To Explain the Townsend Plan

W. B. Fisher Will Discuss Old Age Pension Plan At Wilkesboro April 1

W. B. Fisher, of Andrews, a state manager for the Townsend old age pension plan, will explain that measure to all who wish to attend a meeting to be held at the courthouse in Wilkesboro on Monday, April 1, at 7:30 p. m.

The Townsend old age pension plan is one of the most discussed measures of the current news and is now before congress.

Along with the announcement of the meeting Mr. Fisher made the following comment on progress of the measure: "About 35,000,000 voters have already signed and sent in petitions, but more of these are needed. All voters are invited to sign petitions. Opportunity will be afforded without charge to all who wish to sign. The bill provides that the government pay to all citizens of the United States, man or woman over 60 years of age, $200 per month the rest of their lives upon two conditions, viz: Job if any given up to the younger unemployed; and to spend the entire amount of the Pension every 30 days. This may sound too good to be true, but do not make up your mind until you have heard the bill explained. I would like for all citizens, men and women, in the county to become familiar with this pension and business recovery plan. Meet me at the court house on above date."

The Chatham Blanketeers, offering one of the fastest amateur teams in the state, hope to amass another great record for this season and to get under way at the expense of their Collegiate rivals.

St. Cecilia Junior Music Club In Monthly Meeting

Russel Pearson was host Thursday afternoon to the members of the St. Cecilia Junior Music Club in their regular monthly meeting. The vice president, Peggy Church, presided for the business session, at which time two new members were received into the club, and delegates were named to represent the club at the state convention of Junior Music clubs in Winston-Salem, April 6th.

The life of Bach was the topic of study for the afternoon, the day being the 250th anniversary of his birth. Interesting sketches of the great composer were presented by Mary Parker Kelley and Flake Steelman. Piano numbers were played by Wilhelmina Weatherman, Peggy Church, Russel Pearson, Ray Stroud, Nellie Gabriel, Ruth Joines, Edna Garwood, Frances Crawford, Mary Gage Barber and Barbara Ogilvie. Vocal selections were given by Miss Violet Erickson and M. G. Edwards, who were guests of the club. They were accompanied by Mrs. Prevette.

At the conclusion of the program the members were invited into the dining room where Mrs. Pearson and daughter, Miss Beatrice, served tempting refreshments.

The club will meet with Ray Stroud in April.

He Paid Up

They were holding a church fair. A young man who had the reputation of being "near" strolled around the stalls.

A pretty saleswoman approached him.

"Won't you buy a cigarette holder?" she asked.

"No thank you, I don't smoke," was the curt reply.

"Or a box of candy?" she asked.

"I never eat sweets."

"Then a pretty pen wiper?" she persisted.

"I don't write."

The young woman's patience was exhausted.

"Look here," she demanded. "Will you buy a box of soap?"

The young man paid up.

Advertisement Of Carolinas To Appear Soon

Joining with scores of other Carolina newspapers the Journal-Patriot will shortly publish an advertisement prepared by The Carolinas, Inc., with a view of arousing Carolinians to a greater knowledge and appreciation of their states and stimulate development of means of carrying the Carolina message to the world.

This space will be contributed by this newspaper in furtherance of the aims of The Carolinas, Inc., a non-profit, non-promotional group of citizens of North and South Carolina interested in advertising the scenic, historical, recreational, agricultural and economic advantage of the Carolinas.

Plans for the program in Carolina newspapers were outlined to the North Carolina Press association last summer and at its most recent meeting and the endorsement of D. Hiden Ramsey, of Asheville, president, and the Press Association. Nearly three-fourths of the approximately two hundred daily and weekly newspapers in North Carolina have agreed to participate in the program.

The Carolinas, Inc., was formed last spring. J. E. L. Wade, Commissioner of Public Works, of Wilmington, is President of the organization which is offered and directed by outstanding Carolinians who serve without pay. At a recent meeting in Charlotte the board of directors mapped out a far reaching program. Included in its numerous recommendations was enthusiastic endorsement of plans for the federal government to develop large recreational parks and turn them over to the state, provided adequate acreage is made available, and state planning boards were urged to use PWA funds in developing smaller wayside parks where motorists may break their journeys for rest or food.

Life is not so short, but there is always time enough for courtesy.
