"Group." The twenty some guests present for the pleasant afternoon were served dainty refreshments by Mrs. Absher, with the assistance of Mrs. Hunter Keck, Dahlias and other garden flowers were tastefully arranged throughout the home forming a colorful background.

Two new members, Mrs. J. M. Crawford and Mrs. Hoyle Hutchens, and three former members, Mrs. C. N. Myers, Mrs. C. A. Sink and Mrs. A. H. Casey, were welcomed into the club.

Miss Christine Irvin Is Charming Hostess

Three tables of bridge were in play at the delightful party given by Miss Christine Irvin at her home on E street Tuesday evening. Zinnias and other cut flowers were used for decorations, making a festive scene for the players. When the tallies were collected, Mrs. Shelton Brewer was found to have high score for the ladies while the men's prize went to Mr. Joe Brame. After the cards were laid aside Miss Irvin had the aid of Miss Myrtle Norris in serving a dainty salad course followed by sweets.

Mrs. J. B. Carter Is Hostess At Bridge

Two delightful bridge luncheons were given by Mrs. J. B. Carter at her home on Memorial Avenue Tuesday and Wednesday mornings. Tables for twelve guests were arranged in a setting of garden flowers at each occasion. On Tuesday Mrs. Frank Eller proved to be the most successful at cards and was awarded a prize. Mrs. E. L. Blackman, a recent bride, who prior to her marriage was Miss Alma Hodges, of Kingstree, S. C., was remembered with a gift by Mrs. Carter. The top score award Wednesday went to Mrs. Robert Gorrell, who with Mrs. Orten Boren, of Greensboro, were the out-of-town guests attending. Mrs. Russell Hodges, formerly Miss Bnl DeLaney, of Charlotte, received a lovely remembrance from the hostess. A two course luncheon was served following each game.

TEXAS STORN TAKES HEAVY TOLL

Edinburg, Tex., Sept. 5.—Reports that the thickly populated lower Rio Grande valley of Texas was devastated by a terrific tropical hurricane, with heavy loss of life and property destruction running into millions of dollars, were general in the storm area tonight.

From various sources came reports that Brownsville, with a population of 22,000, and Harlingen, population 12,000, had been virtually wrecked by tremendous winds which roared in from the Gulf of Mexico about midnight and blew throughout the day.

Lawson Anglin, Cameron county traffic officer, began a desperate struggle to make his way over littered highways to send an urgent plea for martial law to Governor Miriam A. Ferguson, from Claude Curtis, assistant district attorney at Harlingen.

Anglin said deaths had been reported at San Benito and on into the lower valley and that damage would total millions of dollars. Over railroad wires to Kingsville came a report that many had been killed and injured at Harlingen.

A crew of five men in a Pan-American Airways plane from Mexico City reported in San Antonio that they flew over Brownsville and Harlingen and found them in "a horrible condition."

Throughout the surrounding country relief agencies made feverish preparations to move into the stricken territory and an appeal was made to Governor Ferguson by State Representative W. E. Pope for authorization to spend $2,000 for medical supplies.

A rescue train reached Harlingen from Kingsville at 5:30 p. m., with two refrigerators full of perishable foods and four tank cars.

A Harlingen physician several hours earlier had made an urgent request to the Missouri Pacific offices at Kingsville for bread, water and milk. He said the dozens of families huddled into a remaining hotel needed it sorely.

Water and light plants at Harlingen went out last night with the first blasts of the storm.

From Falfurrias came a report from a traffic officer from Harlingen that the town had been "pretty well torn up." He frantically sought sufficient men to take back to Harlingen with him to relieve immediate distress.

NEW YORK PUTS BAN ON SIDEWALK CAFES

New York—Sidewalk cafes—that continental touch brought by beer's return—were banned today.

With the 3.2 legalization, such cafes were opened in all sections of Manhattan island. Some were merely a couple of tables and a few chairs outside a drug store or small restaurant. Others were elaborate—such as some on lower Fifth avenue, just north of Washington square.

All were ordered closed immediately by H. W. Hubbard, Manhattan commissioner of public works.

Hubbard said the cafes were "incumbering or obstructing the sidewalks. Unless removed at once, police will cart the tables, chairs and shrubbery off to the city warehouse."

One of the swankiest of the cafes is at Fifth avenue and 12th street. Encircled by tall shrubs, the sidewalk is covered with thick, artificial glass.

Business has been excellent in most of the cafes and a protest to the commissioner's order was immediately heard.

Bandits Kill Bank Patron

Byron, Minn., Sept. 6.—Charles Gronvold, 58, a patron, was shot to death today by a gunman who held up the Byron State bank. The robber fled with $800 in a car after forcing into the vault two women employes and two women customers.

U. S. RECOVERY PLAN

Brighton, Eng.—Emphatic approval of President Roosevelt's recovery plan was expressed by several speakers at today's session of the trade union congress and in the body of a resolution adopted calling upon the British government to adopt similar measures.

The delegates also listened eagerly to a report of T. L. Burke, of the American Federation of Labor, on the progress of the American program.

The congress broke into cheers when the American representatives read a cable from his homeland which said:

"Most basic industries are now under codes. The coal industry is next with union recognition. Three hundred federal unions are chartered and over 2,000,000 men re-employed."

The secretary of the congress, William Citrine, moving the resolution calling upon the British government, said the expansionist policy being pursued in the United States has been advocated by the trade union congress. He added that it was receiving greater support than at any other period in history.

she wished there could be the same enthusiasm in England as she had witnessed in Washington. She pleaded for a long distance view of the situation.

An emergency resolution was adopted suggesting the conclusion by Great Britain of a commercial treaty with the Soviet union. The extension of adequate credits for trade with Russia also was asked.

More Than 1,000 Dogs Killed

By Dogcatcher In Charlotte

Charlotte, Sept. 4.—W. E. Munson, city dog catcher, today estimated between 1,200 and 1,300 homeless and wandering dogs were killed in Charlotte last year.

"And you can't tell the difference," he added. He expressed belief the local canine population was about 5,000.

The usual method of killing stray dogs here is by administering a swift poison which kills within 10 seconds.

Goldenrods cause only a small percentage of hay fever suffering; trees, animal hair, glue, horn-rimmed spectacles, molds and dust also bring it about.
