RUMORS DENIED Grand Rapids, Mich., Sept. 30.—Speaking to the Democratic state convention here tonight, Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes said that "if rumors in Washington are to be credited former President Hoover has offered the 1940 Republican presidential nomination to Senator Josiah W. Bailey (D), North Carolina. CHAMBERLAIN HAILED London, Sept. 30.—Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain tonight delivered to his people the Munich agreement for dismemberment of Czechoslovakia and his sealed and solemn pledge with Adolf Hitler that Great Britain and Germany "never will go to war with one another again." The Anglo-German pact of peace, described by Chamberlain as the prelude to a lasting settlement "in which all of Europe may find peace" came like a bombshell. It heightened the hysteria of crowds rejoicing in the streets over the 11th hour success of Europe's four major powers — Britain, France, Germany and Italy — in averting war because of the German-Czech crisis.

LEAGUE'S TONE SOFT Geneva, Sept. 30.—The League of Nations closed its fall sessions tonight with definite overtures toward Germany. The council also decided to send to Berlin and other capitals without representatives at Geneva copies of an assembly resolution calling for closer co-operation between the league and nonmember nations. The league at the same time softened its tone toward Japan, another of the major powers which have abandoned Geneva.

Members Election Board Named For Davidson County

The state board of elections today appointed C. L. Harris, of Thomasville, and M. L. Craven, of Welcome, to the Davidson county board of elections. Their appointment fills vacancies created last Wednesday by the ousting of T. David Sink and Ford Myers, of Lexington. Sink and Myers were put out of office by the state board because of alleged "unfair practices" and "intense partisanship." Their dismissal climaxed the bitterly contested eighth district congressional race between W. O. Burgin, of Lexington, and C. B. Deane, of Rockingham. Refused to Certify Returns Sink and Myers refused to certify returns that would deduct approximately 150 votes from the Davidson total computed for Burgin. The three-man board was ordered by the state board to certify the returns as amended by the state group. The amended returns, if certified by the new Davidson board, will make Deane eighth district congressman. Old returns give the primary victory to Burgin. The board announced today it would send written recommendations to the new Davidson board concerning the returns.

Ashe Resident, 93 Years Old Gets Baptized

West Jefferson, Sept. 30.—Rev. R. G. Stafford, pastor of the Jefferson Methodist charge, probably holds the record in North Carolina for having administered baptism by immersion to the oldest person. A short time ago Mrs. Rhoda Owens, 93-years-old, who lives near here in the Baldwin community, joined the Bethany Methodist church, of which Mr. Stafford is pastor, and last Sunday she was immersed during a private baptizing service at the Boone Baptist church, it was learned here today. "Aunt Rhoda" as she is familiarly known by a large number of Ashe county people, has never joined a church before. Her husband, it is stated, did not believe in attending church service and she never took any interest in church work until after her death a few years ago. The Methodist church provides that the choice of baptism is left up to the individual, and she preferred immersion.
