Farmer Bob Seen As Aspirant For N. C. Governorship

sides, being governor is a great honor, as great as any the state can give. Indeed, the governor makes United States senators and supreme court judges. He also sets the pace for North Carolina life.

Nobody views Mr. Bowie's present boom lightly. If the merchants succeed in flattering him enough to run, and if they raise a big fund to fight legislators favorable to the present or any future sales tax there is no way to imagine Mr. Bowie's failing to get the benefit of such militant support for himself and opposition to others.

It won't be many days before there will be open advocates of Mr. Doughton's gubernatorial candidacy, some of his friends are saying. Various things stand in the way of a declaration now. The Alleghany member of the national house of representatives has a lot of federal work to do. He would not like premature boosting. He is credited with having commended highly the course of Mr. Bowie during the late legislature. Whether that is true or not, Mr. Doughton has never said.

The Doughton candidacy, should it develop, would make universal appeal. He would get the sales tax group which followed the course of R. A. Doughton, who saw no way to finance North Carolina without the tax and forgot his preconceived opinions in the larger duty to his state. The leader of the 1933 North Carolina house is a brother of the member of congress. The Doughton following in the legislature could be given in large measure to the other Doughton.

Food Market Advice

By ANN PAGE

THIS is an old saying, "The early bird catches the worm," but it holds true for the marketer to a remarkable degree. If you have visited your market between eight and ten in the morning you have seen the heaps of fresh, crisp, green vegetables, the colorful unwilted fruits and have perhaps bought more than you anticipated because everything looked so attractive. Later in the day the choice is limited and the hotter the day the more care is needed in the home to restore the desired freshness.

The chief lesson that heat teaches us is the necessity of properly caring for food and planning meals so as to reduce left-overs to a minimum. This applies equally to dairy products, milk, cream, butter, cheese and eggs; to meats and fish and to fresh fruits and vegetables. Even bread may mold very quickly on warm, humid days. Buying frequently and in small quantities is more economical than quantity buying with consequent spoilage. On the other hand, it saves time and often money to stock up on staples and such perishables as can be well cared for.

Milk, cream and butter are produced in quantity at this season and they are particularly rich in color and flavor, due to the rich, green pasture feed of the cows. They should be kept as cold as possible in a refrigerator, spring house or cool cellar. Eggs are fairly plentiful but should be purchased in small quantities and kept cold. Cheese is an excellent food for summer as it goes so well with the popular but less satisfying cold dishes. According to one of our greatest nutritionists, Dr. Henry C. Sherman of Columbia University, it is, but let us quote him: "In most localities cheese gives a greater return in value for the money expended than other staple foods of animal origin!"

At this season practically all meats, broilers, fryers and fowl of the poultry family and many varieties of fresh and salt water fish are available and at moderate cost, according to the cuts or varieties desired. Fruits are increasingly plentiful. With the passing of the strawberry, other berries and small fruit can be seen in the market, including raspber-

SCHOOL ELECTION WILL BE HELD AUGUST 15

Tuesday that unless the tax levy for the supplement carries favorably, it will be necessary next session to discontinue the Home Economics Department, Music, Physical Education, and a part-time librarian.

The levy to be voted on will be twenty cents on the hundred dollars assessed valuation of the property within the town limits. This rate will represent the maximum that can be levied for operation of schools until the people desire by another election to change the rate. The school board in asking the commissioners to call the election pledged themselves to ask for not more than sixteen cents of the twenty cents maximum for the coming year, due to the fact that a recent ruling of the State Attorney General makes it possible to use uncollected school taxes of the present year, that may be collected next year, for general expenses of schools next year.

At the present time the county is in arrears in paying its per capita funds to the local school fund. Practically ninety percent of the 1932 city taxes has been collected to date.

Since the establishment of the local school charter in 1904 the maximum rate that could be levied for operation of schools has been forty-five cents on the hundred dollars assessed valuation. For several years prior to the school year just closed the rate has been forty-four cents. This year the rate was reduced one cent in addition to the decided reduction in assessed valuation during 1932. The county rate for state school funds this year has been seventeen cents. This added to forty-three cents in the city means that the school tax rate for operating purposes in North Wilkesboro totaled sixty cents for 1932-33, or a school tax of six dollars on each thousand dollars in assessed valuation. According to a statement from the office of the county accountant this morning, the assessed valuation of North Wilkesboro property for next year will show a reduction of twenty-five percent. This means that a school tax rate of sixteen cents for next year would yield total revenue of one dollar twenty cents on the same property on which was paid six dollars in 1932 taxes. This amount of taxes for next year would be a reduction of eighty percent in the amount paid for school operation purposes.

It is the opinion of many local business men that with the proposed reduction of forty-four cents in school taxes in addition to the twenty-five percent reduction in assessed valuation, the election on August 15th should carry favorably. The school is one of the city's biggest assets and for years has been recognized throughout the state as being one of the best high schools in Western North Carolina. The State School Commission recently gave its permission for the local schools to organize and operate next session as a city administrative unit. This recognition by the state school governing body is viewed as a distinctive ries, blackberries, blueberries, currants and sweet and sour cherries. These fruits are good at breakfast, lunch or dinner by themselves or in the form of muffins, cakes, pies or other made desserts.

This is the most important week of the season for watermelon and it should be on every table or picnic excursion at least once over the weekend of the Fourth.

The vegetable season is coming into full swing as almost every type is in market, either native grown or from localities where the season is more advanced. Among the most plentiful and economical to buy are the bunched carrots and beets, green peas and beans, new cabbage and the summer salad components lettuce, tomatoes and cucumbers.

Salad dressing and olives should always be kept on hand in the summertime. For they go so well with salads, sandwiches and cold cuts.

Here is an interesting recipe from the Quaker Maid Kitchen for Tomatoes Stuffed with Chicken Salad:

- 8 Ripe tomatoes
- 4- or 5-pound fowl
- Salt
- 1 Onion, sliced
- 1/2 Cup vinegar
- A few drops tabasco sauce
- 2 Bunches celery
- Salad dressing
- Lettuce
- Capers

After the chicken is cooked and cut into small pieces, let it marinate, that is, stand several hours or overnight in a mixture of the vinegar, 1/2 cup of olive or vegetable oil, onion, tabasco and salt.

Cut the celery stalks and some of the tender leaves into small pieces and let stand in a cold place until crisp. Mix enough thick, well-seasoned salad dressing with the chicken to coat the pieces well. Shortly before the salad is to be served, add the celery and more salad dressing if needed. Stir the mixture lightly so as not to break up the chicken. Add still more salt if needed.

Cut the tomatoes so that they fall apart into quarters, place on crisp lettuce and fill the center with the chicken salad. Add a spoonful of salad dressing, and sprinkle a few capers over the top.

Crosley Shelvador Prices To Advance

For A Limited Time Only They Will Be Sold By Local Distributor At Old Prices

Messrs. Tai J. Pearson and W. M. Day, owners of the Wilkes Electric Company, distributor of the Crosley refrigerator, stated yesterday that advance in the cost of raw materials and labor will surely bring about higher prices within the next few days. Other electric refrigerator manufacturers have already increased the prices on their products, it is stated.

The Crosley company manufactures the Shelvador electric refrigerator. This is an exclusive feature in the electric refrigeration line and has proved to be a popular selling point for the Crosley.

The Wilkes Electric Company strongly advises all who wish to buy an electric refrigerator this year to come in and place their order before the prices advance. Present stock will be exhausted soon and then those buying will necessarily have to pay a higher price.

The public is invited to visit the company's show room in the Meadows building where the Shelvador is on display, and those connected with the firm will be pleased to give a demonstration at any time.
