Methodist Auxiliary Held Monthly Meeting
The monthly meeting of the North Wilkesboro Methodist Auxiliary was held at the church hut Tuesday afternoon, Feb. 19. The program for the afternoon, the theme of which was "I Surrender Myself," was given by the Mary Circle, with Mrs. J. B. Carter leading and giving the devotion. The life of Young J. A. Lee, a missionary statesman, was given by Mrs. Palmer Horton, and Mrs. Harkness sang a solo, "The Voice of God is Calling," accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Frank Johnson. The usual reports were read during the business session.

Mrs. W. E. Jones was elected as a delegate to attend the annual missionary conference to be held in Salisbury the latter part of April.

Mrs. C. D. Coffey, Jr., Is Sewing Club Hostess
With Mrs. C. D. Coffey, Jr., as hostess the Wednesday Sewing Club, of which she is a member, was delightfully entertained at her home on Ninth Street Wednesday afternoon. Hyacinths and other early spring flowers made a gay setting for the guests, who enjoyed an informal hour together in handwork and conversation. At the close of the afternoon the hostess aided by her daughter, Miss Lura Coffey, and Mrs. L. M. Nelson, served tempting refreshments in two courses.

Judge Hayes Is Speaker For Woman's Club Meeting

With Judge Johnson J. Hayes as the speaker a most interesting meeting of the Senior and Junior Woman's clubs of North Wilkesboro was held Monday evening at the clubhouse on Trogon Street. The evening was known as "Gentleman's Night," and the club members served a delicious dinner at seven o'clock, which was arranged by Mrs. Ivey Moore and her committee, having as guest husbands of the club members and their husbands. Around eighty were present.

The tables and the spacious room were attractively decorated by Mrs. J. Q. Adams and her committee, carrying out the patriotic theme, the flowers being donated by Mrs. Frank Eller.

Rev. Watt Cooper, pastor of the Presbyterian church, offered the invocation and after the dinner the following program was given. Mrs. Frank Johnson, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Andrew Kilby, sang the verses to "God Bless America" (Irvin Berlin) with the group joining in on the chorus. Mrs. F. C. Forester, president of the club, welcomed the men and the other guests, and presented Mayor R. T. McNeil, who introduced Judge Hayes, the speaker. Judge Hayes made a splendid talk on "American Citizenship," after which Mrs. Johnson sang "Calm as the Night," (Carl Bohm).

Orpheus Music Club Held Monthly Meetings

The senior division of the Orpheus Music Club met Tuesday evening with Clarice Snelson. The president, Dorothy Jennings, presided, during which time a program of piano and vocal numbers with varied appeal was given. Elizabeth McNeil playing the theme from "Liebestraum" and Katherine Finley, playing "Mexican Moonlight" were voted as giving the best performances. At the close of the program a social hour was enjoyed, during which time the hostess and her mother, Mrs. A. E. Snelson, served an ice course.

The junior division of the club met Saturday afternoon with their president, Dorothy Gabriel, who had charge of the meeting. The following members played piano solos: Richard Reins, Doris Ann Godbey, Geraldine Gaddy, Janet Davis, Agnes Kenzly, and Annie Eller. Songs were sung by Dean Minton and Norma Gabriel, and Janet Davis and Dorothy Gabriel, played duets with their teacher, Mrs. Mack Proffit. Receiving the most votes for expression was Doris Ann Godbey playing "Indian War Dance."

During the social hour the hostess served delicious refreshments. Patsy Ruth Pope was a guest of the club.

St. Cecilia Juveniles Have Valentine Party

The St. Cecilia Juveniles, younger music pupils of Mrs. R. E. Pevette, were delightfully entertained last Tuesday afternoon with a Valentine party, with Master Britt Steelman as host. The meeting was held in the music studio, which was decorated in keeping with the season.

For the program, Elizabeth Carlton gave a reading, "Saint Valentine's Day," after which Britt presented lovely valentines to each member, which they read aloud. Mrs. Pevette sketched briefly the lives of Schubert, Schuman, and Mendelssohn; and compositions by these composers were played or sung by several of the members. To close the program, the children repeated together the great love verse from the Bible, John 3-16, and sang "Jesus Loves Me."

During the recreation hour refreshments were served, and games were enjoyed. In a Valentine contest the prize went to Edith Rhodes.

The club will meet in March with Rosemond Doughton.

Business Girl's Circle Met in Monthly Meeting

The Business Woman's circle of the First Baptist church met Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Gladys Loman with Mrs. June Bowles as associate hostess, having around fifteen members present. Miss Lillian Stafford, the chairman, was in charge of the meeting, and Miss Lunda Hendren presented the program, being assisted by several of the members. A social hour and refreshments were enjoyed at the close of the meeting.

Presbyterian Auxiliary Met Tuesday Afternoon

The February meeting of the Presbyterian Auxiliary was held Tuesday afternoon at the church hut with an attendance of 33 members. Mrs. C. D. Coffey, Jr., the president, was in charge and opened the meeting by leading the devotional period.

A splendid program on home missions was given by Mrs. John Taft. Mrs. Paxton Davis, of Winston-Salem, and president of the Winston-Salem Presbyterian, was unable to meet with the auxiliary, as previously announced, on account of illness.

During the business session the following officers were elected for a two year term, Mrs. W. J. Basen, as president, and Mrs. Coffey as recording secretary.

Home Demonstration Club In Meeting

The Home Demonstration Club of Moravian Falls held the February meeting February 21 in the home of Mrs. B. M. Pardue with Mrs. C. S. Pearson as associate hostess. Mrs. S. C. Stewart led the devotional service after which she gave an interesting sketch on the life of the famous French painter of peasant life, Jean Millet. Mrs. Stewart told the story of "The Gleaners" and pointed out the importance of displaying good pictures as a proper influence in the home. Mrs. W. R. Hix read an amusing poem, "The Song of the Tea Kettle." The president, Mrs. C. F. Bretholl closed the program with a very appropriate poem "Will God Remember Spring?"

Mrs. Bretholl presided over the business meeting. After the roll call the secretary's report, the different project leaders gave their reports. Mrs. Bretholl made a short talk in which she reminded the members that a county wide membership contest is outlined for 1940 and she urged 100 per cent attendance for the year in order to excel in the contest. Miss Harriet McGoogan, the Home Demonstration Agent, discussed the treatment of walls and woodwork as the feature of the month. She displayed samples of wallpaper and suggested the proper color of woodwork for a pleasing result. She also showed pictures of harmonious combinations of walls and trim and the proper relation to the furnished room.

At the close of the meeting the hostesses, assisted by Miss Betty Pearson, served punch and tea cakes. The ground has been excavated for the foundation of the community house and work is expected to be started immediately. While this is purely a community project, the members of the Home Demonstration club are especially interested in the erection of the building and have donated generously to the fund. When the building is finished the club meetings will be held there instead of in the homes of the members.

The January meeting, which was held in the home of Mrs. W. C. Scroggs, was not reported to the local newspapers. In this meeting the club activities for 1940 were outlined.

Home Demonstration Club At Ronda Meets

Twelve members were present on Tuesday, February 13th, for the Ronda Home Demonstration club meeting. The meeting was called to order by Mrs. Everette Dobbins, president.

The club collect was read by all. For devotional the members repeated the 23rd Psalm. Mrs. E. T. Edwards gave a splendid talk and description on the picture story, "The Gleaners," by Millet. Opening the business session the roll was called and minutes read by Mrs. Ralph Martin in the absence of Mrs. R. C. Martin, secretary-treasurer.

Each member was asked to answer the roll with the name of some absent club member. We hope to build our club up by the end of the year with the names of those called. Announcement for special meetings to be held in month of March was made by Mrs. F. T. Moore, vice president.

One of the special meetings was the baking demonstration at Lenoir. A report was made on feeding a balanced ration to home poultry by Mrs. Hobson Blackburn, project leader. The new 1940 year books were distributed to each

Woman's Greatest Adventure Theme Of "A Child Is Born"

SHOWING AT NEW ORPHEUM ONE DAY ONLY TUESDAY, FEB. 27th

What is woman's greatest adventure?

Without question, it is motherhood. For the average woman, it is her one chance in life to be a heroine. And it is a subject that fascinates all women, and men, too. Even the woman who professes to dislike maternity and its responsibilities is interested secretly, if not openly. That's why Mary McDougal Axelson wrote "A Child Is Born."

During the seven weeks that Mrs. Axelson was in a hospital, following the birth of her daughter, she kept a diary, and it is on this diary that her story is based. "Nearly every woman," says Mrs. Axelson, "wants some day to experience the adventure of motherhood. In writing my play and relating the maternal experiences of a varied assortment of women, I planned to bring to women some reflection of the brightness and exultation that all of them, save those whose lives are frustrated, can enjoy."

Motherhood truly is the average woman's one chance to become a heroine. Boys grow up looking forward to a life of adventure and peril in far off lands—but not many, of course, see these dreams come true. The prospect of marriage and motherhood holds the same sort of allure for a young girl.

"The young unmarried woman feels as great an interest in this story of women experiencing the great adventure as does the woman to whom motherhood is no novelty. Sympathy and understanding rules the interest of both with the mother adding to this a reliving of her own experience."

"The expectant father, I think, has been the butt of too many jibes and jokes. In his way he suffers as much as the mother member. These being originally made up in the office of the Home Agent for the benefit of our county clubs. Accurate notes on each demonstration and all leaflets are to be filed in meeting order. At the end of the year the member having the most complete book will be given a prize."

Topic for the month was making a garden unit. Demonstration was treatment of walls and woodwork by Miss Harriet McGoogan, home agent.

For recreation, each member entered a contest for writing original Valentine verses. The prizes went to Mrs. R. H. Greene and Mrs. E. T. Edwards. After the song, "What Happened to Mary," the meeting adjourned.

and for this reason the story appeals to men as much as to women."

Warner Bros. "A Child Is Born" has been filmed with startling attention to detail and vivid realism. A change in public taste has made possible its filming with a frankness that would not have been permitted a few years ago.

In bringing "A Child Is Born" to the screen, Warner Bros. have used the utmost delicacy in handling its sensitive theme, yet have given it vivid realism. All the drama, pathos and humor that is attendant upon the beginning of life are incorporated into the unusual photoplay, which is brilliantly enacted by a cast headed by Geraldine Fitzgerald, Gladys George, Jeffrey Lynn, and Gale Page. Lloyd Bacon directed, from a screen play by Robert Rossen, based on the novel by Mrs. Axelson.

State College Answers Timely Farm Question

Question: What is the proper temperature for a brooder house?
Answer: For the first week after chicks are placed in the brooder, the temperature should be regulated to 95 degrees at the outer edge of the essay and on a level with the chicks' heads. This temperature is lowered five degrees each week until the sixth week. No care should be exercised to avoid running the brooder at a sub-normal temperature. Where brick or rock brooders are used a room temperature of 70 to 75 degrees is sufficient.
