

Permanent Source of Credit Called To Attention of Farmers in Wilkes

To a good many farmers the idea of credit is obnoxious and the cause of credit is not sought for economical purposes. A farmer should guard carefully against it. It would be a mighty fine situation if all farmers and every one else, for that matter were independent of credit and it is not the purpose of the Production Credit Associations organized the first of the year to solicit business. Substantial collateral is required and it is not easy to obtain a loan through this medium. For this reason farmers should put great confidence in an institution that is founded upon a firm business basis in which they make investments.

The Production Credit Associations have been set up as a permanent system of credit for the farmer and is designed to serve his credit needs in the most economical and business like manner possible. If a farmer does not need credit personally he should still be interested in a permanent system of credit for his occupation; because he never knows what turn things may take when he might need financial assistance. Any farmer, regardless of his present financial status should lend his unqualified support to any system designed to place agriculture on a permanent and equal footing with other well organized occupations. One great fallacy of the farmer is, he has been inclined to go at things single handed. He cared but little what his fellow farmer did or said. That time has passed or is passing and the time has arrived when cooperation is more or less compulsory in almost every line of endeavor whether it be in the growing of crops and livestock or in providing a safe, sane and feasible plan of credit.

Let us confine these remarks to our own section, the South, since we know conditions here better than elsewhere. It used to be that the local banks could supply the credit needs of farmers adequately, but with the rise of industry in the southland the banks have been called upon heavily to aid other lines of industry almost exclusively and rightfully so. Manufacturing in normal times at least has quick turnovers and short time credit for it is suitable. On the other hand it takes twelve months in the year to grow, harvest and market a crop and a longer period than that to grow livestock for the market. The dairyman and poultryman it is true can use shorter periods of credit where they market their product daily or monthly. Due to lack of credit facilities the farmer of the South has often been compelled to pay extortionate time prices in the spring and fall for his fertilizers, seeds and feed stuffs which were used for production purposes. When he harvested his crops he was compelled to sell, not when the market was most favorable, but when his creditor said to, and as a result the farmer as a class has had his nose to the grind stone all the time.

With the advent of the Production Credit Associations this year this unwholesome situation has been more or less eliminated and the farmer has at his command at all times of the year a splendid system of credit where he can obtain money for production purposes at the exceedingly low interest rate of five percent. The stock which the borrower takes out in the Association when obtaining a loan should not be considered as an expense but an investment. The farmer in this way will eventually become the source of his own credit.

Farmers throughout the counties of Wilkes, Caldwell, Yadkin, Surry, Alleghany, Ashe and Watauga should remember that they can place their applications for loan at any time during the year with the Secretary-Treasurer of the Wilkesboro Production Credit Association, Box 231, Wilkesboro, North Carolina. Provisions have been made in each county usually at the county agents office, for taking applications. Applicants, therefore, should get in touch with their county agents or with those persons in authority in each county, or write the secretary-treasurer for information. The Wilkesboro Association has done quite a volume of business thus far this year in spite of unavoidable handicaps and is prepared to serve the farmer in a prompt and efficient manner. In addition to regular loans, the Association will also make loans to 4-H Clubs and vocational Agricultural Students in each county. These loans will be made in group form and information can be obtained from the secretary-treasurer as to the manner of application. The 4-H Clubs should get in touch with him at once if interested. The following directors are serving the association in a very efficient and creditable manner: Paul J. Vestal, president, Moravian Falls; W. H. Hardy, vice president, Siloam; N. J. Martin, Elkin; R. E. Hawthorne, Sparta; Fred N. Colvard, Jefferson; H. Grady Farthing, Boone; Geo. E. Poovey, Granite Falls; A. B. Hobson, Booneville; J. W. Brandon, Yadkinville.

Very truly,
T. W. FERGUSON,
Secretary-Treasurer, Wilkesboro Production Credit Association, Wilkesboro, North Carolina.

Three Point Program For Hosiery Industry Rejected At Hearing

Washington, July 9.—Limitations on mill operations, increases in wages, and a shorter work week proposed for the hosiery industry by its code authority, were today abandoned during a spirited hearing before the national recovery administration. Withdrawal of the three-point program was decided upon by the authority during a hurried conference with members of the industry, following a survey of the manufacturers, in which it was found that sentiment for the drastic changes on the whole was lacking.

Earl Constantine, New York city, executive director of the code authority, who sponsored the revisions for the authority, announced, however, that the plan would again be submitted to the administration following another canvass of the industry.

Federal Pay Increase Delayed

Washington, July 8.—Hopes of federal employees for immediate restoration of the last third of their 15 per cent pay cut, were blasted today when President Roosevelt issued an executive order, postponing the restoration for six months.

The Chief Executive based his action on a survey of living costs which, the order pointed out, are 20.2 per cent less than during the 1928 peak.

The original 15 per cent pay cut was ordered last year. Five per cent of this amount was restored on Feb. 1, 1934 and 5 per cent more on July 1.

The thousands of employees affected had hoped the remaining 5 per cent would be reinstated at once.

Figures given the President by labor department's bureau of labor statistics showed that the cost of living during the six months ended June 30 still was approximately 20 per cent less than the costs during the corresponding period of 1928.

Language of the economy act prevents the President from making further restorations of the pay cut until living costs more nearly approximate those of 1928, used as a base period.

One-third of the original 15 per cent cut was restored on Feb. 1, 1934, by congressional action. The same legislation specified that another third be restored on July 1, and the remaining five per cent cut was left to be restored at the President's discretion, after studying figures of comparative living costs.

Would Clean Up Movies

New York, July 9.—Priests, ministers and rabbis—two of each—joined hands today in a pledge to force Hollywood to turn its attention from sex.

The hip-weaving "C'm-up-'n'-see-me" damsels of the screen world received a body blow at the meeting, which brought to a head the drive against indecent movies and promised similar campaigns against burlesque and taxi dance halls.

Dives To Death

Morganton, July 9.—When the suction of water flowing out through a valve held him in the depths of the Valdese swimming pool, little Johnny Micol, 14-year-old son of Emanuel Micol, Waldensian dairyman, was drowned this morning, and his body which had been drawn partially into the outlet was recovered only after dynamite blasts broke the concrete and earthen dam to drain the pool.

Pension Board Meeting

Wilkes county pension board will meet Monday, ten o'clock, at the office of Wm. A. Stroud, clerk of court. Anyone having business to attend to before the board is asked to take note of the meeting.

"Why do you weep over the sorrows of people in whom you have no interest when you go to the theatre?" asked the man.

"I don't know," replied the woman. "Why do you cheer wildly when a man with whom you are not acquainted slides in to second base?"
