

MUCH VISITING AT PORES KNOB

Son Born To Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Michael; Other News of Community

PORES KNOB, March 27.—The weather has taken on a change, but April will soon be here with its showers and March winds will disappear.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Michael, Tuesday, March 21, a son. Both mother and baby are doing nicely.

Miss Alma Wallace returned home Saturday from North Wilkesboro where she has been receiving treatment at the Wilkes Hospital.

Mrs. Gordon Laws spent Friday with Mrs. C. J. Wallace.

Mrs. R. J. Wallace visited Mrs. T. M. Michael, Thursday.

Mrs. Rom Brock is spending a few days with Mrs. T. M. Michael.

Mrs. C. J. Wallace was a guest of Mrs. E. E. Hart last week.

Mr. Jimmie Ritchie visited Mr. Waddell Hart, Sunday.

Mrs. Robert Wallace and daughter, Mabel, were guests of Miss Alma Wallace, Sunday.

Mr. Waddell Hart spent Saturday with Mrs. R. F. Smith and family at Moravian Falls.

Mr. R. J. Wallace visited Mr. John Laws, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Broynhill were among the many shoppers in North Wilkesboro, Saturday.

Mr. James Wallace visited friends Sunday.

Mr. R. Ashley was a guest of Mr. C. J. Wallace last week.

Mr. John Ashley visited Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Ashley, Saturday.

Mr. John Laws, who has been sick for the past several days, is slightly improved.

Mr. E. C. Conner is still very sick, not able to be up any at all.

J. E. WYATT KILLED

Gatesville, March 25.—Funeral service will be conducted tomorrow for J. E. Wyatt, 35, fatally injured early today when a train struck his automobile at a grade crossing near his home at Drum Hill, Gates county.

Wyatt died in a hospital at Suffolk. The locomotive carried Wyatt's automobile a considerable distance down the track and he suffered fractures of both legs and internal injuries.

Banquet Held For Senior Class Of Mountain View Hi

Junior Class Entertained On Tuesday Night; Games Are Enjoyed

The Junior Class of the Mountain View high school entertained the seniors of the school Tuesday night with a very fine banquet. The class colors of the seniors, blue and silver, were beautifully carried out. While each of the girls found a shoulder corsage, the boys noted a Boutonniere of spring flowers at their place card.

The banquet was served in three courses. First, a Grape Fruit appetizer, followed by chicken salad plate with sandwiches and the like to round out a pleasing taste. The third course followed with ice cream and cake.

After a few delightful games, a farewell song to the seniors closed a well spent evening for all.

Pittsburgh Mayor Ousted By Order Issued By Court

Philadelphia, March 27.—Judge Thomas H. Finletter today issued an order ousting from office Mayor Charles H. Kline, of Pittsburgh.

The order modifies the sentence imposed on the mayor as a result of his conviction on a charge of malfeasance in office in connection with alleged illegal letting of city contracts.

He was sentenced to six months in jail and fined $5,000. The modified order eliminates the jail term, ousts him from office and allows the fine to stand.

The order was issued after counsel for the mayor had conferred with Judge Finletter and presented to him a physician's report describing the mayor's physical condition.

Asheville Banker Dead

Asheville, March 28.—L. L. Jenkins, 69, for many years widely known in banking, political and manufacturing circles in the state, died suddenly of a cerebral hemorrhage while preparing to dine at the Putnam grill here at about 8:15. Dr. John L. Carroll, coroner, said that Mr. Jenkins came to his death as the result of a cerebral hemorrhage and that an inquest would not be necessary.

OLD BOOKS AND PAPERS UNEARTHED

of "The Star" anticipated the convening of the General Assembly and planned to sell as many boots as possible to its members. Anyway his advertisement announced the following: "Kennor & Brame having committed to my care the Superintendance of their Workmen, next door above Messrs. Haywood and Cooks' Store on Fayetteville street, expect to have made by the meeting of the General Assembly, one hundred pair of fashionable BOOTS, executed in a faithful manner, which will be sold on very reasonable terms for cash—John Holliday."

Cannon H. Shipp, another advertiser, offered ten dollars reward for the return of a mare to him. The mare, it seemed, had strayed from its owner.

Another interesting book is owned by J. E. Nichols, of Wilkesboro, Route 1. It is entitled "A New Guide To the English Tongue" and bears the inscription in the front, "Henry Nichols, March 13, 1809," probably showing the date Mr. Nichols purchased the book.

The spelling is very different from present day form.

The book was printed by J. Neilson in 1802.

Three tax receipts owned by Mr. Nichols are worth noting. One, issued to Thomas Rash, an ancestor of the present owner, on August 15, 1814, shows that the collector, who wrote his name very illegibly, received of Mr. Rash the sum of "25 cents, 5 mills for direct tax upon the property of said Rash in the County of Wilkes in the 15th Collection District, in the State of North Carolina, under Act of Congress passed the 2d of August, 1813, to lay and collect a direct tax within the United States."

Another receipt shows that Mr. Rash paid 24 cents for his district tax in 1816.

One of more recent date was issued to John Nichols, father of Mr. J. E. Nichols, reading as follows: "Received of John Nichols dollars and 10 cents, in full of his tax levied by the convention of 1868, to reimburse the State for the expenses of that body."

Halfacres Visit Ferguson Friends

W. J. St. Clair Returns To Home at Ferguson From Wilkes Hospital

FERGUSON, March 27.—Prof. and Mrs. W. D. Halfacres of the North Wilkesboro city schools, were visitors at the home of Mrs. S. V. Ferguson Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Ferguson has just returned from a two months visit to her daughter, Mrs. J. R. Hix, in North Wilkesboro.

Miss Elizabeth Foster was a visitor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ervin German in Lenoir last week.

Miss Tate German, of the Oak Hill high school, spent the weekend with her mother, Mrs. J. F. German.

Mr. W. J. St. Clair, who has been taking treatment at the Wilkes Hospital, has returned home, we hope much improved in health. Mr. St. Clair was reared in this section but went west in his youth and spent several years in California. After making quite a success in the west he returned to his native heath and purchased the old home place of his father, Elbert St. Clair. He has taken real pride in his farm, having converted it from a poor state of cultivation into a well kept farm. The old red hills formerly in gullies are now clothed in a luxuriant growth of clover and lespedeza and his lawn is beautiful with box woods and a great variety of shrubbery and flowers. Mr. St. Clair also takes great interest in civic and religious affairs of his community and no one can challenge his integrity. We are wishing for him a speedy recovery from his illness and trust that he will have many more useful years of life.

Rev. W. L. Trivette, of Boone, filled his regular preaching service at the Advent Christian church Sunday. He preached a very fine sermon on Temperance. A special program was also rendered on this topic.

The Ladies Missionary Society of the Advent Christian church will meet at the home of Mrs. T. W. Ferguson Thursday afternoon of this week. All members are urged to be present.

The Gamewell Subordinate Grange of Lenoir, will visit the local Grange Friday night March 31st, and present the play "Black Berd's Chest." This play will give a very interesting portrayal of Colonial days in N. C. The program will be held at the Ferguson school building and the public is cordially invited. No admission charges.

Miss Pearson, daughter of Mr. James Larkin Pearson, of Boomer, spent the week-end with Miss Joy Belle Foster. Her father who is the post laureate of Wilkes county was reared in this community and this writer recalls with interest having attended school with Mr. Pearson in a little two by four school house out in the forest. We have read many of the poems of this versatile writer, many of which have been published in the leading magazines and dailies of the north. We have often thought that this county should feel proud of Mr. Pearson who is a self-made man and a writer of rare ability and we believe it would be the part of wisdom to give him a greater recognition in his noble calling.

JEWISH FIRMS FACE BOYCOTT IN GERMANY

Berlin, March 27.—Adolf Hitler's Nazi party answered foreign threats of boycotts against German goods today by announcing a movement to boycott Jewish business establishments within the Reich.

The purpose of this movement will be to retaliate against foreigners who have made protests based on allegations of anti-semitic outrages in Germany.

Government toleration of the movement was seen in a communique issued by the Telegraphen-Union which denied that the boycott would have official support but admitted the administration would "tolerate these measures so long as foreign governments take no steps against atrocity propaganda."

(Because of the interior censorship exercised in Germany it would have been impossible for the Telegraphen-Union to carry the above communique had the government opposed it.)

SON OF LEGISLATOR TAKES HIS OWN LIFE

Chilhowie, Va., March 25.—J. Tyler Frazier, III, about 25, son of J. Tyler Frazier, Jr., member of the Virginia legislature from Smyth county, was found shot to death in the bath room of his home today. A sawed-off shotgun was near the body.

Members of the family said he had been in declining health for several months and was in a highly nervous state.

Young Frazier was a graduate of Emory and Henry college and was taking post-graduate work at Duke university, preparatory to entering the ministry. He was at home on a brief vacation. He was the grandson of the late J. Tyler Frazier, known as the "grand old man of Southern Methodism."

Myrtle Yates To Be In Lenoir-Rhynne Contest

Myrtle Yates will represent Wilkesboro high school in the recitation contest at Lenoir-Rhynne College, Hickory, Friday afternoon. She won the honor of competing in the contest by winning the decision of the judges in the school contest Monday. Helen Bumgarner and Lillian Linney were the other contestants.

The contest was held at the Methodist parsonage here, Mrs. J. H. Arnbrust, Miss Mamie Snokwell and Miss Louise Vyne serving as judges.

Tumbling Shoal News

Lizzie Lane, wife of Rufus Lane, died of pneumonia on March 23. She was a member of Rock Springs Baptist church.

Messrs. J. A. Key and J. B. Walker visited Mr. Ben Key Sunday evening.

Mr. A. F. Brown visited her daughter, Mrs. Jim Adams, Sunday.

Mr. M. M. Asher visited friends on Tumbling Shoal Sunday evening.

Mr. Milo Handy, of New River, spent the past week-end with Mr. Daniel Adams.

Miss Okla Walker is confined to her home, but is improving from a severe illness of several weeks.

7 BURNED TO DEATH WHEN STILL EXPLODES

Fargo, Okla., March 25.—The explosion of a gasoline stove, burning under a small whiskey still, took seven lives in a small farmhouse near here today.

Trapped in their sleep, most of the victims perished before they could struggle from their beds. A seventh member of the family, Roy Smith, died of burns.

The dead: Nick Smith, 60; Mrs. Nick Smith, 58; Mrs. Marie Steinment, a married daughter, 25; Mrs. Roy Smith, daughter-in-law, 24; Jack Smith, two-months old child of Mrs. Roy Smith, and Donald Roy Smith, her two-year-old son.

The two-year-old boy died in a Woodward hospital where his father, Roy Smith, later died. The father, who seized Donald rushed through the flames and jumped into his automobile, driving a mile to a neighbor's home, told Dr. C. R. Silverthorne a whiskey "cooker" that was on the stove caused the gasoline to ignite.

"I'm going to die and I might as well tell you the truth," he told Dr. Silverthorne. "I had a still in the house and it blew up; I was trying to make a living to keep from starving to death."

DEPRESSION BRINGS OUT OLD OIL LAMPS

Cheyenne, Okla., March 26.—It's back to kerosene lamps for the Roger Mills county courthouse until July 1. Delinquent in paying its electric bills, the county has been denied further service by the light company. New funds will be available July 1.
