visitors, Mrs. Percy Walters, Mrs. Jeter Blackburn and Miss Julia Finley. In a pretty setting of dahlias and other fall flowers bridge was played at two tables. The club prize was won by Mrs. James O'Daniel while the visitor's award went to Mrs. Walters. At the conclusion of play the hostess was aided by Miss Virginia Tomlinson and Miss Treva Spainhower in serving delicious refreshments.

Dorcas Sunday School Class Entertained

The Dorcas Sunday school class of the Wilkesboro Baptist church met in their monthly session on Friday afternoon for a period of sewing and other work for the church. At this time plans were made for a bazaar to be given at an early date. Hostess for the afternoon was Mrs. Bob Turner with a large number of the members present.

Miss Estelle Dancy Entertains Friends

Miss Estelle Dancy entertained a number of friends at an open house party on Saturday evening at the new home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Dancy, on Hinshaw street. The living room was attractively decorated with fall flowers. After the guests arrived they were shown through the home by the hostess. A number of games were enjoyed under the direction of Miss Dancy and Miss Grace Morrison. Around twenty-five young people enjoyed the hospitality of Miss Dancy and were served tempting refreshments at the close of the evening.

Misses McDiarmid Bridge Hostesses

Misses Catherine and Janie McDiarmid were charming hostesses at their home on Saturday evening at two tables of bridge both in the morning and afternoon. Table prizes were won by Mrs. Will Blair and Miss Louise Vyne at the morning game and in the afternoon Mrs. Jule Deans and Miss Lina Forester proved to be the winners. A variety of mixed autumn blossoms were used for decorations forming a festive scene for the players. A tempting luncheon followed the first game and at the close of the second an afternoon tea was served.

Lovely Parties Given By Miss Louise Vyne

Two lovely parties of the week were the ones given by Miss Louise Vyne at her home on Thursday and Friday afternoons. Decorations for each occasion were dahlias, roses and cosmos making a colorful background for the guests. On Thursday four tables were arranged for the game and Miss Annie Ruth Tomlinson proved to be the most successful at cards receiving the high score award. In serving a salad and sweet course after the game Miss Vyne was aided by Mrs. E. A. Shook, Misses Edith Williams and Janie McDiarmid.

Three tables were in play Friday and the count of tallies showed Mrs. Henry Landon to be holder of the high score. Mrs. Charlie Beeson, of Mexico City, who is here on a visit with Mr. Beeson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Beeson, was remembered with a gift by Miss Vyne. When cards were laid aside Mrs. Landon and Miss Rebecca Mosley assisted the hostess in serving delicious refreshments in two courses.

Friday Bridge Club Is Entertained Here

The members of the Friday Bridge Club were delightfully entertained on Friday afternoon when Mrs. A. W. Horton was hostess to the club at her home on D Street. Cards were enjoyed at two tables after which the hostess served dainty refreshments. Colorful fall flowers were used for decorations.

Baptist Junior Girls Auxiliary In Meeting

Both groups of the Junior Girls' Auxiliary of the First Baptist church held meetings of much interest on Thursday afternoon as follows: Billie Barnes was hostess to the members of the green group with an attendance of fifteen members. Leader of the group, Miss Annie Jo Hagwood and Mrs. Jay Johnson directed the meeting and under their leadership a splendid program on Brazil was given with Billie Waugh Johnson program chairman. Grace Frank Kilby presided for the business session.

The white group met at the home of Margaret McGee and was attended by fourteen members. Brazil made an interesting study and was presented by Mable Johnston. Mrs. J. N. Shockey and Miss Lunda Hendren were present and assisted the children in the work. During the business session Beth Jones presided. At the close of each of the meetings light refreshments were served.

Wilkesboro Y. W. A. Met Tuesday Evening

The monthly meeting of the Wilkesboro Y. W. A. of the Baptist church was held on Tuesday evening at the home of Misses Lola and Geneva Church. The theme for the evening was a study of South America and was given under the leadership of Miss Lola Church, those taking part on the program were Misses Grace Blevins, Sue Lyon and Mrs. John Cashlon. An impressive period was led by Miss Mable Hendren. Mrs. Cashlon held the chair for routine business. Special music was the piano solo rendered by Miss Ursula Blevins. The twelve members present were served delightful refreshments during the social hour.

Junior B. Y. P. U.'s Enjoy Delightful Outing

A delightful outing was enjoyed by the members of the Junior B. Y. P. U.'s of the local Baptist church on Tuesday afternoon. A large number of the members with their leaders, Mrs. T. J. Frazier and Miss Virginia Bullis, hiked to Finley Hill where they roasted wafers and marshmallows. Several games were played during the afternoon.

Mrs. G. T. Mitchell Book Club Hostess

With Mrs. G. T. Mitchell as hostess the members of the Wilkesboro Book Club and a limited number of other friends were pleasantly entertained at her home on Wednesday afternoon. Four tables of bridge were in play during the late hours of the afternoon. When cards were laid aside, Mrs. A. H. Taylor assisted Mrs. Mitchell in serving a delectable salad course. Mrs. C. F. Morrison came in for refreshments.

Mrs. Henry Landon Entertains Wednesday Club

Mrs. Henry Landon was hostess to the Wednesday Sewing club at her home on Wednesday afternoon. Mixed fall flowers made a gay decoration for the living room where the guests gathered for an hour or more of needlework and conversation. Tempting refreshments were served at the close of the sewing period.

Inspirational Meeting Of Missionary Society Held

The inspirational meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society of the First Baptist church was held on Tuesday afternoon in the Ladies class room at the church with a good attendance and an interesting program. "Our Work in South America" was the theme for the afternoon and was given by members of Mrs. A. C. Dennis' circle. Those taking part on the program were Mesdames C. N. Myers, Jay Johnson, Tip McNeil, E. M. Blackburn and T. C. Caudill. Special prayers were offered by Mesdames Tip McNeil, Tal Barnes, E. M. Blackburn, C. D. Coffey, Sr., and D. T. Beish. The devotional period was in charge of Mrs. E. E. Eller. For the business part of the meeting the president, Mrs. J. N. Shockey, was in the chair and reports were heard from the various officers, counsellors and committees.

Fidels Class In Monthly Meeting

Twenty-nine members and five visitors were in attendance at the October business and social meeting of the Fidels class of the First Baptist church when it met on Tuesday evening at the Brown House with Mrs. Nell Hendren, Mrs. Tal Barnes and Miss Mamie McNeil as associate hostesses. Mrs. Myrtle Freeland led the devotional period and used for her scripture lesson the 119th Psalm, Mrs. Freeland's talk was very impressive and following this a number of prayers were offered. During the business session Mrs. Chal McNeil presided at which time reports were submitted by the different committees. A delightful social hour followed the business session with dainty refreshments being served by the hostess. In drawing for the surprise package, Miss Nora Ellis proved to be the lucky one.

St. Cecilia Music Club Meets With Jane Perry

The St. Cecilia Juvenile Music club, which is composed of the younger members of Mrs. R. E. Prevet's music class, held their first meeting of the year Thursday afternoon at the home of Prof. and Mrs. T. G. Perry, with their little daughter, Jane, as hostess.

The following officers were elected, President, Virginia Miller; vice president, Connie Lowe; secretary, Mary Parker Kelly; treasurer, Don Story; and critic, Ruth Hulcher. Five new members were welcomed into the club: Betty Henderson, Frances Crawford, Peggy Church, Louise McLean, and Mollie Beeson. Piano solos were played by George Ogilvie, Don Story, Russell Pearson, Jane Perry, Mary Louise Clements, Virginia Miller, Connie Lowe, Mary Parker Kelly and Ruth Joiner. Ruth Hulcher and Marjorie Hart sang a pretty duet.

At the close of the musical program, Miss Fan Cranor, of Statesville, gave several delightful readings, to the great joy of the children. Mrs. Perry and Jane then served delicious refreshments.

Legion Auxiliary In Meet On Monday

The American Legion Auxiliary held the October meeting Monday evening in the Legion Auxiliary club house with Mrs. Andrew Kilby, Misses Toby Turner and Norma Stevenson as joint hostesses. After the opening of the meeting by the president, Mrs. A. W. Horton, the chaplain, Mrs. J. C. Smoot led the devotionals. Salute to the flag and reading of the preamble in unison followed.

The report on the membership drive, which is expected to end this week was encouraging. A message from the Department President, Mrs. W. R. Absher, concerning membership was read. The Auxiliary went on record as unanimously endorsing the NRA. After other business the Department President, Mrs. Absher, gave a very entertaining and interesting account of the National convention in Chicago, which she had attended the week before.

Mrs. Horton invited all auxiliary members to her home, Thursday evening, October 12th, at 8 o'clock, honoring Mrs. Absher, the Department President. After adjournment the hostesses served delicious coffee, sandwiches and cakes.

MISS FOSTER IS WED TO MR. HENDREN

A wedding which will be received with cordial interest by friends throughout the state occurred at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon when Miss Frances Foster, daughter of Mrs. Maude Bentley Foster, was married to Plato Hendren.

The marriage took place at Pores Knob at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd M. Jennings. Rev. C. C. Holland, of Stony Point, pastor of the bride and groom and Walnut Grove Baptist church performed the impressive ceremony in the presence of members of the two families and close friends.

An improvised altar of huge potted ferns mixed with roses and evergreens had been artistically arranged in the living room.

Mrs. Floyd M. Jennings played the bridal chorus, Lohengrin, for the processional. The groom and his best man, John Foster, entered the room and took their places before the altar, followed by the bride and Grace Jennings.

The bride was attired in a pearly blue faille crepe dress with matching accessories. She is a pretty blond and a young woman with a pleasing personality. She received her education at North Wilkesboro and Wilkesboro high schools, graduating in the class of 1933.

The bridegroom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. V. M. Hendren, of Hidenite. He attended Wake Forest College and graduated there in the class of 1931, receiving his A. B. degree. He is a young man of sterling character and marked business ability.

Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Hendren left for a short wedding trip. On their return, they will make their home in North Wilkesboro.

HOME HINTS

The fall months bring a very definite problem to the homemaker, who is also the mother of school-age children. The problem of having a tempting, nourishing meal ready and on the table the minute the children dash in from school at noon. It is just this problem that Miss Addie Malone, home economist with the Southern Public Utilities Company, has been discussing.

"School-age children are apt to be just the least bit 'finicky', to use a good old-fashioned word, about their food. They must be tempted to eat food that will give them strong, healthy bodies, and alert minds.

"One sure way to tempt the appetite of the young set is to serve familiar foods in novel and amusing forms. Jellied vegetables have a whole lot more appeal than just boiled spinach. And prune soufflé is a great deal more tempting than plain stewed prunes.

"It's very simple to give that extra touch when there is an electric refrigerator in the kitchen. It's no trick at all to make crisp vegetables into salads or molded fishes; fruit juices into simple frozen desserts, and you should see the speed with which they disappear.

The following recipes for simple desserts were developed in the Kelvin Kitchen in Detroit especially to tempt the appetites of the school set.

Carrot Surprise

2 eggs
1 cup apple sauce (spiced)
1-2 cup strained carrots.
Beat egg yolks until lemon-colored, add apple sauce and carrots, fold in stiffly beaten egg whites and beat briskly for five minutes. Pour into tray of electric refrigerator and freeze. Makes 1 1-2 pints, and is a delectable peach-color. It disappears like magic.

Zwieback Pudding

1 package zwieback
1-2 cup melted butter
2 cups spiced apple sauce
Roll zwieback into crumbs. Pour melted butter over crumbs. Line buttered baking dish with zwieback crumbs, cover with layer of apple sauce. Repeat and end with a layer of crumbs. Cover and store in electric refrigerator 24 hours. Slice and serve with plain or whipped cream, or with no cream at all. Serves 6.

Prune Whip

1 egg white
1 1-2 cup prunes
1 cup whipping cream
1 1-2 sticks cinnamon
Juice and rind of 1-2 lemon
Soak prunes in hot water for five minutes. Drain. Put in sauce pan with just enough water to cover them well. Add lemon juice and rind and cinnamon and cook slowly for about an hour and a half. Remove from fire and put through a coarse sieve. Add stiffly beaten egg white to prune puree and fold in whipped cream. Pour in tray of electric refrigerator and freeze. This is a truly festive dessert and serves 8.
