports of marriages, and we hope that people will learn to sign their names to their news articles. Again we say that the name does not have to be printed unless desired.

Mrs. H. B. Jenkins and family have returned to her home in Hamlet after spending the week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Harmon.

Mr. Hoke Webb of Raleigh visited Mr. Lonnie London several days.

It is hard to keep up with the marriages in the county when so many of the comparatively few who are marrying these hard times ride over into other counties or states to have the knot tied. An instance of that was the marriage in Virginia, two weeks ago, of Mr. A. Hilliard and Miss Christine Phillips of Goldston.

Miss Eleanor Wright, the attractive young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wright of Wright's Cafe, Raleigh, who has been a guest of Mrs. J. W. Hunt, has returned to her home.

Rev. W. E. Allen, rector of St. Batholomew here, now located in Virginia, is visiting friends in Pittsboro.

Hanks Chapel had a good revival meeting last week. A number of ministers were present at times during the week, including Rev. J. C. Wicker of Elon College, who was present one day or more.

Mesdames W. B. Chapin and J. M. Gregory left Wednesday morning for a trip to Norfolk.

Miss Agile Hill has returned to Watts Hospital for a few days treatment.

Rev. C. C. Wheeler of Merry Oaks is holding a meeting at Ingold, Sampson county, this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Justice and children, accompanied by Mr. John Neal, ran down to Wrightsville Beach Sunday. Mr. Bob Goodwin, Misses Margaret Johnson and Esther Goodwin, also Mrs. J. A. Medlin and little daughter visited the same resort that day.

Pastor Caudill preached an unusually effective sermon at the Baptist church Sunday. Mrs. Caudill came with him. They were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Jeter Griffin.

The person who closes a note accompanying an unsigned contribution with the words "May I remain a reader of the Chatham Record" may continue to read what is found in it, but we assure him or her that they will not read any more articles sent in without names. And that one was good news and well written. But to publish articles or news without names opens the door for such deceptions as we recently had played upon us.

N. C. Schools Hold 8th Place In The South

Raleigh, Aug. 27.—North Carolina stands eighth among the 16 Southern states in public education, it is learned from the office of the State Superintendent of Public Instruction.

This ranking of the states is based on five educational items generally considered indicative of a good school system. These items are: (1) per cent of enrollment in average daily attendance, (2) average length of school term, (3) average annual salaries of teachers, supervisors and principals, (4) per cent of total enrollment in the high school grades, and (5) average value of school property per pupil enrolled.

According to the statement issued by the State Superintendent of Public Instruction, the state of Missouri ranked first among the sixteen southern states on the basis of these five items. Maryland is second and then follow in order, Texas, West Virginia, Florida, Louisiana, Virginia, and North Carolina. The states ranking below North Carolina on the basis of a composite score on these items are: Oklahoma, Kentucky, South Carolina, Georgia, Tennessee, Alabama, Arkansas and Mississippi.

The North Carolina rank was obtained by the following scores on the respective items: per cent of enrollment in attendance, 75.5; average length of school term, 149.4 days; average annual salaries of teachers, supervisors and principals, $837; per cent of total enrollment in high school, 12.1; and average value of school property per pupil enrolled, $19. This state is below the national average on each of these items, and spends one-half as much per pupil as does the Nation as a whole for the current operation of schools.

The average woman is less interested in a supreme court decision than she is in a supreme coat creation.
