

Wilbur Shaw won his third Indianapolis 500-Mile Race last week and became the first man in the history of the Indianapolis Motor Speedway to win two years in succession. Like the other 32 drivers in this year's race, Shaw rode on Firestone Tires and when he flashed across the finish line at the end of the 500-mile grind it marked the twenty-first consecutive victory for Firestone.

Shaw Wins On Firestone Tires

Akron, Ohio, June 12.—When Wilbur Shaw carved another niche for himself in racing's hall of fame by hanging up his third victory in the Indianapolis 500-Mile Race last week, it was a triumph of far-reaching importance not only for the intrepid driver, but for engineering research as well. While he tied Lou Meyer's record of three wins in this great speed classic, Shaw achieved even greater distinction by becoming the first man to win two Indianapolis races in succession. It was the 21st consecutive year in which the winner rode across the finish line on Firestone Tires.

Every car in this year's race was equipped with Firestone Champion Tires. The three foreign drivers, Rene Dreyfus and Rene LeBegue of France, and Raul Riganti of Buenos Aires, came to Indianapolis with foreign tire equipment, but changed to Firestone upon the advice of American drivers, and after having given the American product rigid tests in actual practice runs on the track. Despite the fact that the pace was fast enough to establish a new track record at the 300 and 350 mile marks, there was no semblance of tire trouble on any one of the 33 cars entered in the race.

Up until the 375 mile, when rain made it necessary for the officials to hang out the yellow caution flags, the race had been a three-cornered fight with Shaw, Rex Mays and Mauri Rose battling for the lead. Although Shaw was out in front most of the time, both Mays, who finished second, and Rose, who finished third, wrestled the lead from him at times.

The information obtained since Firestone won the first of its long string of victories at Indianapolis 21 years ago has been utilized by Firestone in designing and constructing a better and safer tire for the average car owner.

Central Service Station, operated by H. P. Eller, is the local Firestone dealer.

Special Sale Dresses Now On At Goodwill

The Goodwill Store is now featuring a special shipment of ladies' dresses for summer wear. An unusual buy enables the store to offer its patrons many special values in attractive dresses in silks, sheers, prints, and other materials.

Mrs. Mabel Lotes, manager of the ready-to-wear department, is anxious that the ladies of this section take advantage of the special bargains now being offered, and will be pleased at any time to show the attractive new summer patterns now carried in stock.

This special lot of dresses embraces many of the latest style dresses for the season, and the price is remarkably low due to fortunate buys on the market.

"Don't miss the opportunity to buy at such great savings," Mrs. Lotes states, "and make The Goodwill your shopping center for beautiful and comfortable summer dresses."

Pinnacle Inn To Open On Saturday

Panner Elk.—Pinnacle Inn, the only college operated hotel in the country, will open for the summer season, Saturday, June 15. The summer hotel, which is used during the school term as Lees-McRae Junior College, affords excellent accommodations, is ideal in location and distinctive in management. College students, working their way through school, help with all the phases of hotel service.

Located 4,000 feet up in the Blue Ridge mountains of North Carolina, the Inn boasts one of the lowest average temperature ratings in the state. An average of more than 70 degrees is considered very high for the resort.

Roosevelt Backs 'Stop Hitler Now' Movement In U. S.

Washington.—Warmly endorsing an organized "stop Hitler now" movement, President Roosevelt worked yesterday to rush all possible material help to the Allies, while Congress continued its rapid-fire action on the national defense program, now grown to $5,021,619,622.

The Chief Executive announced to a press conference that the nation's lists of military supplies were being combed to see what might be spared for the beleaguered French and British. At the same time, the Senate, by a 67-to-18 vote, approved legislation to permit the government to dispose of surplus World War guns in a way which will make them available to the Allied armies.

Reporters attending Mr. Roosevelt's press conference noticed upon his desk the full-page advertisement which was inserted in many newspapers yesterday by the "committee to defend America by aiding the Allies." It bore a big black streamer: "Stop Hitler Now."

"We can help—if we will act now," was one of its statements, "we can help by sending planes, guns, munitions, food. We can help to end the fear that American boys will fight and die in another Flanders, closer to home."

A reporter asked the President for comment on the advertisement. He replied that he had not paid much attention to it until he learned it had been written by Robert E. Sherwood, dramatist, author of "Abe Lincoln in Illinois," and the current play on Finland, "There Shall Be no Night."

Without meaning, Mr. Roosevelt said, to endorse each phrase contained in the advertisement, he thought it was a mighty good thing, a great piece of work, educational to the people of this country. It was well, he said, that William Allen White, the chairman of the committee, was placing such things before the people of the country.

Miss Bert Holman Will Open Studio

Miss Bert Holman, a native of Wilkes county, will open a voice studio during the months of June, July and August. Miss Holman has studied extensively, with teachers of national reputation, among whom are Charles White, and William Whitney of Boston, Arthur Hackett of the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor, and Milan Petrovic of Cincinnati, Ohio. William Whitney, with whom Miss Holman studied for two years has the distinction of being the only teacher of the winner of the Metropolitan Opera Company audition for 1940.

The University of Michigan School of Music, from which Miss Holman received her Masters' degree in 1939 is considered one of the finest university music schools. Arthur Hackett, head of the vocal department is widely known throughout America and Europe.

Miss Holman spends her winters in Phoenix, Arizona, where she is supervisor of junior high school vocal work in the city schools. In addition she maintains a private vocal studio, is soloist in the Episcopal Cathedral of Phoenix, and is a staff artist of K.T.A.R. broadcasting station.

Legion Will Elect Officers On Friday

G. O. P. Leader Sees Congress Staying On Job

Washington.—Mounting bipartisan sentiment for Congress to stay on the job during the European war emergency led Representative Martin, of Massachusetts, the House Republican leader, to predict yesterday that the administration would abandon its plan for adjournment this month.

Democratic leaders have fixed June 22 as a tentative adjournment date, and President Roosevelt told his press conference yesterday that he believed Congress could finish up its principal legislative tasks in 10 days or two weeks. He said, however, that he had made no specific suggestion that Congress adjourn promptly when it had finished work on the legislative program, which includes taxation and defense legislation.

"They'll give up the idea in a week," Martin said.

A short time before he spoke the solidly Democratic House delegation from Virginia voted unanimously to oppose adjournment. House and Senate Republicans have 1908 on record against adjournment. The Oklahoma House delegation—also solidly Democratic—recently took a similar stand.

Woodrow Guthrie In Marine Corps

Woodrow Wilson Guthrie, son of Mrs. Cora Guthrie, of Wilkesboro, was accepted for service in the United States Marine Corps at the district headquarters recruiting station located at the postoffice building at Raleigh. He was transferred to the Marine Barracks, Parris Island, S. C., for a brief period of training.

Upon completion of his training he will be assigned to some service school, ship, foreign station, or marine barracks for duty.

Entrance examinations for enlistment in the Marine Corps are now being held at the U. S. Marine Corps recruiting stations, located in the postoffice building in Winston-Salem and Raleigh. Full information and application blanks will be forwarded upon request.

Last month while reading proofs, we discovered that the printer had set this heading, "Wedding Bills." Evidently he's a married man.
