Judge Bell's court is geting to be a big drawing card. The crowd here Monday reminded one somewhat of the L awerence trial. It is true, the board of commissioners and board of education were in session, but is seemed to be the recorder's crowd. The illness of attorney Horton has caused postponement of a number of cases and consequently the docket was unusually full. The court held all day Monday and a large part of

If you find your corn crop shorter this year, than you expected, consider of it is not due to planting too thick. The Record wants to see the farmers of Chatham county plant corn in rows six feet apart with rows of soy beans planted in the middle the very day the corn is planted. The beans will do much to protect the land from the baking effects of the summer sun and to keep the bacteria alive that prepare the soil for the feeding of the plants.

The rapid expansion of tobacco cultivation in Greece during the past seven years has resulted in an overproduction which is giving some concern to the growers, according to a report received in the Tobacco Division of the Department of Commerce form assistant Trade Commissioner, Everett B. Ansey. The crop has more than doubled since 1922 amounting in that year to 56,857,000 pounds and to175,-686,000 pounds in 1929. It is stated by the Greek trade that in many cases hasty and uninvestigated selections have been made of the area used for cultivation. Often the crop was grown on unsuitable land, the quality produced was bad, and the owners suffered considerable loss according to the Greek information.
