Miss Annie Taylor And Mr. G. H. Proffit Married

In a ceremony characterized by dignity and simplicity, George Hamilton Proffit and Miss Annie Taylor were married Sunday afternoon at four o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Taylor, at Harley, Wilkes county. The bride's uncle, Rev. Seymour Taylor, pastor of the Methodist church of Wilkesboro, officiated using the ring service. Little Miss Sarah Catherine Stokes, niece of the bride, bearing the ring. The bride and groom, at an improvised altar in the living room, spoke the vows in the presence of a few close relatives.

Mrs. Proffit is well known in educational circles of Wilkes, Mecklenburg, Rutherford and Caldwell counties where she has taught. Mr. Proffit, a native of Wilkes, is a merchant of Evans-ton, Wyoming.

After a short wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Proffit will go to Wyoming where they will reside.

Miss Sylvia Warren And J. Phil Michael Wed

Saturday morning at 10:00 o'clock at Wilkesboro, Miss Sylvia Edna Warren and J. Phil Michael were united in marriage in a service of simplicity and beauty by Rev. A. M. Church, pastor of the bride.

The bride was attired in a green wool tailored dress with brown accessories. Mrs. Michael is the only daughter of Mrs. J. H. Warren and the late J. H. Warren of Roaring River, and is a graduate of Mountain View Institute and Kings Business College, Greensboro. Mr. Michael is the son of the late Mrs. and Mrs. W. Michael, of Thomasville, and is connected with the Roaring River Veneer Corporation.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael are at home with the brides mother.

N. W. Methodist Auxiliary Met Tuesday Afternoon

With the vice president, Mrs. W. P. Horton, in the chair the December meeting of the North Wilkesboro Methodist Auxiliary was held Tuesday afternoon in the Ladies Parlor of the church. During the business session the ## usual reports were heard.

The meeting opened with all singing "Come Thou Almighty King" after which Mrs. J. C. Smoot led in prayer. Mrs. J. C. Reins gave two interesting articles from the Missionary Bulletin. The scripture lesson was read by Miss Mamie Sockwell and comments on the program were given by Mrs. Horton. The attendance award for the afternoon went to Circle No. 1. The meeting was attended by twenty members.

Junior Woman's Club In Meeting Monday Afternoon

The December meeting of the Junior Woman's club of North Wilkesboro was held on Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. T. Lott on Memorial Avenue with Mrs. Max Barker joining as hostess with her. Due to the absence of the president, the vice president, Mrs. Frank Eller, presided for the business session.

A number of business matters came up for discussion among which were making plans for a Christmas dance and a food sale. The club will sponsor a food sale on Saturday morning between the hours of ten to 12:30 at the Wilkes Drug Store. Six new members were present. Sandwiches, coffee and mints were served during the social hour by Mrs. Lott and Mrs. Barker.

Miss Mable Hardy Is Wed To Jay Hartley

The marriage of Miss Mable Hardy, of Boone, and Jay Hartley of Wilkesboro, was solemnized at ten o'clock on Thursday morning, November 29, at the North Wilkesboro Baptist parsonage with Rev. Eugene Olive officiating. The young couple was unattended.

For her nuptials the bride wore a brown wool swagger suit with all accessories in brown. Mrs. Hartley is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Hardy, of Boone, and received her education there at the Appalachian State Teachers College.

Mr. Hartley is a son of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Hartley, of Wilkesboro, and holds a position with the North Wilkesboro Ice and Fuel Company as bookkeeper. He attended the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

Immediately following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Hartley left for a short wedding trip and are now at home at the Call Hotel.

Presbyterian Circles Held Splendid Meetings Tuesday

The monthly meetings of the North Wilkesboro Presbyterian circles were held Tuesday, with Circles No. 1 and No. 2 meeting at night and the other two in the afternoon. Mrs. T. A. Finley as visiting secretary met with each circle and presented her cause on Christian Education and Ministerial Relief. To close each of the meetings delightful refreshments were served by the various hostesses.

Circle No. 1 was entertained by Misses Grace and Lucy Finley with an attendance of eight members and three visitors. Mrs. D. J. Carter, chairman, was in charge and the Bible study was taught by Mrs. E. G. Finley. Miss Lucy Finley sang a solo.

Circle No. 2 had in attendance nine members. Mrs. Gordon Forester presided for the business session and the Bible study was given by Miss Janie McDiarmid.

Hostess for Circle No. 3 was Mrs. R. W. Gwyn and presiding at the meeting was Mrs. C. C. Faw, the chairman. The Bible study was led by Mrs. E. G. Finley. Eight members, with one visitor, Mrs. S. P. Mitchell, president of the Auxiliary were present.

With Mrs. A. A. Cashion in charge, Circle No. 4 met at the home of Mrs. C. D. Coffey, Jr., and was attended by nine members. Mrs. Archie Oglivie taught the Bible study.

Society Met With Mrs. Somers and Mrs. Sherman

Mrs. C. H. Somers and Mrs. A. R. Sherman combined hospitality to the members of the Wilkesboro Methodist Missionary Society at the home of Mrs. Somers on Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. C. H. Hulcher, the president, occupied the chair for the business session, the regular routine of business being transacted.

Program leader for the afternoon was Mrs. Hugh Cranor and Christmas stories were given by Mrs. J. B. Henderson and Miss Kiter Bower. Mrs. B. S. Call offered the closing prayer.

A pleasant social hour followed the meeting at which time tempting refreshments were served by Mrs. Somers and Mrs. Sherman.

Fidella Class Met Monday Evening

Mrs. Chal McNeil and Mrs. C. B. Eller joined as hostess to the members of the Fidella class, of the First Baptist church, at the home of Mrs. McNeil on Monday evening and had in attendance fourteen members. For the business part of the meeting Mrs. McNeil occupied the president's chair at which time the regular reports were heard and officers for another year were elected.

The officers are, President, Mrs. Chal McNeil; first vice president, Mrs. Frank Tomlinson; second vice president, Mrs. Nell Hendren; third vice president, Miss Emma Eller; secretary and treasurer, Mrs. D. T. Belsh; assistant secretary treasurer, Miss Gladys Lomar; teacher, Mrs. C. B. Eller; assistant teacher, Mrs. Ray Barnes.

For the devotional, Louis Hill Jenkins, small son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Jenkins, gave in a fine way a Christmas story, "A Child Is Born Today." During the social hour Mrs. Frank Tomlinson directed an entertaining contest with Mrs. Rufus Church proving to be the winner.

To close the evening the hostesses served tempting refreshments. Mrs. S. B. Moore was a visitor of the class.

Miss Beatrice Godfrey Is Hostess To Sewing Club

The members of the Priscilla Sewing club were entertained on Friday evening by Miss Beatrice Godfrey at her home in Wilkesboro with twelve of the members being present. A period of sewing and conversation was followed by delicious refreshments consisting of a salad and sweet course. Two visitors of the club were Miss Alene Godfrey, sister of the hostess, and Miss Irene Reeves, of Sparta, who was a guest of Miss Joyce Wellborn.

Miss Blanche Ferguson Is Hostess To U. D. C.

Miss Blanche Ferguson was hostess to the members of the U. D. C. on Monday afternoon at the home of her sister, Mrs. J. R. Hix. Mrs. W. W. Barber, Sr., opened the meeting by leading the devotionals after which all joined in singing "Carolina." During the business session which was presided over by the president, Mrs. Floyd Jennings, the minutes were read and different committee reports were made. It was reported that twenty-one quarts of jams and jellies had been sent to the Confederate Womans Home at Fayetteville by the chapter. At the meeting plans were made to send Christmas baskets to the veterans in the county.

A program of much interest was given as follows, Christmas in Ante-Bellum days by Mrs. B. R. Underwood; Christmas Thoughts, by Mrs. J. R. Finley; two vocal solos, Pale Moon, and Lilac Tree, was given by Miss Ellen Robinson, and a poem, Let Us Smile, by Mrs. Jennings closed the program.

Midget Charges That Man Jilted Her; Wants $100,000

New York, Nov. 26.—One of the smallest of the Chicago fair midgets brought a full-sized $100,000 heart balm action into the Supreme court today against a New York restaurant man who is five feet eight inches tall and weighs 150 pounds.

The fair Lilliputian, Miss Anne Sutton, who exhibited herself at Chicago last summer, gave her specifications in the complaint as:

Weight, 55 pounds; height, three feet three inches.

Defendant in the action is Andrew Murphy, Jr., identified as proprietor of Andy Murphy's bar and grill, which is located on Eighth avenue in the center of New York's "Little Lilliputia."

Murphy courted her assiduously, said Miss Sutton; took her out four and five times a week; urged her to break with other suitors; begged her to marry him.

"It's all bunk," said Murphy. "I met the girl here in the place, but I never went out with her."

Not To Parole Banker
Raleigh, Dec. 3.—Governor Ehringhaus today announced that he will not now parole Wallace B. Davis, Asheville banker who was president of the Central Bank and Trust company, largest institution that had failed up to its time, four years ago, December 16.

Negro Entertainers To Appear In City

"Spiritualistic" Singers To Be Under Program At School On Friday Night

The program to be featured by a group of colored singers and entertainers from Roanoke, Va., at the city school auditorium on Friday night of this week has been widely hailed as an outstanding success in Virginia and North Carolina.

The program is designed to entertain and does not fall short of its purpose throughout the performance. There are eight singers, dancers and musicians in the group and each one is well trained for the part he sings or plays.

Their appearance tomorrow night in the school auditorium will be under the auspices of the athletic association, which will share in the profits from the and 25 cent admissions. The program will start at 7:30 and it is earnestly desired by the sponsors of the occasion that the public avail themselves of this opportunity to hear one of the best programs of the year.

With the Spiritualistic Quartet tomorrow night will be the Smith Brothers, who have become noted radio entertainers. The program of singing, music and tap dancing will last for one hour and twenty minutes. These entertainers were the feature on a program of a public concert at the Academy of Music in Roanoke.
