CUMMINGS TO QUIT

Washington, Nov. 15.—President Roosevelt announced today that Homer Stille Cummings, attorney-general during the five years of the new deal, will leave the cabinet in January to fulfill a long-standing desire to resume the private practice of law. Cummings thus becomes the first member of the cabinet to leave of his own volition. Only previous changes were occasioned by the deaths of Secretary of the Treasury William H. Woodin and Secretary of War George H. Dern.

BUILDING DEFENSES

Washington, Nov. 15.—President Roosevelt declared today that United States security depends upon adequate defense for the whole Western Hemisphere and called upon Canada and the 20 Latin American republics to join this country in a common military stand designed to strengthen and preserve democracy. Mr. Roosevelt said at his press conference that his rapidly expanding defense program, which is expected to reach a record-smashing peak in the next session of Congress, is being approached from the standpoint of continental solidarity against attack from abroad.

PANTS ARE BARRED

Hollywood, Nov. 15.—Miss Helen Hulick, a kindergarten teacher who wears evening clothes in the evening and pants in the daytime, marched into Judge Arthur Guerin's court today, looked the judge squarely in the eye and dared him to make her take off her pants. It was a show-down between Judge Guerin's campaign to keep ladies from wearing pants in court rooms and Miss Hulick's equally determined crusade to defend a lady's right to wear what she likes where she likes. Miss Hulick lost. "Young lady," said the judge, "You are in contempt of court. Five days."

TAKE JEWS' WEALTH

Berlin, Nov. 15.—Economics Minister Walther Funk tonight announced that $800,000,000 of Jewish wealth, of nearly one-third of the holdings of all German Jews, has been taken from them in the Nazi drive to eliminate Jews from the Reich's economic life. The nation's 700,000 Jews, he said, will be completely obliterated from the business world. Meanwhile Adolf Hitler's elite "S. S." stormtroop organization, angered by American indignation over the Reich's anti-Semitic drive, warned that German Jews will suffer further penalties if anti-Nazi agitation continues in the United States.

VOTE AFTER QUOTAS

Washington, Nov. 15.—J. B. Hutson, assistant AAA administrator today announced procedure for establishment of 1939 flue-cured tobacco nonquota quotas and acreage allotments. Hutson said, "the method adopted is in keeping with recommendations made by committeemen and other representatives from the flue-cured states at a two-day conference on October 24 and 25. The quota and allotment figures should be furnished to farmers prior to the referendum on December 10." The procedure provides that upon the recommendation of the community and county committee the 1938 quota for any farm may be adjusted upward or downward not more than 20 per cent.

Courts Plan To Exchange Places Beginning 21st

Federal Court to Convene In County Building; County In Federal Room

When federal court convenes in Wilkesboro on Monday, November 21, there will be a conflict between it and the term of superior court now in progress and an exchange of buildings has been arranged in order that the business of both courts may proceed.

The term of superior court which began Monday of this week with Judge J. A. Rousseau, of this city, presiding is scheduled to last for three weeks and there will be about two weeks of federal court, over which Judge Johnson J. Hayes, of Wilkesboro, will preside.

There are no cases of major interest on the civil docket now being tried in superior court and naturally the attendance is small and can be easily accommodated in the federal building.

On the other hand, the federal court has a heavy docket of about 250 cases and the federal courtroom is not large enough to seat the defendants, to say nothing of court officials, officers, jurors, witnesses and interested spectators.

Regular activity of federal alcohol tax investigators has placed many cases on the federal docket and mass raids which developed from work of a special secret agent have swelled the total number of cases to what is considered the largest docket in the history of federal court at Wilkesboro.

110 Examined In Orthopedic Clinic Held On Saturday

Many Cripples Examined In Clinic Here; May Be Made Permanent

Due to the fact that there is apparent need for an orthopedic clinic here as shown by the one held Saturday at the Wilkes hospital, the activity may be continued with clinics on regularly appointed dates. Dr. A. J. Eller, health officer, said today.

A total of 110 cases were examined in the clinic, which was held by Dr. O. R. Miller, of Charlotte, and Dr. W. M. Roberts, head surgeon at the state orthopedic hospital in Gastonia.

Of this number 45 were new cases, persons with bone malformations or other physical defects who had never been in a clinic. The others were those who have been previously treated for physical defects and who attended the clinic for a check up.

The clinic was sponsored by the North Wilkesboro Kiwanis club, which heretofore had been furnishing transportation for cripples to clinics held in Gastonia and Lenoir. The clinic Saturday was the first one held here during the past several years.

Collins Festival To Open Nov. 25

Elias Tamburitza Serenaders November 25 4 Weekly Events Are Sponsored By Civic Club

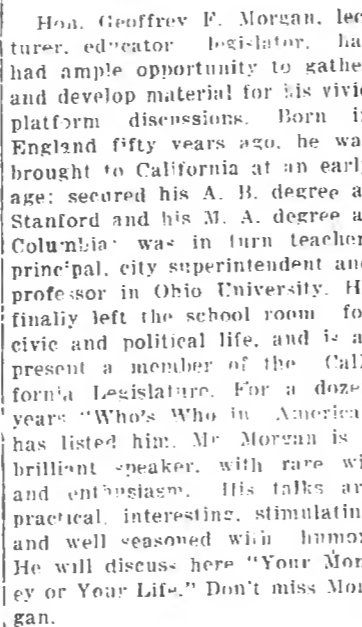

ELIAS TAMBURITZA SERENADERS.—A gay and fast-moving entertainment of Balkan music, presented by a company of five—Charles, Anna and Martha Elias, and Mary Filipovitch, all Jugo-Slavians, artists on the tamburitza, native instrument of Jugo-Slavia. The assisting artist on this program is John Ilika, tenor, radio and church singer of Chicago. From polished boots to scarlet tunics, their picturesque peasant costumes set off the unique, tuneful music of their native country. They also feature familiar, popular American selections. Piano and violin augment the various tamburitza, and Martha and Charles present a very alluring folk dance (when stage requirements permit). The quaint, haunting strains of the tamburitza highlight Mr. Ilika's tenor solos.

Loring Campbell Company December 2

Loring Campbell is more than a magician and ventriloquist; he is a great entertainer. His magic and ventriloquism are background for a grand evening of fun of all kinds. Assisting Mr. Campbell as usual, is Kathrynne (Mrs.) Campbell and with her help a more elaborate and entertaining performance is possible. Is there an accomplishment more marvelous than for two people to entertain an audience so completely as to make them forget their troubles and feel young again—at least in spirit? This requires an unusual personality and both Loring and Kathrynne Campbell have it. When you see the Loring Campbell Company you witness a performance that is different, as Mr. Campbell has originated some of the finest effects in magic. For twelve years his work has been acclaimed from coast to coast. A joy night for all!

Hon. Geoffrey F. Morgan December 9

Hon. Geoffrey F. Morgan, lecturer, educator, legislator, has had ample opportunity to gather and develop material for his vivid platform discussions. Born in England fifty years ago, he was brought to California at an early age; secured his A. B. degree at Stanford and his M. A. degree at Columbia; was in turn teacher, principal, city superintendent and professor in Ohio University. He finally left the school room for civic and political life, and is at present a member of the California Legislature. For a dozen years "Who's Who in America" has listed him. Mr. Morgan is a brilliant speaker, with rare wit and enthusiasm. His talks are practical, interesting, stimulating and well seasoned with humor. He will discuss here "Your Money or Your Life." Don't miss Morgan.

Play, "Mary's Other Husband," Dec. 16

"MARY'S OTHER HUSBAND"—The problems and bewilderment of a wife and her efforts to impress her wealthy uncle, form the basis of the plot. Uncle Elmer and Husband Hervey clashed by mail after Mary's elopement, and Harvey is resolved that they shall never meet. When Uncle wires he is coming to dinner, Harvey refuses to remain home, though Mary must produce a husband to meet her uncle. And indiscreetly boastful, Mary has to produce many other things, including expensive furnishings, silver, a town car, grand piano, and a butler. Neighbors help bunglingly; the baby is apparently kidnapped; Harvey sleeps on the dining-room table, and gasps of amazement follow hard on howls of laughter. This successful Broadway play was written by Larry Johnson, author of the Belasco production, "It's a Wise Child", and has a cast of five.

GOVERNOR VANDERBILT

He may be Gov. William H. Vanderbilt to the social register, but he is just plain "Bill" to a host of friends. This socially prominent young resident of Newport was elected governor of Rhode Island, carrying with him a slate of state officers. He is a son of Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt, who went down with the Lusitania.

North Wilkesboro Offers Refunding Bonds of $48,000.00

New Bonds Will Be Sold to Replace Five Per Cent Bonds Due Jan. 1st

North Wilkesboro will sell refunding bonds in the sum of $48,000 to retire water, sewer and street bonds of that amount falling due on January 1, 1939. It was learned today from city officials.

The bonds to be refunded are five per cent bonds.

The new serial bonds to be dated December 1 will mature in the sum of $12,000 for each of the years from 1945 to 1948, inclusive, and will be sold in December in time to take up the old bonds to mature on January 1. The local government commission has already approved the move on the part of the city's governing body.

North Wilkesboro has never defaulted on its bonded indebtedness, which has been reduced according to the original schedule, and the city has a most excellent credit in financial circles with its bonds always in demand.

According to the plan as approved by the local government commission the city will continue reduction of its debt to such an extent that after 1948 the average yearly budget for debt service will be less than $6,000 unless additional obligations are incurred.

In view of the city's splendid credit it is expected that the new serial bonds to be offered next month will be taken at a rate of interest much lower than the original five per cent and will effect a substantial saving for the taxpayers.

The $48,000 in bonds to be refunded were issued in 1909.

Careless Hunters Start Forest Fires

Blazes This Year Result Of Camp Fires Left Burning, Warden Says

There have been several forest fires in this section during the dry fall season and all the fires resulted from hunters leaving fires in the forests, Homer Brookshire, county forest warden, said today.

He called attention to the fact that it is a violation of the state law to leave a fire in or near the forest without taking due precautions and without extinguishing it thoroughly.

Mr. Brookshire urged that hunters be careful with fire and warned that the law provides fines or imprisonment as punishment for neglect resulting in fire spreading into the forests.

Want Ten Per Cent of Auto Tax Money and All On Intangibles

The North Carolina League of Municipalities has a broad and far reaching program to present to the next legislature. It was brought out here Tuesday in a district meeting of the League.

Representatives of the League present at the meeting, attended by city officials here and several from other cities and towns in this part of the state, were Patrick Healy, of Raleigh, executive secretary, and W. H. Newell, field consultant.

In the legislative program the League will ask the state for a refund of ten per cent of the gasoline and automobile license taxes, to be used in construction and maintenance of streets.

It is understood that the League will ask return of the total amount of the tax on intangibles, less the actual cost of collection. It was pointed out that municipalities and counties have suffered loss of revenue by the law which took intangibles off local tax books.

The League also favors making the tax listing date as of January 1 each year instead of April 1. This change, if brought about, would make North Carolina's listing date the same as that of adjoining states.

Cooking School Is Attended by Over 600 Home Makers

Three-Day Program Which Closed Today Was Outstanding Success

The three-day cooking school offered the home-makers of this section by The Journal-Patriot closed today.

The school was a success from every standpoint and The Journal-Patriot is sincerely grateful for the way in which it was received.

Total attendance at the school was over 600 and the picture, "Star in My Kitchen" proved to be more interesting, entertaining and helpful than advance notices had predicted.

By means of the talking screen every person in the audience was treated to a close up view of how to prepare many delicious foods which should please husbands and be the means of greater domestic happiness and tranquility.

The instructions relative to the culinary art were cleverly interwoven into a comedy-drama plot, minimizing the dullness of routine so often experienced in hard boiled instruction.

Included in the crowds which saw the picture during its three-day showing were domestic science classes of the schools of the Wilkesboros and some of the larger schools of the county, including Millers Creek and Mountain View.

The Journal-Patriot wishes to express appreciation to the New Orpheum Theatre for the use of the theatre, its splendid facilities and wholehearted cooperation on the part of the management.

This newspaper also wishes to thank each and every one for their attendance at the school. We trust that you thoroughly enjoyed "Star in My Kitchen" and that in addition to the entertainment it afforded, that it may prove beneficial.

It is time now to revitalize our efforts and for all to unite in renewed determination to conquer this enemy. What could be a better rallying call to arms than the slogan for the 1938 campaign—"Protect Your Home From Tuberculosis" and the warning—"No Home Is Safe Until All Homes Are Safe!"
