Mrs. C. D. Coffey, Sr. Entertains Book Club

Mrs. C. D. Coffey, Sr., charmingly entertained the members of the Friday Book club, of which she is a member, at the Woman's clubhouse on Trogon Street Friday afternoon, also a large number of additional guests. An entertaining feature of the afternoon was a talk on buttons given by Mrs. Coffey, telling about their origin, popularity, usefulness, button collectors and a number of other items pertaining to the button. Following her talk guests were asked to guess the number of buttons in a bowl, in which Mrs. J. H. Whicker, Sr., was the winner, receiving an attractive boutonniere. Mrs. J. C. McDiarmid presided for roll call, which was made by Mrs. W. E. Jones, members responding with jokes. At the close of the afternoon the guests were seated at a long table, where covers were laid for twenty-nine, and were served delicious refreshments. The table, spread with a white cloth, held several lovely bowls of the yellow jonquils, while individual jonquils with names attached served as place cards. Other bowls of jonquils were placed about the spacious clubroom.

Mrs. Jay Jones Is Bridge Club Hostess

The members of the Wilkesboro bridge club were entertained Thursday evening by Mrs. Jay Jones with two tables being made up for play. Mrs. Bon Perkins received the prize for highest score. After the removal of cards the hostess served ice cream and cake.

Mrs. J. B. Highsmith Is Bridge Club Hostess

With Mrs. J. B. Highsmith as hostess the members of the Young Matrons Contract club and some visitors were delightfully entertained at the Highsmith home on Fifth Street Wednesday evening. Three tables were made up for bridge in a setting of spring blossoms. The high and low score awards went to Mrs. A. M. Church, Jr., and Mrs. Rufus Church. Following play the hostess served a dessert course.

Miss Constance Smithy Feted At Party

Mrs. Warner Miller and Mrs. Mable Smithy entertained at a delightful party at the Miller home Saturday evening honoring Miss Constance Smithy, student at Mars Hill College, who was here visiting her mother, Mrs. Smithey. Around twenty-five boys and girls were present and were entertained with a number of games and contests in which prizes were given. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses at the close of the evening. Narcissus and other spring blossoms were used for decorations.

Miss Stafford Entertains For Mrs. Overcash

To honor Mrs. H. V. Overcash, who is leaving soon for residence in Winston-Salem, Miss Lillian Stafford entertained at a delightful bridge party at her home on E Street Thursday evening. Jonquils and other spring flowers made a colorful background for the players at three tables of bridge, in which the top score award went to Mrs. R. G. Finley. Mrs. Overcash was remembered with a gift. At the close of play Miss Lilyan Miller assisted the hostess in serving an ice course.

Mrs. H. V. Overcash Is Feted At Party

Mrs. H. V. Overcash was shown a lovely courtesy Friday evening by Mrs. Carlisle Ingle at her home on Trogon Street, when she entertained at a buffet supper and bridge. Mrs. Overcash goes to Winston-Salem this week to make her future home there. Mrs. Gordon Forester won the top score prize in the bridge game, which was played at three tables, and to the honoree Mrs. Ingle presented a remembrance. An attractive arrangement of yellow jonquils and yellow candles made a festive setting for the guests.

Mrs. Cowles Attends A Banquet In Mooresville

Mrs. C. H. Cowles, district chairman of the Women's clubs, attended a large banquet in Mooresville Tuesday evening given by the Woman's club there celebrating their first birthday anniversary and the Golden Jubilee of the General Federation. The Mooresville club, which has been organized only a year, has now a membership of 124.

WHITE MEAT

American turkeys are evolving toward birds with larger breasts, providing more white meat, says the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to extend our heartfelt thanks and appreciation to the numerous kind friends, neighbors, the welfare department, and Miss Nerva Harold, who aided us in caring for our dear mother during her recent illness and death. While we are unable to repay them our prayers are offered for every one, who rendered a service, to our loving, kind Heavenly Father.
