Wilkes Pair Held On Liquor Charge
Statesville.—Sam Seagraves, 27, and Woodrow Richardson, 22, both of Wilkes county, were apprehended in North Iredell on Wednesday night after their liquor-laden car was wrecked. Deputies Sheriff Reid, Daniels, and Hayes were chasing the Wilkes car on a soil road when the rumrunners failed to negotiate a curve and their car was overturned. The cargo contained 80 gallons of liquor. The booze car was badly wrecked, but the men escaped injury.

Milk Fund Dance Thursday Night
North Wilkesboro Dokies Club will sponsor another milk fund dance to be held at the Legion and Auxiliary clubhouse on Thursday night, January 9, eight o'clock.

The Arizona Ranch Hands, popular radio and stage band and comedians, will furnish the music and a delightful period of entertainment is assured. Profits will be used in financing the milk fund for underprivileged children in the nutrition classes of the city school.

Juniors To Install Officers Tuesday
North Wilkesboro council of the Junior Order will install officers on Tuesday night, January 7, 7:30 o'clock, according to an announcement here today. Other features are planned for the meeting and attendance of every member is desired. The newly elected officers are headed by R. B. Church as counselor and T. H. Waller as vice counselor.

Funeral Is Held For York Hayes
York Hayes, one of the most prominent citizens of the southeastern part of Wilkes county, died at his home Saturday and funeral service was held Sunday at Hunting Creek church with Rev. Pervis Parks in charge. Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Rhodie Souther Hayes, two sons, Fred, of Lovelace township, Grover, of Ferguson, and one daughter, Mrs. Idum A. Hendren, of Lovelace.

R. A.'s In Meeting
The David Livingston Chapter of Royal Ambassadors held their Christmas meeting on Saturday night before Christmas at the home of Edwin Chipman. After the regular program the group enjoyed a number of Christmas carols led by Mrs. A. F. Kilby. Under the Christmas tree were found presents for Edwin Chipman whose birthday occurred on Friday and for Mike Quinn, a member of the group who was leaving to make his home in Tennessee. At the close of the meeting, Mrs. J. G. Chipman served delicious refreshments suggestive of the season.

Safety School For The Truck Drivers
Raleigh.—Two safety schools for truck operators, one at State College Jan. 22 and the other at Catawba College in Salisbury Jan. 29, have been arranged by the State College Extension Division in cooperation with the North Carolina Truck Owners Association. Extension Director Edward W. Ruggles announced today. Also cooperating is State College's Department of Highway Engineering, headed by Prof. Harry Tucker, nationally known authority on highway safety. Identical programs will be conducted at the two schools, Director Ruggles stated. Heretofore, one period of instruction for truck drivers has been given annually at State College. The double program was requested this year by the Association to make the school equally available to operators in all sections of the State, thus permitting them to attend with a minimum loss of time from their work.

Vestal Discusses Yearly PCA Meet

Stockholders Will Meet In Winston-Salem on Saturday, January 11

Arrangements are complete for the annual stockholders' meeting of the Winston-Salem Production Credit Association, which will be in the Forsyth County Court house at Winston-Salem on Saturday morning January 11, at ten o'clock, according to Paul J. Vestal, president of the association, who said yesterday that a record-breaking attendance of members is expected. This will be the sixth annual meeting of this farmers' cooperative short-term credit organization, which makes short-term loans for agricultural and livestock purposes to farmers of Alleghany, Ashe, Caldwell, Davidson, Forsyth, Stokes, Surry, Watauga, Wilkes and Yadkin counties. The association now has approximately 1100 members and Mr. Vestal said it was hoped that every member would attend the annual meeting. Complete and detailed reports on the operation of the association will be made to the stockholders, Mr. Vestal said. "This being a cooperative organization," said Mr. Vestal, "we feel that the members are entitled to know everything about its operations and we hope that every member will feel it a duty to be present at this meeting. "A representative of the Production Credit Corporation of Columbia will make an address at the close of the business session. Appropriate prizes will be awarded. A number of new features will be introduced into the program this year."

Officers of the association are: Paul J. Vestal, president; W. H. Hardy, vice president; and L. E. Francis, secretary-treasurer. Directors in addition to the president are N. C. Speas, E. S. Welborn, and C. E. Hartman. Ads. get attention—and results.

Interesting Items Summit Vicinity

SUMMIT, DEC. 31.—Christmas holidays were passed quietly. No accidents were reported in this section of Wilkes. In spite of the fact that it rained hard all day Christmas day, much visiting among friends was reported. Funeral services for Edwin Fairchild, of Roanoke, Va., were held at Yellow Hill church Sunday afternoon at 2:00 p. m. He was the youngest son of Mr. Com Fairchild, of Congo, and Mrs. Ina Fairchild, of Roanoke, Va. Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Keys and daughter, Rosella, of Roanoke, Va., spent Saturday night with Mrs. Keys' father, Mr. H. L. Be-shears. Mrs. Arnold Keys, who is a patient in the Baptist hospital at Winston-Salem, is getting along fine, her friends will be glad to know. Mr. D. C. Keys, of Wilkes, visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Keys, Sunday.
