Mrs. London Memorialized

At the recent General U. D. C convention held in Asheville, memorial to the late Mrs. Henry A. London was read by Mrs. Walter Woodward of Wilson.

Also at this convention, the Heny A. London Chapter of the Children of the Confederacy was represented at the Jefferson Davis Highway dinner, the children of the chapter having sent to each delegate to the convention an attractive postcard showing the court house, the Confederate monument, and the Jefferson Davis Highway marker at Pittsboro. Attached to this card was a cotton boll tied with red ribbon, the whole making a lovely ouvenir from this old town on the Davis highway.

A notable feature of the recent general convention of the U. D. C. at Asheville was the Jefferson Davis Highway Dinner, which was held chiefly under the auspice of Mrs. John H. Anderson, and at which over 73 per cent of the 35,003 votes there were 300 diners.

A table 33 feet long in the hall carried a model of the highway, Dr. J. C. The referendum authorizing the General Assembly to issue a second two million dollars in bonds as a fund to lend to World War Veterans for purchase of homes was carried by a good majority, while the three amendments to the constitution were lost, although complete returns are not yet in.

Governor Gardner has declined to call an extraordinary session of the General Assembly in December, as requested in a petition presented by the N. C. Tax Relief Association, on the ground that it would interfere with preparations for the regular session in January and would result in two sessions, without adequate, organized preparation for either. "I have reached the conclusion that it would not be wise nor in the interest of the public welfare to call the General Assembly into extraordinary session in December, and therefore cannot comp'y with the request made in the petition," Governor Gardner stated.

Fai'ure of the Central Bank and Trust Co., Ashevile, a $31,000,-000 institution, last week and the sympathetic failures of several other smaller banks in Asheville, Biltmore, Hendersonville, Waynesville and other places, is not a reflection of conditions in general in the State, but as an aftermath of the boom conditions, inflation of real estate values and high financing carried on some three years ago by high-pressure operators after the Flordia boom, is the belief of John Mitchell, chief State bank examiner.

Mr. Mitchell warnes against hysteria on the part of the people of the State, a condition which often results in a "run" that few banks can withstand. Announcement of the Wachovia Bank and Trust Co. that a million or more dollars was available and that it would pay all depositors who sought to withdraw is believed to have helped allay fears in Asheville and vicinity.
