

Cal Items From Surgeon Section

Dr. Cooke, of Chippewa, is a son of Mrs. Letitia Garner. Mrs. Cooke is getting along nicely after having been burned severely by a fire.

Deaths in this section learn that Mrs. W. J. Howland is home again after spending several weeks away from home.

Mrs. Letitia Garner spent a week in Charlotte recently, visiting her brother, Mr. Markus Marshall and other kinspeople.

Three Byrde, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Byrde, received a snake bite from a copperhead snake today. He was pulling slabs of a pile when he was bitten.

People in this community have been killing a large number of snakes. A number of snakes have been found in yards and on the lawns of several homes. All this proves is the statement that "snakes are afraid of this age and keep to the woods."

Israel Hayes is about the same. She has been ill for sometime. Margie Walker, of North Wilkesboro, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Walker, recently. Miss Truna Johnston was a night guest of Miss Belma Johnston Sunday. Miss Johnston stopped for a little while with Mr. and Mrs. Glass on her way home.

Mrs. E. H. Glass is suffering from pains in her knee. The cause of these severe pains is unknown.

Mrs. Mary Emma Gray and her sister, Peggy, daughters of Sam Gray and the late Mrs. Gray, spent last Sunday with Miss Glass, who was ill at the time.

Miss Glass is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Glass, in Salisbury, Va., on Sunday, July 17.

Mr. Lloyd Johnston, of Kannapolis, is visiting his parents and Mr. and Mrs. Joel Johnston of Trena.

One said there'd never yet seen a spring that wasn't either wet or too dry to expect a crop. This spring, for a while people were worrying because there was no rain. Now they really are worried because it is raining. It's hard to tell whether they are actually worried about the crops or about the grass that will have to come out when it stops raining.

Mrs. Letitia Garner has a nice roof on her home.

Miss Lulu May Glass has lived in California for the past 20 years. She was visiting her relatives here recently, and in Florida and West Virginia. She is the daughter of the late Mr. John Glass and the late Mrs. Minnie Jarvis Glass, both of whom died more than 22 years ago.

Miss Lulu May Glass' uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Jarvis, to whom she lived in California, and her brother and sister-in-law of North Wilkesboro, are visiting her.

Let the advertising columns of this paper be your shopping guide.

Getting Ready to Take on 'All Comers'

These are days when many nations are preparing against invaders. At the right, British soldiers are shown jumping a trench during a theoretical attack, and the upper picture, which was made in Northern Ireland, shows the men going through a barbed wire entanglement. With Holland in Nazi hands, Netherlands Indies soldiers are ready to fight for the Pacific islands. At left, Indies artillery men are handling an anti-aircraft gun while wearing gas masks.

River. Mr. Oliver Jarvis died several years ago. Mrs. Mattie Holbrook Jarvis was in this part of the states on an extended visit two years ago.

Miss Lulu May Glass visited her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Glass and double first cousin, Vena Glass, the first of the week. She also visited another aunt, Mrs. Letitia Garner. She had already visited her brother, Gaither, in Jacksonville, Fla. She left North Carolina Saturday with the intention of visiting two more brothers, Clyde Glass, of Charleston, W. Va., and Dwight Glass, of Mont. Colm, W. Va. After a week or so she will start west for home again.

Mrs. E. H. Glass is suffering from arthritis. She has been quite ill for sometime. We hope to see her up and walking again soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Parks Weatherman and daughter, Wilhelmina, were evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Glass Sunday.

Mrs. Boss Kemp is taking treatment at the Wilkes hospital.

Rev. Rex Weisner held the regular monthly services at Mt. Pisgah Baptist church, Saturday, and Sunday. He was the dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. Parks Weatherman, Sunday.

Mrs. Floyd Gegory was guest of Mrs. P. Lewis Dillard, Sunday.

PROFIT

Grover Ashe, 4-H Club member of Rt. 2, Murphy, netted a profit of $30.35 in two months by raising and selling 300 New Hampshire chicks, reports A. Q. Ketner, Cherokee county farm agent of the N. C. Extension Service.

Let the advertising columns of this paper be your shopping guide.

"Outside Inn"

By J. S. CAUDILL

(Manager Jenkins Hardware Co.) With the first hint of balmy spring days, most of us turn wishfully toward the great open spaces and, in the attempt to bring them to our doorstep, fix up the porch. The shops are full of exciting decorating ideas for these outdoor living rooms and it's not difficult to arrange and furnish them so they cater to your family's pleasure and comfort as competently as a country inn. Deeply cushioned chairs and couches invite reading and relaxation; tables make it possible to enjoy open air dining.

Among the many excellent setups for porches, one in particular is noteworthy because it's not only cool-looking but it's strikingly colorful—a combination somewhat rare and difficult to achieve. The coolness is partly accounted for by the extensive use of white and green.

White appears on the framework of the screen as it does on the sides of the porch that are walled by the house. The ceiling is foam green—a fine complement to the terra cotta of the floor. The furniture—of metal and reed—streamlined, modern in design, is white-enamelled except for the tops of the tables which are a deep shade of hunter's green. This same green is repeated in the upholstery on the seats of the sofa and one large chair. But the upholstery for the back cushion is of sail cloth in varicolored stripes—green, ecru, yellow, orange and brown. Incidentally, this said cloth is not only waterproof but it is also sun and mildew proof. Waterproofed fabric, in plain terra cotta, covers the small chairs and plain yellow sail cloth is used for the second large chair. The floor is spread with a rug of woven rush squares in natural finish.

Tubs which contain evergreens and hanging crocks of ivy furnish splashes of living color against the white wall. An occasional bright pottery jar further carries out the variegated color scheme.

If you are fortunate enough to have a garden or long slope of lawn for your porch to overlook, you need not worry about seclusion. But if your porch fronts directly on the street, a little more privacy is achieved by applying a coat of a light tint of fine enamel to the wire screening. For the people inside looking out, the view will not be obscured, but those outside looking in will find their view somewhat retarded, particularly when the sun is shining.

Before painting, the furniture should be scrubbed absolutely clean with soap and water to which a little ammonia has been added. Rinse well to remove any trace of soap. Be sure that no dampness remains in the wood at the time of refinishing. If the old coating is badly worn or chipped, apply paint remover according to the instructions on the can. Any slight roughness may be smoothed down with sandpaper. If all the old finish has been removed, three coats of paint will be needed—two of flat paint and one of exterior enamel. The first coat should be well thinned with turpentine. As a usual thing, two coats will suffice. If the old finish merely needs freshening, one coat will probably be all that's necessary.

To paint wicker or reed furniture the enamel must be brushed out thoroughly and not allowed to collect thickly in the crevices. Spraying paint on is simpler than brushing it on in some circumstances. For wicker pieces this method is particularly satisfactory. The sprayer attachment of your vacuum cleaner may be used for this operation. The paint should be thinned with turpentine, about one part turpentine to three parts of paint. Go over each piece evenly two or three times. If you do this work out of doors, pick a location where no wind or dust will reach you. Of course, you should always beware of dust settling upon your pieces when painting or varnishing them. And remember when painting or varnishing furniture to do it the easiest way. Turn the chairs and tables upside down and paint the legs first, then do the backs and seats. Set the chairs upon a bench or table so as to save the wear and tear on your backbone from bending over.

Wicker pieces on which you wish to retain the natural finish, should be covered with one or two coats of Lin-X, which is weather resistant to a high degree and particularly desirable for all outdoor pieces of natural finish whether wicker or plain wood.

Before repainting metal furniture be sure to take off all rust spots, as rust will continue its destructive work if not entirely removed. You can use either sandpaper or steel wool for this purpose. Touch up these spots preferably with red lead or the paint you are planning to use for the finishing coat. Allow to dry thoroughly before applying your final coating. Exterior enamel is best for this purpose. With your furniture neat and shining under its new surface coating, you'll want the background of your porch to be in keeping. So repaint the floor with a good quality porch and deck enamel, waxed for additional durability. And also remember to give the ceiling a new finish so that it need not be self-conscious.

Seed Conference Set For July 24

Raleigh, July 17.—A meeting of North Carolina seed dealers at which the new State Seed Law will be explained and fully discussed will be held under the sponsorship of the North Carolina Department of Agriculture in the Board Room of the Agriculture Building on Thursday, July 24 at 10 a. m.

D. S. Coltrane, assistant to the Commissioner of Agriculture, will preside at the meeting and explain the new regulations under the seed statute.

Other speakers will include J. W. Woodside, chief of the Department's seed laboratory, and W. H. Darst, field crop marketing specialist.

Coltrane explained that the seed meeting was being called for July 24 in order that interested representatives attending the session may also attend the Grasslands conference at State College on July 23.

Murphy: "What's that in your pocket?"

Pat (in whisper): "Dynamite. I'm waiting for Casey. Every time he meets me he slugs me on the chest and breaks me pipe. Next time he does it he'll blow his hand off."—Sheared.

Use the advertising columns of this paper as your shopping guide

ADMINISTRATOR'S NOTICE
Having qualified as administrator c.t.a. of W. E. Handy, late of Wilkes County, THIS IS TO NOTIFY all persons having claims against the said estate to present Proof of Claim to the undersigned administrator on or before June 25, 1942, or this notice will be filed in bar of their right to recover.

This the 25th day of June, 1941.
CLYDE HANDY,
Administrator c.t.a.,
Dehart, North Carolina.
By: A. E. CASEY, Atty.

U. S. Buys Four Of Italian Ships Held In Harbors

Washington.—Edward E. Foley Jr., general counsel of the Treasury, said yesterday that the maritime commission has purchased four of the Italian vessels immobilized in American ports.

He told of the purchase in explaining why they were not among the 15 Italian and one German ships against which the secretary has started confiscation proceedings.

The four ships are the Irenia and Confianza, at Jacksonville, Fla., the Colorado at Galveston, and the Clara at Savannah.

Altogether, Foley recounted, 27 Italian and two German ships taken into protective custody on March 30. Besides the four which have been purchased and the 16 which the Treasury is seeking to confiscate without compensation, four more may be confiscated later after knotty legal problems have been solved. Five other ships apparently are not subject to forfeiture and will have to be bought if they are used by the United States.

Ads get attention—and results

British Expect Nazis To Open Peace Drives

London.—The British Press Association reported yesterday that Germany was preparing a new peace offensive, apparently involving generous terms in the west.

Noting that German Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop "is conferring with Nazi ambassadors to several Western European countries who have been summoned to Berlin," the press association said that these talks arose from Adolf Hitler's failure to obtain support elsewhere for his "crusade against communism."

"The Nazi ambassadors," said the press association, "may therefore be discussing the next political-propaganda move which, judging from the latest whispering campaigns, is intended to take the form of a 'peace drive' in the west."

"There are some indications that Hitler, having failed entirely to influence American and other neutral opinion by his 'holy crusade' propaganda, will now try other tactics and say that while Germany will devote all her strength to defeat communism and thus save the world, he is prepared to consider peace in the west—apparently a genuine peace."

"The anti-Russian alliance is being ignored consistently and, as similarly any peace features will be ignored, Ribbentrop is again wasting his time."

The press association said that such a peace offer as predicted might still be welcomed by some parties in Britain.

RUSH

Rush orders for immediate delivery of cotton are piling up throughout the nation now that some of the nation's agricultural experts are prepared to estimate to what heights this emergency consumption may go.

WHAT MAKES US LUCKY OR UNLUCKY?

Why are some people always lucky while others never get a "break?" This and other interesting questions are answered in an absorbing illustrated article revealing the results of experiments by noted scientists. Look for this feature in the July 27th issue of The American Weekly, the Big Magazine Distributed with the Baltimore Sunday American. On Sale at All Newsstands.

Ads get attention—and results

Is Your Logical

ADVERTISING MEDIUM

For Greater Results
BECAUSE:

The News While It's News!
Greater Reader Interest!
Coverage In The Territory!

Frequency Of Issue Enables You To Use Its Columns At Your Convenience

Complete Advertising Service Is At Your Disposal . . . Pictures, Layouts, Copy . . . by 'Phoning 70, the

ADVERTISING DEPARTMENT OF

The Journal-Patriot

North Wilkesboro, N. C.

1941 LEONARD Hi-Humid Model

KEEPS SUMMER FOODS FRESHER, LONGER!

You Can Buy Other 1941 LEONARDS For As Low As

$129.95 *Model LSS-6A is the 1941 low price special—a big 6 1/2 cu. ft. model with Leonard's exclusive Steel Door Opening Trim and Glacier Sealed Unit. It's sensational value!

Separate cooling coils concealed in the walls, glass shelves and a big, glass-enclosed Hi-Humid Food Freshener provide ideal temperature and humidity. Uncovered left-overs and crisp summer salads keep fresh for days longer. Precious vitamins are protected. See this big 6 1/2 cu. ft. model LH-6 illustrated. Only

$189.95

Day Electric Co.

W. M. DAY, Proprietor
North Wilkesboro, N. C.

Phone 328

*Prices shown are for delivery in your kitchen with 5-Year Protection Plan. State and local taxes extra. Prices and specifications subject to change without notice.