

Roosevelt Describes What Happened When Attempt At Assassination Took Place

En route With President-Elect Roosevelt to New York, Feb. 16.—Here is Franklin D. Roosevelt's own story of the attempt on his life:

"I have heard so many accounts myself that I have been trying to think what really happened as I saw it.

"After I had finished speaking, someone from the talking picture people climbed on the back of the car and said, 'you must repeat that speech for us.' I said I would not. He said 'we have some 1,000 miles for this.' I said 'I am very sorry but I can't do it.'

"Having said that, I slid off the back of the car into my seat.

"Just then Mayor Cermak came forward and I talked with him about a minute about Chicago in general. Then he moved off behind the car. Bob Clark (one of the secret service men) was standing right by him. As he moved away a man came forward with a long telegram and started telling me what it contained. While he was talking I leaned forward. Just then I heard what I thought was a firecracker, then several more. The man talking with me pulled back and the chauffeur started the car.

"I looked around and saw Mayor Cermak doubled up with Mrs. Gill collapsing. I told the chauffeur to stop. He did, about 15 feet from where we started. The secret service men shouted to him 'get out of the crowd.' The chauffeur started again and I stopped him again, this time at the corner of the handstand.

"Looking back I saw Cermak being carried along and we put him in our car. He was alive but I was afraid he wouldn't last. I put my hand on his pulse and found none. He was on the seat with me and I had my left arm around him. He slumped forward. A detective from Miami, standing on the running board on that side of the car, was leaning over him. He said after we had gone a couple of blocks he was afraid Cermak would not last.

"I, too, was fearful. Just then Cermak straightened up and I got his pulse. That was surprising. For those weeks I actually believe his heart had stopped beating.

SENATE PASSES RESOLUTION TO END 18TH AMENDMENT

Washington, Feb. 16.—The senate this afternoon, by a vote of 63 to 22—the essential two-thirds majority—adopted the virtually "naked repeal" resolution, as perfected by Senator Robinson, the Democratic leader, designed to submit to the American people the question of repeal, or the maintenance of the 18th amendment.

The lame ducks, roundly abused for drifting aimlessly for weeks, without the will, or the intelligence, to function in the fact of the country's economic crisis, drove ahead, brushed aside the irreconcilable drys, and made a move which may affect, profoundly, the nation's economic and social structure, and certainly was of very great historic significance.

Following the vote Senator Borah commented upon the great number of house members who had crowded into the senate chamber, and the people who had sought even standing room in the galleries, whereupon Senator Bailey rejoined that the occasion was one that held a promise of making history, that the constitution had been amended and altered, but that this was the first serious proposal—the annals of the republic would reveal—to extract something from the fundamental law.

House Leaders Rejoice

Speaker Garner and associated house leaders were rejoiced to hear of the senate's action, in adopting the repeal resolution, in harmony both with the Democratic national platform and the resolution which was voted on in the house at the opening of the session, and Mr. Garner prophesied that the resolution would receive consideration under suspension of the rules, the first of the week, and that it would pass.

It was not clear in the speaker's mind this afternoon whether the state legislatures, or the federal government, would take the initiative in calling the state constitutional conventions to consider the question of ratification.

Representative Warren, identified with the house leadership, believes with Speaker Garner that the resolution, which lost in the house by only a half dozen votes, will receive the two-thirds majority next week, with votes to spare, and the North Carolina member things that, following this house action, a supplemental, or remedial resolution will be offered which will set up the machinery for holding the constitutional conventions.

Reynolds Satisfied

Senator Reynolds feels that the senate's action today harmonizes admirably with the platform of his party, and he believes his vote for the resolution was in accord with the mandate of the people last November, both in the state and in the nation. If members of the Congress may do so with propriety, and official duties do not require his presence here at the time, he will contribute to the effort he assumes will be made in the state to bring about ratification of repeal.

Bailey Obeys Will of People

Senator Bailey said sometime ago he regretted the necessity of having to vote, in this time of national emergency, on the wet and dry question, because his hope had been that the American people would lend to their dry laws their moral and active support. But Senator Bailey voted with the great majority of his party today for the resolution to submit the question of repeal, because he felt that the will of the people, as so clearly recorded at the polls should be respected. The declarations of his party's platform and candidates had been unequivocal on this issue, which was paramount at times during the last presidential campaign. Like his colleague, Mr. Reynolds, Mr. Bailey gave heed to the clearly expressed mandate of the people.

Use of Better Seed Potatoes Profitable To Mountain Growers

A ratio of 16 to 1 was secured by 100 growers of Irish potatoes in seven western North Carolina counties by using certified seed of a selected strain of the Green Mountain variety.

"In other words," says H. R. Niswonger, extension horticulturist for western Carolina, "the men who used the good seed secured an average return of 16 bushels of good potatoes for every bushel planted. The yield graded out 92 percent No. 1 stock and was produced at a cost of 17 cents a bushel."

In contrast to this, other growers who failed to use the selected strain and planted seed from stock kept from year to year got a yield of nine bushels for every one bushel planted. This crop graded out only 66 percent No. 1 stock and was produced at a cash cost of 24 cents a bushel.

Niswonger reports 20 demonstrations conducted in Haywood county with an average yield of 160 bushels an acre recorded. One man produced 240 bushels. The average yield of the county, using the same old seed stock, was 65 bushels an acre.

The aim of this work, Niswonger reports is to replace the old run-down seed stock which may be increased on the farm. This will result in the standardization of variety; will increase the yield marketable tubers, and will lower the unit cost of growing the crop. It is only through such a method of producing potatoes, that the mountain grower will make a profit at present prices.

In addition, he says, the cost of hauling the western Carolina seed stock into eastern Carolina is low enough now that the growers of Maine in supplying eastern commercial growers with their seed supply.

ACTION ON REPEAL TO BE SLOW PROCESS

Raleigh, Feb. 16.—Two constitutional restrictions must be huddled before a convention of the people of North Carolina may be called to vote on the proposed repeal of the 18th amendment to the United States constitution.

First, two-thirds of all members of each house of the general assembly, 80 in the house and 34 in the senate, must vote in the affirmative on the proposition to submit to the voters of the state at the next general election "convention or no convention."

And a majority of the votes must be cast in favor of the convention before it can be called as may be prescribed by the general assembly.

The next general election is in 1934; the next general assembly in 1935.

Frank Vanderlip Urges Inflation of U. S. Currency

Washington, Feb. 15.—Frank A. Vanderlip, gruff, outspoken retired banker, urged Congress today to inflate the currency before the depression becomes worse.

Appearing before a Senate committee in secret session, he painted a gloomy picture of the ravages of the economic disturbance, and bluntly suggested Congress do something about it immediately.

His proposals were in direct opposition to the warning of Myron C. Traylor, one of the nation's foremost industrialists, against "tampering with the currency." The chairman of the board of the U. S. Steel Corporation approved of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation and said one of the first steps toward prosperity was a balanced budget.

Vanderlip, a former newspaper reporter and former head of the National City Bank of New York, endorsed government purchase of $200,000,000 worth of silver at 50 cents an ounce as proposed to the committee earlier by Rene Leon, New York monetary expert.

Wake Up Your Liver Bile —Without Calomel

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, which often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Beware a substitute. 25c at all stores. © 1931, C. M. Co.

Get Rid of That SORE THROAT!

Any little soreness in the throat grows rapidly worse if neglected. Crush some tablets of genuine Bayer Aspirin in some water, and gargle at once. This gives you instant relief, and reduces danger from infection. One good gargle and you can feel safe. If all soreness is not gone promptly, repeat. There's usually a cold with the sore throat, so before gargling take two tablets to throw off your cold, headache, stiffness or other cold symptoms. Bayer Aspirin relieves neuralgia, neuritis, too. You may use it freely, it does not hurt the heart.
