Miss Hayes, Mrs. Hayes Are Feted At Breakfast-Bridge

A charming courtesy was extended Miss Willa Jean Hayes, a bride-to-be of the month, and Mrs. Hayden Hayes, a bride of the winter, when Mrs. Joe Barber and her sister, Miss Frank Somers, were hostesses at a breakfast bridge at the Barber home Friday morning. Breakfast was served at nine o'clock, covers being laid for sixteen guests.

Following the breakfast bridge was played at four tables with Miss Hayes being the winner of the top score prize. The home was attractively decorated in a variety of mixed summer blossoms, while the talley cards were in bridal design.

Miss Frances Reins, of Lenoir, and Miss Sara Gilbert, of Raleigh, houseguests of Mrs. Fred Hubbard, Jr., and Mrs. Joe Butler, of Tabor City, mother of Mrs. Hayden Hayes, were out of town guests at the party. The hostesses gave lovely remembrances to each of the honorees.

Mrs. Otis Barker Entertains Club

Thursday evening Mrs. Otis Barker entertained her bridge club with a delightful dessert-bridge. Three tables were arranged for play amid a lovely arrangement of spring flowers. The talley cards were cleverly hidden in miniature china shoes. Mrs. J. G. Bentley won high score and Mrs. J. C. Critcher, Jr., was awarded low score prize.

Miss Cynthia Rhoades Gave Voice Recital Saturday Night

Winston-Salem.—Dicke Howell, voice teacher, presented Cynthia Rhoades, lyric soprano, in a voice recital at the Woman's Club Saturday evening at 8:15 o'clock.

Miss Rhoades was assisted by Carolyn Salmons, dramatist; Betty Lassiter, violin; and Vernon Lassister, Jr., cello.

Miss Rhoades, who is 16 years old, entered the federation district contest at Elon College as an advanced music student. She was the only one in that class to win superior rating. She has appeared as a soloist in Winston-Salem churches and at civic club banquets. Since January she was presented over WSJS radio programs which have caused favorable comments by outstanding musicians of the city.

The young artist is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton T. Rhoades, 2433 Maplewood avenue.

Ushers at the recital were Elaine Ripple, Freida Boger and Betty Jean Nissen.

Miss Rhoades is a granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Mitchell, of Wilkesboro.

Euzelian Sunday School Class Holds Annual Banquet

The annual banquet of the Euzelian Sunday School class of the First Baptist church was held at the North Wilkesboro Woman's clubhouse on Trogon street Friday evening. Around forty-five were present including Rev. and Mrs. Eugene Olive, and Mr. Keith Gingles, promotional director and pageant master for North Wilkesboro 50th anniversary celebration.

Miss Dovie Pardue, president of the class, extended words of welcome to the group, after which several interesting numbers were given. Vocal solos were rendered by Rev. Mr. Olive, Miss Ruth Garrie, and Miss Billie Barnes; Miss Alice Wells gave a recitation; and Miss Beth Jones paid a lovely tribute to Rev. and Mrs. Olive, who will go to Wake Forest for future residence in the early fall.

Mrs. Paul Cashion Is Hostess At Card Parties

Mrs. Paul Cashion was hostess at two delightful parties at her home on E Street, entertaining Thursday and Friday evenings. A dessert course preceded the card game each time, and a variety of garden flowers made a colorful background for the players.

On Thursday evening five tables were made up for bridge with the high and low score prizes going to Mrs. J. H. Wheeler, Jr., and Mrs. Charles Hulcher. Remembrance gifts were presented to Mrs. Frank Killian, formerly Mrs. Lucy Pearson, Miss Frances Reins, of Lenoir, and Miss Sarah Gilbert, of Raleigh, the two latter being houseguests of Mrs. Fred Hubbard, Jr.

For Friday evening four tables were arranged for bridge and one for rook, winners of the prizes being Mrs. W. P. Grier, Jr., and Mrs. J. W. Steele. Miss Harriet McGoogan, whose engagement to Dan Holler has been announced, was remembered with a gift.

Mrs. R. C. Faucett Gives Two Bridge Parties

Two delightful parties of the week were the ones given by Mrs. R. C. Faucett at her home on Ninth Street, entertaining at bridge Thursday afternoon and Friday evening. For each occasion mixed cut flowers made a festive setting for the guests, and after play a salad course with sweets was served.

In the bridge game Thursday afternoon the high and low score awards were won by Mrs. John E. Justice and Mrs. J. B. Carter, while on Friday evening the winners were Miss Hallie Waugh and Mrs. James McCartney.

Mrs. Jenkins, Miss Brame Entertain For Brides

Continuing a round of interesting social activity for Miss Willa Jean Hayes, a popular bride-elect, Mrs. Charles Jenkins, Jr., and her sister, Miss Rebecca Brame, entertained at a lovely luncheon at the Jenkins home on E Street Thursday. Sharing honors with Miss Hayes was her sister-in-law, Mrs. Hayden Hayes, the former Miss Carrie Virginia Butler, of Tabor City. Miss Hayes, daughter of Judge and Mrs. Johnson J. Hayes, of Wilkesboro, and Julian Thor Wantless, of Springfield, Illinois, are to wed in a formal ceremony at Duke University Chapel at Durham on Tuesday evening, June 18, at 8:30 o'clock.

A two course luncheon was served at one o'clock with covers laid for twenty, guests being seated at the dining table and some small ones. Centerpiece for the bride's table was a silver bowl of white flowers about which were arranged white candles in the silver holders, while a beautiful corsage of roses marked each of the honorees places, also a miniature bride and groom for Miss Hayes.

To Miss Hayes the hostesses presented water goblets in her chosen crystal pattern, and gift for Mrs. Hayes was an attractive pitcher. To present a guest prize a bowl of sweet peas was passed around among the group, Miss Gwendolyn Hubbard drew the lucky one which was a red one, and received a dainty handkerchief.

Among the out of town guests were Mrs. Joe Butler, of Tabor City, mother of Mrs. Hayes; Miss Sara Gilbert, of Raleigh, and Miss Frances Reins, of Lenoir, houseguests of Mrs. Fred Hubbard, Jr.

Miss Clyde Shepherd Is Bridge Club Hostess

The members of the Wilkesboro bridge club were delightfully entertained Thursday evening by Miss Clyde Shepherd at the home of her sister, Mrs. O. K. Whittington. Two tables were arranged for play in a colorful setting of cut flowers. Mrs. Jay Jones scored highest receiving an attractive prize.

Miss Mary King Mallowe Weds Mr. Jack Spainhour

Murphy, June 5.—A wedding characterized by beauty and simplicity was that of Miss Mary King Mallowe, of Murphy and John Edward Spainhour, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Spainhour of North Wilkesboro, which was solemnized Monday afternoon at 4:00 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Mallowe.

The Rev. Victor McGuire, of Arden, cousin of the bride, officiated, using the ring ceremony. The vows were spoken before an arch entwined with white roses, placed within the opening from the reception hall into the dining room. Just back of the arch on each side was a tall standard bearing white candles. On each side of the doorway was a large jar holding sprays of mock orange. Back of the arch on the lace covered dining table was an arrangement of calla lilies in a crystal bowl placed on a reflector, from which radiated streams of ribbon strung with silver bells.

Prior to the ceremony, a program of nuptial music was presented by Mrs. J. W. Davidson, pianist, who was a bridesmaid at the wedding of the bride's father and mother, Mrs. Hadley Dickey, vocalist, cousin of the bride, and Miss Mildred Akin, violinist. Mrs. Dickey sang "In My Garden," by Firestone, "At Dawning," by Cadman, "The Rosary," by Nevin, "Because," by D'hardelot, and "O Perfect Love," by Burrell. Miss Akin played "To an Evening Star," from Tanhauser, by Wagner, and Schubert's Serenade. Mrs. Davidson played the Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin as a professional, and "Liebstraum," by Liszt, during the ceremony.

The bride entered with her brother, James D. Mallowe, Jr., who gave her in marriage. Her only attendant was Mrs. W. G. Darnell, matron of honor. The groom had as best man, his brother, Roy Spainhour, of North Wilkesboro.

The bride wore a dress of black chiffon, with pastel pink vestee, with pink accessories and a small flower hat of pink rosebuds draped with a black veil. Her shoulder corsage was of tallman rosebuds. The matron of honor was also dressed in black pith pink accessories.

Following the ceremony an informal reception was held. Placed on a small table in the dining room were a miniature bride and groom beside two bell-shaped wedding cakes tied together with a bouquet of calla lilies, placed on a reflector. One cake bore the name "Jack," the other "Mary King." Small heart-shaped "dream cakes" in white boxes decorated with silver bells were presented to the guests. Mrs. W. E. Studstill, friend of the Mallowes, and a childhood friend of the Spainhours, had charge of the decorations, and baked the wedding cakes.

Mr. and Mrs. Spainhour left for a short wedding trip, after which they will be at home in Hickory where Mr. Spainhour is engaged in business.

Mrs. Spainhour is a graduate of the Woman's College of the University of North Carolina, and was a member of the Murphy high school faculty the past year.

Mr. Spainhour is a graduate of North Carolina State college, Raleigh.

Out of town guests at the wedding included: Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Spainhour of North Wilkesboro, father and mother of the groom, Roy Spainhour, L. S. Spainhour, of North Wilkesboro, Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Spainhour of Elkin, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Spainhour and daughter, Miss Betty Spainhour of Hickory, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Bason, and son Billy of North Wilkesboro, Ben Aycock and Miss Gretchen Aycock, of Raleigh, Miss Mary Ellen Barker of Asheville, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Cover, Jr., of Andrews, Misses Frances and Vivien Queen and Miss Lois King of Copperhill, Tenn.

The most notable advance in the treatment of tuberculosis in our generation has been the development of pneumothorax, which is a method of putting the lung most diseased at rest by compressing it with air.

"Social case work" is a process of personal council which emphasizes a full understanding of the problems of the family or individual in trouble and stresses an attempt to work out, with each family or person, an individualized plan of treatment to help meet those particular needs or problems in such a way as to conserve the individual's own ability and height to help himself.
