Save Money By Having Jerseys Registered Now

Announcement is made by the Jersey Cattle Club through County Agent A. G. Hendren that owners of Jersey cattle may have registration papers filed for a limited time only at greatly reduced costs.

According to Mr. Hendren the registration price in the past has been $10.00 for cows over two years old, but a special offer makes it possible now to register for $5.00, regardless of age.

This offer will be in effect only a limited time, Mr. Hendren states, and those who have unregistered pure-bred Jerseys are urged to get blanks from the county agent at once.

Remember the Sales Tax goes on after June 30th, the time is short, you have never met the animal, but you just as well get ready for the shock. Our advice is—be prepared.—The Goodwill Store.

Purina Feeds Chosen For Laying Contest At Great World's Fair In Chicago

Announcement has just been made by the Purina Mills, of St. Louis, that its line of feeds has been chosen for the Century of Progress Laying Contest at the World's Fair in Chicago.

Two hundred pens of the world's best layers will be fed Purina Chows, the very same kind of feed that is sold locally by the Wilkes Hatchery.

The Purina company as well as the local Purina dealer feels that the use of Purina products at the World's Fair is quite a compliment, and is conclusive proof of Purina quality and value.

Laura May Spears

Laura May Spears, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Spears, of near Buck, died Monday, June 19. The funeral service was conducted from Pilgrim church Tuesday by Rev. Charles Martin. The deceased was 10 years, 9 months and 3 days of age. Surviving her are the parents, one sister, Fannie, and two brothers, Josephus and Lonnie.

The old story that has passed the rounds for the past three and one-half years, everything is just too cheap, it's a long road that has no turns. Now the air is full of things are going up. We wish that all of our customers could supply their needs for months ahead before the thing actually happens.—The Goodwill Store.
