

Mountain View Boy Scores As Cattle Judge

By C. R. WRIGHT

Ed Templeton, agricultural student of Mountain View high school, was one of three boys receiving highest scores in the Vocational Agriculture district livestock judging contest held Saturday, April 22, at Win-Mack Farm, just west of Winston-Salem. The classes of livestock judged were Percheron draft horses, Red Polled beef cattle, and Hampshire sheep. Young Templeton had a score of 273 1-2 out of a possible 300 points for the three classes.

The agricultural schools of the state are divided into four districts, each district having its own judging contest, for the purpose of selecting boys to compete in the state judging contest to be held at Raleigh in June. Young Templeton will be one of fifteen boys chosen from the entire state to compete in this contest. The three boys standing highest in the state contest will be chosen to represent the state in the National contest at Kansas City.

Hoover's Friends Push Battle For G.O.P. Control

Washington, April 24.—A conflict within Republican ranks over whether friends of Herbert Hoover shall continue in control of the party organization for the next four years appeared tonight to be nearing a showdown.

It flared into the open today when it became known that high-ranking members of the Hoover administration had formed an organization known as "Republican Federal Association" to work for party success in the 1932 congressional and the 1936 presidential elections.

When news of the development reached Capitol Hill Senator McNary, of Oregon, the Republican leader, told newspapermen it was "too early" to begin any plans to rebuild the party.

Old guard forces who fought the nomination of Hoover in 1928 consider the new organization an attempt by the former President's followers to retain control. They are watching the situation closely and are ready to act when they believe the proper time has arrived.

NOTICE

To the Voters of North Wilkesboro:

Wilkes County two years ago was placed under the primary law by a special act and under this special act the primary for town offices shall be held on the third Monday before the election to be held on the First Tuesday after the First Monday in May, 1931, and every two years thereafter. The third Monday of this year was April 17th and the first Tuesday after first Monday in May will be Tuesday, May 2nd. We ran a notice in a local newspaper four weeks notifying the public that all candidates for town offices were required to file their notice of candidacy with the election board of Wilkes county five days before the primary on April 17th, 1933.

Mr. A. E. Spainhower filed a petition containing the names of ten per cent or more of the voters on April 22nd, but failed to file an affidavit with said petition to the effect that he sought to become an independent candidate, as provided by law, and failed to file this petition until after April 17th.

The Board of Elections met April 25th and ruled that Mr. A. E. Spainhower had not complied with the law in filing his notice of candidacy, and we, therefore, decided that he had no right, under the law, to become a candidate for Mayor, and in order that the public may know and have opportunity to read the law upon which we based this decision, we herewith quote Election Law, Section 127, (a-6): "Independent candidates put upon ballot, upon petition. The board of election shall cause to be printed upon said ballots as an independent or nonpartisan candidate, the name of any qualified voter who has been requested to be a candidate for office by written petition signed by at least ten per cent of those entitled to vote for a candidate for such office according to the vote cast in the last gubernatorial election in which such candidate may be voted for, when such petition is accompanied by an affidavit from such proposed candidate that he seeks to become an independent or non-partisan candidate and does not affiliate with any political party. Provided, such petition is filed with said Board of Elections at or before the time prescribed by law for the nomination of candidates by the political parties within the particular political division. The written petition provided herein, in municipal elections, shall be signed by at least ten (10%) per cent of the votes cast for the candidate running in the last municipal election, for the particular office."

Sincerely yours,
J. M. PEARSON,
Chairman of Board of Elections,
E. B. BARKLEY,
Secretary Board of Elections.

FRANCE ATTEMPTS TO ROUND UP ALL SPIES

Paris.—The French government is making a determined attempt to round up foreign spies, the international tension of the past few weeks having intensified the campaign which began two months ago.

The French intelligence service claims to have discovered that spies operating here on behalf of foreign powers have two principal aims—to secure a detailed plan of the frontier fortifications now nearing completion, and to lay hands on a mystery machine-gun, the secret pride of the high command.

Among the spies whose arrest in different parts of the country has been announced in the last few days, three were Italians working as laborers on Franco-German and France-Italian fortifications, the fourth a Frenchman anxious to secure the new gun.

The Italians had plans of the forts which they were trying to smuggle out of the country. A French jockey, Achille Vallee, tried to bribe an African soldier at chambery garrison to steal the mystery machine-gun for him. Vallee was tried in secret and sentenced to five years' imprisonment.

Efforts to secure this gun began as long ago as January, 1931. One after another, five members of a secret band were arrested after fruitless attempts to secure the weapon.

Three months ago five more spies, members of the mysterious "Fantomas" gang, were sentenced for similar attempts.

CAN NOW DETERMINE MALE FROM FEMALE

London.—Prof. E. W. MacBride, one of the foremost biologists in the country, in a statement to the "Sunday Express" claims that

"Scientists have definitely accomplished predetermination of sex in the lower forms of life, and can now concentrate on the problems as it affects human beings and the other higher forms."

"It has been found," he says, "that grasshoppers and bees develop their sex after birth. By varying their food and temperature while still young, their sex can definitely be predetermined."

"The treatment is not the same in every case, but it is now true that the problem of sex determination as it affects all the lower forms of life has been solved. The sex of a frog, for instance, has been decided by holding back the egg for two or three days before allowing it to fertilize."

"But we are still baffled by the more complex human being, and no definite advance has been made here. Research is going on constantly in a hundred directions, and it is possible that the solution may suddenly be found purely by accident."

"An eminent British biologist, the late Mr. W. Heape, believed it was possible to control sex by feeding the mother on certain chemicals before the birth of the child."

"This theory of pre-natal treatment, however, has not been accepted by the majority of his fellow scientists."

OPERATION PERFORMED TO SAVE CHILD'S LIFE

New York, April 25.—Two-year-old Helen Vasco underwent the operation today that two courts ordered after doctors said it was necessary to save her life, and that her parents for weeks had opposed because it meant the loss of her left eye.

The surgery took just 15 minutes. It was performed by Dr. John H. Dunnington, assistant to Dr. John M. Wheeler, who removed a cataract from the eye of the king of Siam in 1931.

The little girl's condition afterward was described at the Presbyterian hospital as "entirely satisfactory," but physicians said her chances would have been better if the growth on her eye had been removed when it first was discovered.

Chicago Schools Face Closing as City Lacks Funds

Chicago, April 25.—The affliction of Chicago's school system for many months threatened today to develop into a case of complete paralysis unless a stimulant in the form of cash were immediately provided.

The fine question pondered by city and school officials was: Should the city halt its mounting debt to the long unpaid teachers by closing the schools for three months, thereby relieving them of working for nothing?

Prodded to activity by the increasing anger of the teachers over payless paydays—which yesterday led them to invade the loop banks with a demand for immediate cash—officials conferred regarding the proposal to declare a moratorium on educational facilities.

Orville Taylor, president of the board of education, announced after a conference with Superintendent of Schools William J. Bogan and Mayor Edward J. Kelly that he was in favor of closing the schools from May 12 to October 1.

The proposal, already contained in a resolution offered by School Trustee J. Wallace Caldwell, will be debated at the educational board's meeting tomorrow, Taylor said.

There were, however, legal aspects which would have to be clarified, said Taylor. Mayor Kelly suggested an alternative in the form of sharp retrenchment of school expenses during the remainder of the spring term.

Basis For Agreement On War Debts Is Reached At Parley Of Roosevelt and MacDonald

While This Is Admitted, It Is Stated That Negotiations Will Continue Later

Washington, April 25.—Calmly and in a spirit of friendship President Roosevelt and Prime Minister MacDonald today discussed thoroughly the problem of Great Britain's war debt to the United States and then announced that "the basis of a clear understanding of the situation" had been reached.

A statement issued jointly tonight by the heads of the two great nations said the debt conversations would continue in London and in Washington, after Mr. MacDonald's departure and emphasized that the day's discussion was to be regarded as "only preliminary exploration."

Meanwhile, Mr. Roosevelt made ready for a continuance of his talks with Edouard Herriot, ambassador of France, with a growing possibility that the road to disarmament may be smoothed by an anti-war consultative pact in which the United States would join.

In both British and American quarters there was a feeling of elation tonight at the outcome of the negotiations and an evident view that their success has been ever greater than that hoped for.

In summarizing their study of the debt problem, Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. MacDonald said:

"During the day the prime minister and the President have discussed the problems of the debt of the British government to the United States and both believe that as a result there is laid the basis of a clearer understanding of the situation affecting the two nations."

"It would be wholly misleading to intimate that any plan or any settlement is under way. It is the simple truth that thus far only preliminary explorations of many different routes have been commenced. The point to be emphasized is that with the most friendly spirit progress is being made. After the prime minister's departure these conversations can well continue in London and Washington."

Diamond Which Has Always Brought Bad Luck To Be Used To Save Estate

Washington, April 25.—The historic and brilliant Hope diamond, which legend says casts a spell of ill fortune upon its owners, is Mrs. Evalyn Walsh McLean's basis of hope for financial help in achieving an overpowering ambition—keeping control of the Washington Post for her sons.

The estranged wife of Edward B. McLean, former publisher of the newspaper, made known today that she wanted to put up the 44 1-2 carat diamond, along with other valuable jewels in her collection, as security for a loan.

Friends of Mrs. McLean, who received the diamond from her husband in 1911 as a bridal gift, said she hoped to raise $500,000 from all the jewels. The diamond is reported to have cost upward of $300,000, while several millions are understood to have been paid for the entire collection.

The Post now is in receivership and Mrs. McLean wants to make an offer to buy it. She hopes to retrieve her jewels as soon as she can dispose of some of her real estate holdings.

Good Farm Butter

The demand today is for a mild-flavored butter made from sweet cream or cream that is only slightly sour. Many North Carolina farmers and housewives are adding to their incomes during this period of preparing such butter for sale to boarding houses, on curb markets or to a selected trade in towns and cities.

"The first step in making good butter is to handle the milk with care from the time it is drawn from the cow until it is churned," says W. L. Clevenger, dairy manufacturing specialist at State college. "At milking time, no dust, dirt or objectionable odors should be allowed and the cow's udder, teats and flanks should be free from all filth. It is important too that the milkster's clothes and hands be clean. When a sufficient amount of cream has been accumulated for churning, ten hours should elapse after the last cream is added before churning."

Clevenger suggests that the cream be brought to the proper temperature four or five hours before churning. At that time, it should have a clean, mild, pleasant taste and smell. The churning temperature is warmer and from 65 to 70 degrees in winter. The butter should be churned in from 20 to 30 minutes. If the churning is done at a high temperature, the butter will have a weak and greasy taste. In churning, agitate the butter uniformly and use a churn which holds three times as much cream as that placed in it. If the churn is too full, poor results are secured.

Clevenger says it is highly important to keep all the utensils and the churn thoroughly clean. Many of the troubles making good farm butter may be traced directly to this lack of cleanliness. He suggests that that churning be stopped when the butter particles have attained the size of a pea.

NO MORE LOANS TO BE MADE FARMERS

Approximately 200 farmers applied for crop production loans, most of which were small, during the time applications were accepted by the government. The final date of acceptance was Tuesday. Wilkes farmers borrowed lightly this year, endeavoring it seemed, to keep out of debt.
