Special Service Held For College Students

Last Wednesday night at the Methodist church in North Wilkesboro a service in honor of college students was held. Out of the one hundred and one persons present forty-three were college graduates or are underclassmen. These people stood and told the name of their college.

Among the numbers on the program were the opening prayer by Mr. J. A. Gabriel, of Lincolnton. A splendid talk by Marjorie Faw on, "My College." Dr. Fred Hubbard spoke on, "My Professional College," stating that his grandfather graduated from the medical college of the University of Pennsylvania one hundred years ago this year; and that an uncle graduated from Jefferson College in 1888. Mr. E. L. Blackman, Jr., spoke on, "Four Years Out Of College," telling of the after benefits of a college education. The pastor talked on "Why Go To College?" Among the reasons he named increased earning capacity, friendships, refinement, and opportunities for service.

Singing At Boomer

The singing at Zion Hill Baptist church Sunday was a delightful event enjoyed by a large crowd. A number of classes and quartets took part, making it a good day for all present.

After the song service, a brief talk was given by Attorney F. J. McDuffie, of Wilkesboro. Our church work is going good with preaching service each second Saturday and Sunday, Sunday school each Sunday and a good prayer meeting each Sunday night.—Reported.

Methodists Of Mt. Airy District At Jefferson Today For Conference

Representatives of the Methodist churches in Wilkes county are in Jefferson today attending the Mt. Airy district conference. Among those in attendance are Rev. J. H. Armbrust, Joseph White, Genio Cardwell, Mrs. A. E. Spainhower and Miss Beatrice Pearson, of this city, Rev. Seymour Taylor and Attorney F. J. McDuffie, of Wilkesboro, and Rev. R. H. Kennington, of Moravian Falls.

Bishop Edwin D. Mouzon, of Charlotte, is attending the conference and is scheduled to preach at the service today.

The conference will continue through tomorrow.

Methodist Church Notes

Prof. Halfacre made another of his uplifting talks Sunday morning at the Sunday school hour. He said that the church is the salvation of the world and urged the men to be loyal to that institution. Dr. Sam Cassel headed the school in the absence of Mr. Hix, the superintendent, who is in Chicago. Over two hundred people were present.

At the morning service Sunday Mr. John Kermit Blackburn was the offertory soloist. He used as a motif, "Close to Thee." The pastor spoke on, "Being Sensitive Toward God." Several visitors were present—glad to have you.

The Mt. Airy District Conference convened at Jefferson on Monday afternoon. Dr. W. E. Poovey will preside. Bishop E. D. Mouzon is expected to be present and speak. It is expected that a member of the local church will be elected a delegate to the Annual Conference.

The Woman's Wesley Bible Class will meet with Mrs. R. J. Hinshaw on Tuesday, 3:30 p. m.

The ladies of the church are asked to save Octagon Soap products wrappers for our Children's Home. Mrs. Armbrust will receive them and send them to the home. Our Children's Home is caring for over 400 children and needs every bit of help possible.

Both Fellowship hours were held Sunday evening. Miss Adeline Jones led the Senior Young People's service.

Next Saturday morning our Boy Scouts start for Lake Tahoe for the annual camping trip. This work is being planned by the Scoutmasters and Troop committee. The boys will live in tents.

All young people who are planning to go to Chimney Rock on the camping trip for young people on July 14 please see Mrs. Armbrust at once. We must know how many are going in order to lay our plans.

A Junior Department for Fellowship Hours has been organized. Mrs. Murphy Hunt and Mrs. Ira Payne are leaders. Mrs. Bret Lomax, Mrs. Sam Cassel and Mrs. I. E. Pearson will have charge of the Intermediates. They meet every Sunday, 7:15 p. m.

Mr. Robert Gant was received into church membership Sunday evening. We most heartily welcome him. At that service the pastor outlined the county-wide program for Law Enforcement now on foot.

Two special prayers were offered Sunday evening. Both requests were by letter. One was for an important project which is being launched, the other for a man about to undergo an operation.
