Mrs. Jack Quinn Is Feted At Luncheon

To honor their sister, Mrs. Jack Quinn, of Cleveland, Tenn., Mrs. Andrew Kilby and Miss Gladys Lomax were hostesses at a delightful luncheon at the Kilby home on Sixth Street Saturday. Mrs. Quinn, a former resident of this city, is spending sometime here with relatives. A two course luncheon was served at one o'clock after which bridge and rook were played at five tables.

Winners of the high and low score awards in bridge were Mrs. Chal McNeil and Mrs. C. G. Poin-dexter while in rook Mrs. A. S. Cassel and Mrs. Edd F. Gardner won out. The honoree was remembered with a lovely gift.

Fa Holman Bible Class Holds Monthly Meeting

The July meeting of the Fa Holman Bible class of the Wilkesboro Baptist church was held on Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Charles Howard with Mrs. P. J. Mitchell as co-hostess, and was attended by several of the members and one visitor.

Mrs. J. W. Neel led the devotional period using as her theme "regeneration," and Mrs. Bain Doughton directed an interesting Bible quiz. Mrs. Doughton in the absence of the president presided over the usual business session. A social hour was enjoyed at the close of meeting during which time the hostess, assisted by her daughters, Jewel and Dorothy, served tempting refreshments.

The next meeting is scheduled to meet with Mrs. Carl Bullis on Thursday, August 14th.

Mrs. Ward Eshelman Is Bridge Club Hostess

The members of the Friday bridge club were charmingly entertained by Mrs. Ward Eshelman at her home "Locklyn" north of the city on Tuesday afternoon. Table prizes were won by Mrs. Claude Doughton, a visitor, and Mrs. Will Blair. Refreshments were served by the hostess at the close of play.

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Cashion Hosts At Cake Cutting

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Cashion were hosts at their home on Hinchshaw Street Saturday evening entertaining for the Cashion-Robinson wedding party at a cake cutting. Following the rehearsal an ice course was served in the dining room and the bride's cake cut for the traditional tokens of fortune. The table, spread with a white lace cloth, was attractively decorated in the bridal green and white and lighted by white tapers. The guests consisted of the members of the wedding party, relatives, and a few close friends.

Oakwoods W. M. S. Meets With Mrs. M. C. Jones

The W. M. S. of Oakwoods Baptist church held the regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. M. C. Jones Friday night. Ten members and two visitors, Mrs. D. C. Cobb, Jr., of Greensboro, and Mrs. Oscar Ellis, of Beaumont, Texas, were present. The president, Mrs. Fred Blevins, presided during the business session, and Mrs. Archie Anderson told briefly of the Y. W. A. girls' trip to Ridgecrest. Miss Nora Laws, program chairman, was assisted by Mrs. Rex Stroud and Mrs. Fred Blevins in presenting the program for the month. Mrs. Carl Canter and Mrs. Florence Kenney sang a duet.

The meeting was followed by a social hour during which the hostess served tempting refreshments. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Jim Canter.

Wedge Into Germany

Washington, July 22.—In an apparent attempt to drive a wedge between Adolf Hitler and the German people and to encourage eventual revolt in nazi-conquered countries, the United States tonight proclaimed its post-war aims in the most definite terms yet.

Emphasizing that there could be "no peace until the Hitlerite government of Germany has been finally and utterly destroyed," Sumner Welles, acting secretary of state, plainly addressed his words on the post-war world to the people of nazi-controlled countries.

He then outlined the kind of world for which the United States stood—apparently a definite offer by this country to use its influence in behalf of a "fa: peace" once Hitler and "the satellites who surround him" were removed.

The broad objectives he outlined bore close resemblance to some of the famous "14 points" of Woodrow Wilson.

Dr. J. W. Kincheloe Introduces His Son

Rocky Mount Pastor Holds Meeting in North Wilkesboro Church; Son Is Pastor

By J. W. KINCHELOE
(In Biblical Recorder)

Rocky Mount, July 19.—It has been my purpose for several months to enlist the co-operation of the Recorder in introducing my son to North Carolina Baptists. As I near the close of my twenty-fourth year as pastor in Rocky Mount, I find that I have contributed four sons in their several capacities of service to the state of North Carolina. The last to return was J. W. Jr., who is now the happy pastor of the First Church, North Wilkesboro. He became identified with that church the fifteenth of February, after a six-year pastorate in Emporia, Virginia.

Recently it was my happy privilege to be associated with him in a meeting for ten days. I found at the first service on Monday evening the auditorium, which is above the average in size, filled with people whose presence indicated a special preparation for the work planned. Congregations grew, with all available space filled until the end of the meeting. It was gratifying to find so many outstanding men and women enlisted with enthusiasm and spiritual fervor in a soul-winning campaign.

I found again, as in many other places, the influence of Wake Forest College in the outstanding laymen of that community, who wear the spiritual as well as the scholastic earmarks of their Alma Mater. As a result of the effort there were thirty-six additions to the church. We not only found pleasure in the work for which the church was so well prepared but had the privilege of visiting new places and enjoying new scenery. Mr. C. O. McNeil, of the Coca-Cola Bottling Company, and Hon. Andrew Casey took me one day for a drive to Boone, Blowing Rock, and other points of interest along the scenic highway. It was my first visit in that part of the state. I found in many respects that the people, business interests, and church life measure up to the standards represented by the best communities of the state. It was interesting to discover that in Wilkes county alone there are a hundred Baptist churches.

Time and space preclude the possibility of my putting on record the many things that claimed my attention and inspired my efforts while with the Wilkes church. Memories of the occasion will always be refreshing.

I returned to my work here feeling that John, Jr., and his wife, Barbara, the daughter of a Baptist minister, had found an opportunity for a worthwhile service to God and men. All indications pointed to the fact that their lines had fallen in pleasant places. As eventually "Old John" shall step out of Young John's way and a cycle of a life is complete, it will be pleasant to remember that we shall still be represented by one with our name in the state whose people have opened their doors and hearts in such a large way to a Virginian who has sojourned among them with growing appreciation for these many years.

U. S. Nurses Are Rescued At Sea

Norfolk, Va., July 22.—Four American Red Cross nurses and a marine corporal, rescued from an open boat in the north Atlantic by a United States destroyer after their ship had been torpedoed, arrived at the Norfolk navy yard tonight aboard a navy transport.

They were en route from New Orleans, La., to Great Britain on a 7,000-ton vessel which they said was a member of a 14-ship convoy. The ship carried 10 nurses as the only passengers, the nurses said.

The nurses, listed as Marion Blissett, of Detroit, Mich.; Victoria Pelc, of Auburn, N. Y.; Rachel St. Pierre, of Boston, and Lillian M. Pesnick, of Albany, N. Y., were taken in a navy ambulance to the Portsmouth Naval hospital.

The marine, Corp. E. H. MacAllister, also was removed to the hospital.

In a statement made to Capt. Clarence Gulbranson of the navy transport, the four nurses said the torpedo attack occurred at 7:15 a. m. June 24 without warning. Two minutes after the first torpedo struck the port side another ripped into the vessel and the ship sank six to eight minutes later.

Birthday Dinner

Many friends of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Beshears gathered at their home Sunday, July 13, to celebrate her 85th birthday; also Mrs. Sarah Owens' 58th birthday and Mr. Clinton Beshears', he being 54. Considering the bad weather there was a large crowd. One of the pleasant features of the celebration was a sumptuous dinner spread on the table at noon, which was thoroughly enjoyed by all. Those from a distance were: Mr. Willard Ashley, of Bristol, Tenn.; Mr. and Mrs. Doughton Beshears, of Rhodess; Mrs. Hazel Hensley, of Rhodess; Mr. and Mrs. Roland Englebert, of Elkin; Mr. and Mrs. Lahn Beshears, of High Point; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bates, of Elkin; Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Micheal, of Cricklet; Mr. and Mrs. Howard McNeill, and family, of Millers Creek.
