leigh, Feb. 20.—There were est fires which burned over 177,985 acres and destroyed $381,945 worth of timber during 1939 in the 42 counties of the state not co-operating with the state's divison of forestry in fire control.

State Forester W. Z. McCormick said today this toll compared with 4,155 fires, 250,950 cres burned and loss of $467.178 n the 58 co-operating countles.

The average fire in unprotected areas burned over 338 acres Miss Cornelia Walker, sister of a new registration of voters or to and destroyed $726 worth of timber while on protected areas the average fire burned over 60 acres and did $112 worth of damage.

"These figures show that when forest fires get started in the unprotected counties they burn longer and destroy a larger number of acres, causing a larger property loss than when fires get started in protected counties,' McCormick said.

McCormick said at least 10 of the counties without fire protection had wanted to come under the state system, but were pre vented because of a lack of state funds to match their contribu-

Prospects Brighten For Good Crop Year

Looking at the 1940 agricultural picture in North Carolina from a production standpoint, prospects for crops are good, says E. C. Blair, agronomist of the State College Extension Service.

For one thing, farmers have sown 130,000 acres in winter legumes, a far greater acreage than ever before. If these legumes are allowed to grow and gather nitrogen until April and are turned under and followed by corn, an increase of 10 bushels of corn to the acre, or a total of 1,300,000 bushels, should result.

Also, Tar Heel growers 911,000 acres in lespedeza last The state board of elections year. As lespedeza usually occupies the land for two years, the chances are that only half acreage will be used for another elections. Each county board will crop this year. If planted to corn, the land should produce 10 bushels more to the acre than formerly. Roughly, this would mean an increase of 450,000 acres, or 4,-500,000 bushels of corn.

Blaid said there is another reason why crops in the Piedmont should be good this year. The weather was unusually favorable bent it."

1939, and, consequently, nearly all land intended for corn, soiton, Irritates Farmer and cowpens was plowed before the end of December. This means that the soil has been subjected to freezing and thawing, which will thoroughly pulverize it be fore spring.

The freezes and thaws also will help to kill destructive insects, which gradually have been growing more abundant during the last two or three years of mild winters. Also, organic matter plowed into the soil last fall has had all winter to decay, and more of it will be usable by 1940 crops lifted into the trailer and coverthan would have been the case had plowing been delayed until spring.
