

Broadus Staley In Graduating Recital

Of Former Pastor Of Local Baptist Church Finishes Course At Salem

The following news article from the Winston-Salem Journal will be interesting to local citizens who will recall that young Staley is the son of Rev. and Mrs. W. F. Staley, who resided here during Rev. Mr. Staley's pastorate at the First Baptist church. The first graduating recital of the annual series given by the school of music of Salem College will be presented next Thursday evening, April 5, in Memorial Hall at 8:15 o'clock. At this time Frederick Broadus Staley, organist, will be heard in recital. Mr. Staley has had his entire work in organ at the school of music of Salem College.

Beginning five years ago as a pupil of Miss Mary Jones, he became in the following year a student in the regular bachelor of music course offered by the college and is a candidate for his diploma at the coming commencement in June. The program which he will offer on Thursday evening embraces a program of wide artistic, historical and technical interest. Chief among the numbers to be played will be the colossal "Fantasia and Fugue in G Minor," by Johann Sebastian Bach. He will also play Cesar Franck's "Grand Piece Symphonique," an interesting and beautifully constructed work in the cyclical form which Franck made so celebrated.

A number of shorter compositions by Clerambault, Kars-Eliert, Dethier and Widor will complete the program—the final number being the brilliant "Toccata" from the "Fifth Symphony" of the last-named composer.

The recital will be open to the public and a cordial invitation is extended to all music lovers to attend.

Address Of Mrs. James C. Reins

(The following address by Mrs. J. C. Reins was delivered at a recent meeting of the Kiwanis Club and is published by request of those who heard this excellent message.)

Friends, as president of the Woman's Club for the past two years, I feel the expiration of my term with a mingled feeling of gratification and regret.

I am grateful to you for your splendid support, and naturally proud that we have been able to accomplish what we have along the line of Scout work and public health, but at the same time, I am overwhelmed with the knowledge of what we might have done, and which for the lack of time, we have been unable to undertake! It may not be for the best, but I often feel if all our civic organizations could be combined into one strong body, what might we not accomplish!—Working in so many organizations whose work often overlaps, our strength is divided, and we find ourselves seriously handicapped for want of time to do all we'd like in any one of them!

Summing up our accomplishments for the past year, we have completed our Girl Scout project by soliciting chairs for the hut and grassing the grounds. The seal sale so ably conducted by Mrs. F. C. Hubbard and the children of our school netted us $246.92 and with these funds we have aided directly, one man patient in financing a two months' stay in the state sanatorium. We have also supplemented the salary of one of the assistants in our local T. B. Hospital, also paid for plumbing in the colored annex.

Our Garden Department has held semi-annual meetings, and the Literature Department has enjoyed an unusually profitable and interesting year. These things have of course more than justified our existence, but when we think of the program we might undertake and which if put through, I'm sure, we would say we have only scratched the surface. Besides a duty to our community, work of this kind brings so much personal pleasure and satisfaction. I feel sure we have all lived long enough to realize the truth of the statement that "The glory of life is to love, not to be loved, to give not to get, to serve, not to be served." What if we could start, as one club did in District No. 2, a lunch room for undernourished children, furnishing something good and hot for the members of these unfortunates who attend our city schools.

And then there's the ever-present problem of illiteracy; as some one has said "that ugly spot in our state history." The Federal government has appropriated money for this purpose, and what if we responded to our state president's appeal to club women all over the state to help in organizing and maintaining classes for adult illiterates.

Touching another need as spring approaches, let's begin some clean-up propaganda! From the beginning of time, women have been cleaners, and mayraps may issue proclamations, but unless there are posters, plenty of talk and propaganda the town looks about the same after clean-up week as it did before! Try the next time you drive into town imagining it to be your first visit to a new place. Just what is your reaction? How are you impressed? Does it strike you pleasantly or do you feel that we ought to do something about it?

And lastly friends, there can be no greater civic work than that which protects the home. I'm sure that as mothers, every time you go to a movie and sit through a sexy picture, or one that plays up the underworld, you quark inside, when you realize that that sort of thing is being absorbed by your children and actually entering into their development and mental growth. Some one has appealed that "heretofore people have just gone to the movies and paid an admission. This year we are asking women who control 85 per cent of the purchasing power of the country to study the films as carefully as they would other merchandise purchased for the family. Demand value for the family recreation dollar. Reject the inferior, the shoddy and second rate."

The subject of a playground has been raised before. May I close with this little poem by Dennis McCarthy—"Give Them a Place to Play."

"Plenty of room for dives and dens,
(Glitter and glare and sin!)
Plenty of room for prison pens,
(Gather the criminals in!)
Plenty of room for jails and courts,
(Willing enough to pay)—

But never a place for the kids to race,
No, never a place to play!

Plenty of room for shops and stores,
(Mammon must have 't's dust!)

Plenty of room for running races
That rot in the city's breast!

Plenty of room for the lures that lead
The hearts of our young astray—
But never a cent on a playground spent,
No, never a place to play!

Plenty of room for schools and halls,
Plenty of room for art!

Plenty of room for teas and balls,
Platform, stage and smart,
Proud is the city—she finds a place
For many a lad today—
But she's more than blind if she fails to find
A place for the boys to play!

Give them a chance for innocent sport,
Give them a chance for fun,
Better a playground plot than a court

And a jail when the harm is done!
Give them a chance, if you stint them now,
Tomorrow you'll have to pay
A larger bill for a darker ill—
So give them a chance to play!
