

Elkin Resident Takes Own Life

Fred Colhard, Insurance Agent, Fires Rifle Bullet Into His Brain

Elkin, Dec. 4.—Firing a ball from a .32 rifle into his temple as he sat in his automobile last evening, while out collecting premiums on insurance policies carried with his company, Fred Colhard, 40, prominent insurance man and former Elkin department store operator, ended his life. The suicidal act is thought to have been committed about 6:30 o'clock in the evening but the body sitting behind the steering wheel on a side road just off highway 31 north of Elkin, was not discovered until early this morning when children on their way to North Elkin school passed the scene. Although a clear case of suicide since the rifle, borrowed yesterday afternoon for the stated purpose of killing a cat, rested in the lap of the dead man and his hand was still clutching the trigger, a coroner's inquest was held. A note found in the pocket of his coat addressed to his wife gave business disappointments as the cause of the act.

He was an active member of the Methodist church and was secretary of the Elkin Masonic lodge. He was a native of Bedford, Va., and resided in Winston-Salem for a time before locating in Elkin.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Elton Marshall Colhard; two sons and one daughter, Fred Colhard, Jr., Miss Dorothy Colhard, now in high school, and Charles Marshall Colhard, and his foster parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Thurman, all of this city.

FEDERAL INSURANCE FOR PRIVATE LOANS BEING GIVEN STUDY

Washington, Nov. 25.—Broad scale government insurance of private loans was proposed today in a memorandum drawn up for study by administration economic advisers.

The memorandum suggested that the principles back of the housing program might be used to good effect in encouraging re-employment through stimulating private credit in many other lines of endeavor.

Specifically, however, it proposed that an agency, similar in many respects to the housing administration, be set up to insure loans to industry for plant modernization.

For such loans, it suggested that character be emphasized rather than a rigid adherence to collateral requirements. It was argued that if men were good managers and able to put funds to work honestly and economically, they deserved capital purely on economic grounds regardless of the paper they might have in their safe deposit boxes.
