

No Decision On Sheriff Term Case

The State supreme court yesterday did not include the sheriff-term-of-office case in decisions handed down. It is expected that a decision will be handed down in the case early in February.

A test case on the question of whether sheriffs were elected for two or four-year terms in 1933 originated in Alamance county, where the presiding judge ruled that the amendment passed by vote of the people in the last election changing the term of office of sheriff from two to four years did not affect the term of sheriffs elected on the same day.

The sheriff appealed the case, which was argued before the high court several days ago.

Pocket Submarine May Be Powerful Jap Sea Threat

According to reports reaching London from Tokyo, the Japanese navy finally has put an oft-reported three-man submarine into mass production. Dispatches say the boats are being turned out in mass production at a cost of $5,500 each. The craft, depicted here by an artist, measures 18 feet overall. The average modern submarine is 300 feet in length. Its displacement is 100 tons, compared to the usual 2,500 tons. It is reported that the new boat can submerge to an almost unbelieveable depth of 1,800 feet. It carries only one torpedo. But one torpedo has a potential nuisance value of millions of dollars.

House Of David Team Is Coming On Friday Night

Whiskered Wizards Will Play Lions Club At School Gym

The Whiskered Wizards, basketball team which hails from the land of the longhorns and rugged manhood, will come to North Wilkesboro to engage the Lions Club team in basketball Friday night, about 8 o'clock.

The House of David team has been frequently called the nation's most colorful aggregation of cage players. They exhibit a beautifully rounded attack which has conquered many of the nation's best teams and present in addition to fast basketball a dazzling and colorful basketball circus with all the stunts and trimmings which go to make up a complete show.

This year the Whiskered Wizards will play 67 college teams and about 100 other quints ranking high in the nation. They have the nation's hardest schedule but stand up under the strain wonderfully well.

As an introduction to these famous players let us review their lineup:

Peecos Finley, a forward, is only six feet and two inches and tips the scales at 180. He has been described by New York sports writers as the best all round player to appear in Madison Square Garden.

Captain Jim Neely is a bit taller, being six feet three. He plays the game with unparalleled finesse.

Coach Bob Rich is only six feet, weight 200 and is as fast as he is heavy.

Bob McCollum, forward and former all Texas Conference Star, is just as good as any of them and is a trick shot artist of wonderful ability.

Robert Loftland is six feet four and the youngest of the bearded lot. He is an expert juggler and trick shot as well as a polished player.

Bob Hale, center, is only six feet, four, a clever passer and an accurate shot with one hand or both, either close or from the center of the court.

Bob Sims with his six feet, four frame rounds out the squad. He is a former star of the New Mexico Aggies and plenty good.

"Earl Of Chicago" At Liberty Theatre

Robert Montgomery, so often seen on the screen as the wise-cracking man-about-town, has again proven himself one of Hollywood's most versatile actors with his dramatic portrayal of a Chicago gangster in "The Earl of Chicago," which opens at the Liberty Theatre Monday.

It was no ordinary role selected for Montgomery. The story is as unusual and original as any yet brought to the screen, with Montgomery playing Silky Kilmount, liquor racketeer, who becomes an English Earl by inheritance. Not as heavy a characterization as the psychopathic murderer Montgomery played in "Night Must Fall," which brought him nomination for the Academy Award, it is an equally fascinating characterization and the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer star plays it to the hilt.

The situation in which Silky becomes a member of England's dignified House of Lords is fundamentally amusing, but there is deeper significance to his trial before his peers on a murder charge. Silky, king of the Chicago underworld, discovers that he can't beat the rap in England.

Outstanding performances are given by Montgomery, Edward Arnold, who plays Silky's lawyer and pal, and Edmund Gwenn as Silky's English butler. Victor Saville, M-G-M British producer of "Goodbye Mr. Chips," and "The Citadel," brought the picture to the screen, his first American film. Richard Thorpe's direction is dramatically realistic throughout.

August 21—Duke Power company approved construction 12 1-2 mile line in Union township.

August 22—Representative R. L. Doughton visits NYA projects in Wilkes; lauds work being accomplished.

August 22—A. H. Tesky, Virginia horticulturist, addresses fruit growers in annual picnic.

August 28—Wilkes schools begin term.

August 28—Citizens in mass meeting at opening Wilkesboro school ask resignation Wm. T. Long as superintendent.

August 31—City offices move into new city hall.
