

First Forward Plan Job Insurance

Commission Meets, Asks $10,000 To Finance a Study of Unemployment

Raleigh, June 27.—The newly organized state unemployment commission today settled down to its designated task of setting up a system of insurance for North Carolina's jobless persons. The commission's first step after its organization meeting was to ask Mrs. Thomas O'Berry, state relief administrator, for $10,000 with which to finance a study of the unemployment situation which, it was said, is necessary in considering the feasibility of the plan.

State Senator W. O. Burgin, Washington, leader of the movement in the 1933 General Assembly to study a plan for unemployment insurance, was elected chairman of the commission.

Mrs. W. T. Bost, state welfare commissioner, was elected vice chairman, and H. D. Wolf, of the University of North Carolina faculty, and known as a student of labor problems, was named secretary.

Governor J. C. B. Ehringhaus said when he appointed the commission he had "assurance" that the administration would provide the necessary funds for a Study of the unemployment situation.

The Governor told the members today that "you have a vast problem before you, but hold in your hands the opportunity to render real service to the state."

Chairman Burgin said he believed labor as well as industry, should make contributions "looking to the establishment of a system of unemployment insurance in our state."

Roosevelt Favors Idea "President Roosevelt is in favor of unemployment insurance and I am in favor of it," Burgin told his colleagues.

Ehringhaus advised the group to outline its own methods of procedure and to decide whether or not it will study old age insurance at this time. He said the commission's primary function was to study the unemployment insurance proposal and to decide whether it would consider the question from a state or national viewpoint.

Others attending the meeting were John Sprunt Hill, Durham, state senator and capitalist; T. A. Wilson, labor member of the State Industrial Commission; Major A. J. Fletcher, state commissioner of labor; Mrs. Bost; Mrs. May Thompson Evans, High Point, state-federal re-employment service; and Thurmond Chatham, Winston-Salem.

Semi-Finals In Poll Shows Roosevelt Ahead In 47 States

Roosevelt continues to lead by more than 3 to 2 in the semi-final returns of The Literary Digest poll on the new deal, according to the tabulations published in the magazine.

Vermont is the only one of the forty-eight states which votes a majority against the president's acts and policies.

Sixty-one per cent of the 1,508,861 votes now tallied express approval of Roosevelt's program. The vote so far is 920,357 for the new deal to 588,504 against it.

An "Analysis of How Voters in This Poll Voted in 1932 and How They Vote Now" reveals that Roosevelt still holds 4 out of 5 of his former adherents and gains more than 1 out of every 3 Hoover voters to his support, which gives Roosevelt a net gain of 5.68 per cent from the forty-eight states as whole.

A comparison of the current returns with the previous week's tally shows that the President's majority in the poll has been reduced in the District of Columbia and in every state except Louisiana and Montana though the losses in ratio are fractional. Eleven states give the new deal a majority of 55 per cent or less.

Eighteen states and the District of Columbia show a 55 to 65 per cent affirmative vote in the poll. Twelve other states show a majority for the new deal of

Work Is Given Only To Needy

Few Projects Being Carried Out By Emergency Relief Workers

Work now being carried on by the Emergency Relief Administration in Wilkes county is by only those most needy cases who have no means of support and who have been investigated by case workers of the relief office.

In most cases the workers are those to whom food and clothing have been advanced and they are now paying by work on projects, many of which were left incomplete at the time the CWA was exhausted.

Funds appropriated by state authorities for such work in Wilkes are strictly limited and no one is assigned to a job until the case worker has reported that he must have a certain amount to sustain life and purchase clothing.

On a few of the projects skilled workers are employed as supervisors. Whenever possibly the relief authorities select people on the relief list for these jobs and if no one can be found on the relief list who is qualified for the work the most needy person with the proper training is selected.

Containing the policy of equipping its officers' quarters with modern conveniences, the War Department has awarded a contract to the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company through its Washington, D. C. office for 1367 electric refrigerators, according to Wilkes Electric Co., local Westinghouse dealer.

"These refrigerators, of six and nine cubic foot sizes, will be installed in thirty Army Posts extending from the Atlantic to the Pacific coast and from the Canadian border to the Mexican boundary," Mr. Day explained, in his announcement of the large government order.

"Models selected by the government officials were of the 'C' line, recently announced by the Westinghouse Company. Cost Of School Books Reduced

Books Recently Adopted Will Cost Less Than Last Year's Texts

Raleigh, June 29.—School children purchasing textbooks for next year in social science studies will pay considerably less than they did last year as a result of the recent new adoptions of these books by the State Board of Education, State Superintendent A. T. Allen, secretary of the board, said today.

A total net reduction of $2.18 was made in the retail price by the adoption of 11 new history, civics, economics and sociology textbooks. Reduction in price was made in the case of nine books, no change in price was made in one and in the books adopted there was an increase of one cent.

The texts changed, with the old and new retail prices in each instance follow: Fifth-grade history, 65 cents and 65 cents; sixth-grade history, 95 cents and 60 cents; seventh-grade history, $1.05 and $1; citizenship, average, $1.40, new, 98 cents; world history, $1.95 and $1.47; ancient history, $1.72 and $1.63; American history, $1.72 and $1.35; modern history, $1.92 and $1.73; economics, $3.45 and $3.31; sociology, $3.44 and $3.33; American democracy, $1.44 and $1.21. In the case of the high school books the old price is the average of those books which were approved and on the state multiple list.

In addition to the reductions, made effective by new contracts, the state board entered into renewal contracts for the subjects of reading, spelling and Americanism, and by these renewal contracts made further reduction of eight cents in the price which the child will pay for such books. The seventh-grade reader was reduced from 74 cents to 67 cents and "Our Dual Government," the text in Americanism, from 90 cents to 80 cents, a total of eight cents.

The state board is now engaged in making indefinite renewal contracts in other high school fields, and substantial price reductions are already in many of the books now listed and adopted by the several county boards of education.

School Funds Allotments Will Be Made Next Week

Raleigh, June 27.—The state school commission will likely hold a meeting here late next week to allot money for operation of the various school plants during the 1934-35 season, Leroy Martin, secretary, announced today.

Last year $925,000 was allotted for operation, but indications are that a larger amount will be required for next year due principally to the increase in cost of fuel, Mr. Martin stated. Items included in operation cost are: Fuel, number and wages of janitors, supplies for janitors, and water, light and power. The peak cost for such operation was about $1,400,000 several years ago, Mr. Martin said. Date for the meeting will be announced later.

Child Welfare Survey Will Be Completed Within Short Time

Miss Stafford Urges Greater Response From People of County

Miss Lillian Stafford, who is canvasser for the American Legion and Auxiliary child welfare survey, today issued a statement urging greater cooperation and aid in locating crippled and handicapped children. She points out that it is very important that a census be made of all physically handicapped children in order that steps may be taken for treatment. Miss Stafford's statement follows: "Only a short time remains in which to make the Child Survey of this county. So far the response has been far short of what it should be, and we are anxious that the survey be made as complete as possible in the time yet remaining."

"This survey is really one of the most important things to be started in recent years, so far as Child Welfare is concerned, and surely if the people would take time to think about it they would realize its importance. Having a child registered now may mean a lot to it in later years."
