Special Meeting Brushy Mountain Baptists Sept. 28

Promotion Meeting Will Be Held At Mount Pleasant Church Thursday

PERRY MORGAN COMING
Splendid Program Announced; All-Day Program To Begin At 10 A. M.

On Thursday, September 28th, beginning at ten o'clock in the morning there will be held an Associational Promotion Meeting for the churches of the Brushy Mountain Baptist Association at the Mount Pleasant Baptist church. This meeting is in accord with action taken by the last annual session of the Association in requesting Mr. Perry Morgan of Raleigh, and Dr. Clay I. Hudson of Nashville, Tenn., to arrange for such a meeting. It is expected that there will be representatives from each of the twenty-eight churches of the Association in attendance. All pastors, deacons, church treasurers and finance committees, officers of the missionary societies and of the Young People's organizations, together with any other interested laymen or women, are expected to attend.

The object of this meeting, it is announced, is to confer with and offer help to the leaders of the churches in order to bring about sounder and more successful financial plans. Both Mr. Morgan and Dr. Hudson have had wide experience in such matters, it is said, and will be able to bring practical suggestions of great value to those who are interested in finding and working better plans of Kingdom finance. Inasmuch as the Mount Pleasant church has had notice of this meeting but a few days, all those attending during the morning and afternoon sessions are requested to carry their own lunch. The Associational Executive Committee has requested the Mount Pleasant church not to furnish lunch for the visitors.

Old Clock Runs Again

A famous 300 year old clock which stands 14 feet high, and made of solid black oak is ticking time again. A 20 year old girl clock maker, Miss Louise Weyer, succeeding in starting it after many men experts had failed. The clock has been in the lobby of a New York hotel for years.

Federal Highway Number Is Sought For Route No. 16

Movement Is Already Under Way; Is An Important and Scenic Route

IMPROVEMENT NEEDED

A movement is under way to secure a federal highway number for No. 16 from the Tennessee state line at Trade by way of Jefferson, North Wilkesboro, Taylorsville and Newton to the South Carolina line.

According to sponsors of the movement, this route is not only one of great importance, but it is also one of the most scenic in the western part of the state.

Starting at the Tennessee line, the route directs the motorists through the scenic New River section and offers one of the state's most beautiful drives.

Efforts to obtain improvement on the sections between Trade and Warrensville and between Glendale Springs and Millers Creek apparently are to be successful and when these sections are improved, the entire road will be in excellent condition. These links will be built, it is understood, within the next few months.

North Wilkesboro citizens, who are interested in obtaining a federal number for No. 16 are requesting that citizens of Jefferson, Taylorsville and Newton join them in urging consideration of this move.

Mr. N. G. Snyder, well known citizen of Wilkesboro, Route 1, was a business visitor in the city a few hours yesterday.

Miss Pauline Jarvis Becomes Bride Of Mr. Henderson In Public Wedding

A throng of people, filling the grandstand and all available space adjacent to the platform at the Great Wilkes Fair, last night witnessed in a hushed silence befitting the sacredness of the occasion the public wedding uniting Miss Pauline Jarvis, of the Dellaplaine community, and Mr. James Henderson, of Wilkesboro, members of two of the county's best known families.

Rev. N. T. Jarvis, an uncle of the bride and one of the most widely known Baptist ministers in Wilkes, officiated, using the impressive ring ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, while Mr. Frank Henderson, a brother of the groom, was best man.

The wedding climaxed a romance begun several years ago when Miss Jarvis and Mr. Henderson attended Wilkesboro high school. They are both graduates

T. E. Story Selected As Wilkes Dry Delegate

Prominent Educator Will Be Voted Upon In Repeal Election In November; More Than 1,000 Names Placed Upon Petition To Be Presented Board of Elections

Prof. T. E. Story, principal of Wilkesboro high school and prominent civic leader, was chosen as Wilkes county's anti-repeal candidate at a meeting of the Wilkes county unit of the United Dry Forces of North Carolina at the courthouse Monday evening.

The selection of the well known educator had the unanimous approval of the dry organization.

Wilkes county will have one delegate to the constitutional convention to vote on the question of repealing the Eighteenth Amendment, if a convention is called. Those favoring repeal are expected to select a candidate within the near future. They have until October 7 to file their petition with the county board of elections.

In order to place a candidate in the field, a petition bearing the names of 247 qualified voters must be presented to the board of elections. It was learned yesterday that the various petitions being circulated by the dry forces already bear the signatures of more than 1,000 citizens.

It has been emphasized that those opposing repeal are expected to vote against a convention and for the anti-repeal candidate, while those favoring repeal will vote for the convention and for the repeal candidate.

Wife of John Anderson Learns That He Died In Jail Break

GRANDFATHER HERE

(From Wednesday's Winston-Salem Journal)

A name—the name of John Anderson, life termer—shot to death—caught and held the eye of Mrs. Dollie King Anderson, who lives on the Clemmonsville Road near Winston-Salem, as she read the other day of a bloody prison break at Marksville, La., and of the bloodier aftermath.

The name, you see, had held particular significance for her ever since the day seven years ago when she married a man named John Anderson in Newark, N. J., and with their tiny baby, was abandoned by him more than a year later. Since that time she said she had not seen him, had not heard from him, had no knowledge of his whereabouts.

Strangely convinced that she had at last received news, though tragic, of her husband, Mrs. Anderson wrote Louisiana authorities asking for a description and details concerning imprisonment of the man.

Yesterday she received a reply from Sheriff J. J. Jeansonnos of Marksville parish. The description and a photograph made identification positive, Mrs. Anderson declared.

John Anderson was one of 11 long-term convicts who started a

R. C. Rivers Dies At Davis Hospital

Publisher of Watauga Democrat Passed Away Monday Afternoon

Boone, Sept. 18.—R. C. Rivers, 72, one of this section's best known citizens, died at Davis hospital, Statesville, yesterday afternoon after an illness of one week. He was prominently identified with civic and social life of this community, and represented Watauga county in the general assembly in 1929.

He was publisher of the Watauga Democrat, one of the oldest newspapers in these mountain counties. The newspaper celebrated its 45th birthday this year.

Mr. Rivers was a shriner, a director in the Watauga Building and Loan association, chairman of the American Red Cross of the county, and was a recognized leader in the Democratic party. He was one of the men influential in the construction of the Daniel Boone hotel here.

He is survived by two sons, R. C. Rivers, Jr., and J. C. Rivers, of Boone; a daughter, Mrs. Frank McGee, of Boone; two sisters, Mrs. J. W. Farthing and Miss Nanny Rivers, both of Boone.

Funeral services were conducted Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock at Boone. Friends from widely separated communities attended.

Revival To Begin At First Baptist Church on Sunday

Series of Services To Be Conducted by the Pastor, Rev. Eugene Olive

TWO SERVICES DAILY

Next Sunday marks the beginning of a series of evangelistic services at the First Baptist church, conducted by the pastor, Rev. Eugene Olive, assisted by the choir and members of the congregation. Sunday services will be held at 11 a. m. and at 8 p. m. with week-day services at an early morning hour and at 7:30 p. m.

At a meeting of the board of deacons this week, it was decided to make a house-to-house visitation on next Sunday afternoon to extend to all the people of North Wilkesboro an invitation to attend the services. People of all other churches are heartily invited to attend and take part in the services when there is no conflict with services in their own churches.

Rev. Mr. Olive has announced that sermons on Sundays and each night during the series will be based on the Gospel of John, the purpose of which is expressed in the twentieth chapter, verse thirty-one: "that ye may believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God; and that believing ye may have life in his name." At the early morning services, so timed that business and professional men and school children may attend, the book of Acts will form the basis of study and worship.

The music promises to be an inspiring part of the special evangelistic season. Special musical numbers, appropriate for the occasion, will be rendered from time to time in the form of solos, duets, quartets and choruses. It is planned to use a large number of boys and girls to sing in a junior choir.

Child Dies After Eating An Entire Box of Pills

Thomasville, Sept. 18.—Funeral service was held yesterday for Billie Deberry, two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Alton Deberry, who died Saturday morning in less than an hour after he had eaten an entire box of some 75 or 80 pills. The pills, it was said, were left within the child's reach after having been taken down from a higher shelf. The rites were held at Wadesville, Montgomery county.

Free Acts Are Witnessed By Great Throng; Among Best Ever Seen Locally

EXHIBITS EXCELLENT Public Wedding Was Staged In Front of Grandstand Last Evening

The Great Wilkes Fair, which is now in progress, opened spectacularly Tuesday with a crowd, estimated at 12,000, thronging the midway and visiting the exhibit hall and other sections of the fairgrounds during the day.

Tuesday was "School Children's Day" and thousands came to the city and took advantage of the opportunity to attend without cost.

The fair was formally opened with a parade which started at the corner of D and Tenth Streets. The Regimental band of the 105th Engineers, National Guard of Charlotte, led the procession. The band was followed by Company A, local National Guard unit, cars bearing dignitaries of the occasion and others.

A number of floats were entered in the parade by local firms. General Manus McCloskey, commanding officer at Fort Bragg, Fayetteville, delivered the opening address at the fairgrounds.

General McCloskey was so impressed with his visit here that he promised fair officials he would send airplanes and a battery for the fair next year.

A brief talk was also delivered by Congressman Walter Lambeth, of Thomasville. He was introduced by Mayor J. A. Rouseau.

The exhibits this year are worthy of display and the armory hall has been visited by large numbers who are interested in the excellent products brought in by the farmers.

The midway attractions are among the best offered by any show on the road and the free acts are considered unusually good.

Grandstand spectators witnessed excellent performances on the opening day when the Charlotte band gave a concert in addition to the regular features that are being offered twice daily.

Each feature is broadcast over amplifiers supplied through the courtesy of the D. & M. Electric company. John Carey is doing the announcing.

The free acts, starting at 2 p. m., include the Jackamese, revolving ladder act, selections by the Mt. Airy band under the direction of Prof. Wagoner; Eric Dodge doing the single trapeze act; Little Aimee and her swinging ladder; the El-Ray Sisters, sensational roller skaters; the Aerial Cowdens, double trapeze act, and the Funny Makers, bucking Ford performers.

The public wedding was a feature of last night's program. Thousands are expected to crowd the midway during the remainder of the week for the special attractions yet to come.

The chief attraction on the schedule will be the 250-mile automobile race starting Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Ten well known professional dirt track drivers are entered in the race. The race will require the attention of fair-goers throughout most of the afternoon.

Two More States Vote For Repeal

New Mexico and Idaho Are 30th and 31st States To Join Parade

New Mexico and Idaho joined the big parade Tuesday and voted to repeal the Eighteenth Amendment. The wet delegates were elected by big majorities.

New Mexico and Idaho became the 30th and 31st states to voice protest against the prohibition amendment. No state has yet voted to retain the amendment.

Five more states are necessary to insure repeal of the amendment. There are 17 states yet to vote.
