The Commercial wheels of a nation revolve on confidence. The propaganda, the public has been called on to digest, has been something terrible within the past few years, in converting our thoughts to the present conditions it's an evident fact. The production of the mills and factories has been cut to a low ebb. The cost of manufacturing goods has advanced, in some instances, to high levels. With the present procedure, it looks like a good time to buy. Our present stocks are priced low in order to move them quick and fast. Our efficiency in operation is a powerful subsidy to true economy for the thrifty consumer and remains open year in and year out.—The Goodwill Department Store, A Family Store for All The Family.

According to witnesses, Clark was shot during a scuffle with Louis Blackburn for possession of the pistol. He is a native of Granite Falls, but has been employed in this city.

Why Try To Mislead the People, Mr. Prohibitionist?

Liquor or No Liquor is Not the Question To Be Decided Next Tuesday

1. There are three speakeasies now in existence for every saloon before prohibition. (Wickersham report on prohibition)
2. More whiskey of good quality for the rich, and poison liquor for the poor was consumed in 1930 than in 1929. (Wickersham report on prohibition.)
3. Organized crime and alarming disobedience of law has under prohibition spread in every field of evil-doing and in every part of the country. Wickersham commission on prohibition.)
4. Three times as many prisoners in 1930 as in 1921. (Wickersham commission on prohibition.)
5. Cost of crime in United States more than $3,000,000 daily. (Wickersham commission on prohibition.)
6. Automobile licenses revoked for intoxication 80 per 100,000 drivers in 1920; 300 per 100,000 drivers in 1931; constant increase thereafter. (United States Census Report).

7. (a) CRIME IN NORTH CAROLINA:
In 1919 (before prohibition) crimes cost $3,000,000; in 1932 (after 12 years of prohibition) $23,000,000 (Official records, office of Attorney General of North Carolina).

b) In 1919 North Carolina had 147 first degree murders; in 1932 (under prohibition) 238 first degree murders in North Carolina (Official records' Attorney General's office).

(c) In 1919 there were 760 prisoners in penitentiary at Raleigh and on state prison farms; in 1932 there were 2,808 in penitentiary and in addition there were 4,900 on the roads in North Carolina. (Records of Warden of State Penitentiary.)

The Liquor Bill of these United States for 1932 was four billions of dollars; not one cent of this money went to the government in taxes. Every dollar going into the pocket of some bootlegger or rum-runner. The bootlegger wants you to rob yourself and enrich him by voting with him for the dry candidate on next Tuesday; for a dry vote is voting dollars into the bootlegger's pocket.
