Mrs. Joe McCoy Is Hostess To S. S. Class

The Woman's Bible class of the North Wilkesboro Presbyterian church held a business and social meeting on Tuesday evening with Mrs. Joe McCoy at her home in the Hotel Wilkes and was attended by twelve members. The main item of business was the election of new officers for the class and they are as follows: President, Mrs. Joe McCoy; vice president, Mrs. Bryan Higgins; secretary and treasurer, Mrs. Glenn McNeil; teacher, Mrs. C. S. Stewart; Mrs. M. A. Vickery, assistant teacher. As a project for the year the members of class are planning to read the Bible through, Mrs. McCoy giving them a systematic guide for reading.

At the close of the evening the hostess, assisted by Miss Norma Stevenson and Mrs. Gordon Finley, served delightful refreshments.

Mrs. F. A. Jones Feted At Birthday Dinner

Mrs. F. A. Jones, of Clemmons, celebrated her seventieth birthday anniversary here Sunday at the home of her son, Mr. W. E. Jones. A buffet dinner was served at one o'clock. The home throughout was attractively decorated in dahlias and other fall flowers and centerpiece for the dining room table was a huge three tiered white birthday cake decorated in white candles. Around thirty-five guests, mostly from out of town, were present to enjoy the occasion with the honoree, who was remembered with a number of nice gifts.

Mrs. Watson Brame Feted At Dinner-Bridge Tuesday

An outstanding social event for the week was the lovely dinner-bridge given by Mrs. James O'Daniel and Mrs. Shelton Brewer on Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. O'Daniel to honor Mrs. Watson Brame, a popular bride of the late summer. The Hallowe'en colors, orange and black, were carried out in detail in the decorations. The guests found their positions at eight tables marked with Hallowe'en place cards and following the two course dinner, which was served at seven o'clock, bridge was in play for sometime. Lighted Jack-o-Lanterns centered each table while orange flowers in black bowls were placed throughout the rooms.

The high score award in the bridge competition was won by Mrs. Jimmie Anderson and the travelers prize was held by Mrs. George Forester. The honoree, who prior to her nuptials was Miss Lina Forester of this city, was remembered with a beautiful gift by Mrs. Brewer and Mrs. O'Daniel.

Intermediate S. S. Class Held Social Meeting Friday

Hosts for the monthly meeting of the Intermediate Sunday school class of the Wilkesboro Methodist church were Albert Garwood and Russell Gray at the Garwood home on Friday evening. Annie Laurie Hulcher presided for the business session at which time new officers were elected as follows: President, Iva Faw; vice president, Albert Garwood; secretary, Lucille Culler. Light refreshments were served during a pleasant social hour.

Mrs. T. B. Finley D. A. R. Hostess Tuesday

Mrs. T. B. Finley was hostess to the members of the Rendezvous chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution on Tuesday afternoon at her home on E Street with a full attendance of members with the exception of one. Mrs. W. C. Grier, the regent, occupied the chair for the business session at which time a number of important matters came up for discussion since this was the first meeting after a summer's recess.

An excellent program given by Miss Lucy Finley followed the business session. Miss Finley chose for her topic, Alexander Hamilton, the Financier of the Revolution. To close the afternoon the hostess, with the assistance of her two daughters, Mrs. L. M. Nelson and Miss Elizabeth Finley, served tempting refreshments during an enjoyable social hour.

Grade Teachers, Mothers Met With Mrs. Hubbard

Mrs. J. C. Hubbard, president of the Wilkesboro Parent-Teacher Association, held a meeting at her home Tuesday afternoon of the grammar grade teachers and grade mothers for the purpose of making plans for a membership drive in the association. Meeting with them were the members of the membership committee, Mrs. J. M. Bumgarner, Mrs. William Barber and Mrs. Lytle Howell. The drive as planned started yesterday. Following the meeting Mrs. Hubbard served tea and wafers.

Saint Cecilia Juveniles In Delightful Meeting

The St. Cecilia Juveniles, junior music pupils of Mrs. R. E. Prevette, met with Mary Barber Friday afternoon at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Barber.

Piano numbers were played by Nell Hubbard, Barbara Ogilvie, Frances Crawford, Edna Garwood, Mary Louise Clements, Mary Gage Barber, Virginia McDuffie, Mozelle Beeson, Ray Stroud, Russel Pearson and Mary Parker Kelly. Mrs. Prevette told the story of the life of Robert Schumann, Peggy Church sang "Mighty Lak a Rose" and Emily McCoy gave a humorous reading.

Mrs. Barber delighted the club with an interesting Hallowe'en story, and little Betsy Barber, just four years old, sweetly sang "The Old Spinning Wheel." All the members then joined in singing their "Music Club Song."

At the conclusion of the program Mrs. Barber served delicious refreshments, assisted by her niece, Miss Mary Anna Moore, of Lenoir. Dainty favors in the Hallowe'en motif were presented to the children.

The November meeting will be held with Nell Hubbard.

Funeral Services For David Kinyoun

Held At Oak Forest Thursday; Other News of Dellaplane Community

ROARING RIVER, Route 2 October 22.—Many attended the sad funeral of David Kinyoun, 15-year-old grandson of Mrs. W. J. Kinyoun, at Oak Forest last Thursday morning. The funeral was conducted by Revs. A. T. Pardue and Noah T. Jarvis, both old friends of the family and former pastors of the church, who made very appropriate and comforting talks. Two school buses of pupils and teachers of the Roaring River school, of which David was a bright and popular student, attended. Pallbearers were Gray Harris, Enoch Staley and two other boy friends near the age of the deceased. Unusually lovely autumn and hot house flowers were borne by the eighth grade girls of David's class. He is survived by his grandmother, with whom he had always made his home, and numerous other relatives. David was said to have been an exceptionally good boy and his passing brought tears of silent grief to his many familiar associates of all ages in the Dellaplane community.

Miss Merle Kinyoun, trained nurse of Philadelphia; Mr. and Mrs. Tom Grubb; Mr. and Mrs. Billy Kinyoun; Mrs. Hugh Kinyoun, and others, of Winston-Salem, were called here last week on account of the death and funeral of David Kinyoun.

Many prominent Democrats from Antioch and Edwards townships heard Hon. Clyde R. Hoey speak at the courthouse Saturday afternoon.

The revival at Oak Forest was postponed at least until November, because everybody was busy with fall work and because the church has not yet been repaired and renovated according to plans underway for a year or two. The alternations and repairs have not been completed because everybody was busy with autumn harvesting of crops and because the lumber is not cured.

Mr. Chris Call, popular licensed preacher and religious worker of Wilkesboro, Route 2, was very ill recently with severe cold and complications.

Mr. H. E. Parks, of Roaring River, rural letter carrier on this route and prominent Democrat, attended the speaking at Wilkesboro Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Laura Linney spent Saturday with her sister, Mrs. N. T. Jarvis, of the Cranberry vicinity, who has not been so well recently, as the pellegra from which she has apparently suffered for many years, seemed to be affecting her hands very badly.

Robert M. Brame, Jr., chairman of the county board of elections, in a recent issue of the county papers, nonchalantly bade us in Antioch township to leave off voting at Cranberry and henceforth vote at Oak Grove. His behest is a little difficult to follow, since voting has been done at Antioch since Revolutionary days and never at Cranberry, and there is no Oak Grove in Antioch, but one obligingly nearby in Yadkin. It is presumed, however, that he meant Oak Forest, at Dellaplane, and registration books were open there the past two Saturdays and will be next Saturday, Oct. 27. Change of the voting place upsets history and tradition. Musters and voting were located at Antioch since 1776; a muster field and Revolutionary camp are said to have been near there; a headless horseman, like that of Sleepy Hollow, is said by superstitious colored people to sweep along the road on a dappled steed. Near there lived "Aunt Milly" Martin Cleveland, niece-in-law of Col. Ben and Capt. Bob and most loquacious of women, who has not been outspoken, even by her descendants and relatives (of whom, as will occasion no surprise, the correspondent is one). At the polls Aunt Milly's daughter, Diana Cleveland Staley, used to sell ginger cakes and hard cider—and imbibe it, too—long before suffragettes were heard of. In 1937 Antioch church was planted there, and, because of rough weather, many elections have been held inside its portals. "The old order changeth," but it is not so far to walk to Oak Forest!

Miss Minnie Sue Jarvis, student nurse at the Davis Hospital, Statesville, spent Sunday in the Cranberry neighborhood with her parents, Rev. and Mrs. N. T. Jarvis.

Many in this locality, including the correspondent, have been suffering with colds, tonsillitis and hay fever.

There is talk of changing the preaching date at Oak Forest from the second Sunday to the third, as it was many years ago. This would be a good idea, since services at Cranberry are also held on the second Sunday.

Mrs. B. R. Underwood, Wilkes County Democratic vice chairman, has appointed Miss Ruth Linney vice chairman for Antioch precinct.

"BARRETS OF WIMPOLE STREET," OUTSTANDING HIT

Fredric March, Charles Laughton and Norma Shearer in "The Barrets of Wimpole Street"

If you wish to see what will undoubtedly be chosen one of the ten best pictures of the year, hurry to the Liberty Theatre, Thursday or Friday and relax in the lavender and old lace of "The Barrets of Wimpole Street," Norma Shearer's new starring picture.

The cast includes some of the greatest names in films, headed by the three winners of the Motion Picture Academy Award: Norma Shearer, Fredric March and Charles Laughton. The romance teams beautiful presentation of an idyllic love story is all the more accentuated by the diabolical character Charles Laughton makes of the older Barrett.

On the same program an old famous comic Irvin S. Cobb appears in his first comedy entitled "Speaking of Relations" will be seen and promises to be the best thing in the comedy line to appear on the screen to date.

of Oak Forest, has promised to serve another church on the second Sunday, according to announcements.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim P. Jarvis and three children, of Winston-Salem, visited Rev. and Mrs. N. T. Jarvis the past week-end.

Many citizens in this community have dug more than a hundred bushels of fine sweet potatoes within the past few days.

Rev. Noah T. Jarvis, of the Cranberry community, recently resigned the care of Union Baptist church, near Cycle, of which he had been pastor for a great many years.

Rev. and Mrs. N. T. Jarvis spent last Saturday morning in the Wilkesboro shopping and consulting doctors. Rev. Mr. Jarvis also visited Mrs. Pearl Shore, who had suffered a paralytic stroke, near Union, Saturday and preached at Pleasant Grove, on Saturday and Sunday.

One Craven county farmer was allowed by the County Committee to take part in the adjustment program this year after destroying 25 acres of excess cotton and 1.7 acres of tobacco.
