Four Elkin Visitors Extended Social Courtesies

Several delightful courtesies were extended to four Elkin visitors, Misses Peggy Royall, Clyde Myers, Helen Gibbs, and Eleanor Hayes, who were guests here during the week-end of Miss Betty Halfacre and Miss Nell Rousseau, the first two being guests of Miss Halfacre, and the last two of Miss Rousseau. On Friday afternoon Miss Halfacre took the visitors and a number of other young girls to Hollywood Lake for a swimming party, after which they had supper at the Halfacre home, covers being laid for twelve. Following the supper the young people took in a movie.

Miss Rousseau was hostess at a luncheon at her home on D Street Saturday honoring the visitors, a two course luncheon was served at one o'clock with covers laid for twelve. Saturday afternoon Jay Powell, who formerly lived in Elkin, was host at a picnic supper at the home of his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Williams, on the Brushy Mountain to honor the Elkin group, and included a number of additional guests.

Bridge was played at the close of the luncheon, with the top score prize going to Miss Grace Frank Kilby. The Elkin visitors were remembered with gifts. The last of the series of the social affairs was the scavenger hunt and dance given by Miss Nellie Gabriel at her home on Sixth Street Saturday evening. The group, consisting of twelve couples, met at the Gabriel home to begin the hunt which took them to a number of places, and at the close returned to the home where dancing was enjoyed. Ice cream with ginger ale was served during the dance.

47th Infantry Holds Ceremony, Review For Brig. Gen. Patch

Fort Bragg.—The silver starred insignia of a brigadier general was pinned on the uniform shoulder straps of newly appointed Brigadier General Alexander M. Patch Jr. during a colorful ceremony and regimental review presented in the general's honor by the 47th Infantry regiment at 8:00 o'clock this morning. Brigadier General Patch had commanded the 47th Infantry since the regiment's reactivation last August. Lt. Colonel E. H. Randle was in command of the 47th Infantry troops at this morning's ceremony.

The regimental adjutant read the War Department order announcing the appointment of Colonel Patch to the grade of Brigadier General. Mrs. Patch then pinned one of general's stars on her husband's uniform, and the other was pinned on by their daughter, Miss Julia Anne Patch. Mrs. Patch was, in turn, presented with a bouquet of gladiolas by Mrs. Randle. The 47th Infantry then passed in review before Brigadier General Patch to the music of the 9th Division Artillery band. Brigadier Generals R. E. D. Hoyle and Edwin Harding were present at the review and were accompanied by the entire staff of the 9th Infantry Division.

Rail oddities

ONE TYPE OF LOCOMOTIVE HEADQUARTERS USED IN THE 1850'S CONSISTED OF A BASKET OF FINE WOVEN BASKING ON THE SAND-COVERED FLOOR OF A SMALL FLAT CAR IN FRONT OF THE LOCOMOTIVE.

TO HANDLE, BY RAIL, ALL THE INTERCOASTAL FREIGHT CARRIED BY SHIPS THROUGH THE PANAMA CANAL, WOULD REQUIRE THE SERVICES OF ONLY ONE PER CENT OF THE FREIGHT CARS NOW IN USE ON THE AMERICAN RAILROADS.

Thinking It Over

By KAY CAMP
America has at last become war-conscious. We have been at peace so long, we have so little in common with the professional war lords, and we are so willing to live and let live that we have been reluctant to realize that war may come to us, whether or no. The use of daylight saving time in many localities entirely unaccustomed to it, the curtailing of gasoline consumption, the donating of scrap aluminum,—all may have less value in themselves than in arousing the country to a realization of the imminent danger of war.

The recent release of the new Federal tax figures ought to be an eye-opener. Government officials estimate that before the defense spending is over the national debt will have risen to $90,000,000,000, a figure beyond the grasp of the average mind. But it represents a debt of $700 for every man, woman and child in this country. The estimate is very probably too low.

As this column pointed out some time ago, the results of our defense spending are being shown in the steadily increasing supplies of war materials going to England. No loyal American begrudges a penny spent in national defense.

But what about all these New Deal expenditures, which were started years before there was any thought of war? There have been some half-hearted attempts to cut down on some of these non-defense programs but on the showdown such efforts have always been blocked. The brakes have got to be set or this country will skid horribly into a ruinous repudiation of its national debt, or worse.

Selfish interests will continue to fight any move to curtail such expenditures. But if this country is to be spared eventual economic disaster this non-essential spending must be curbed. The pressure groups must be stopped dead in their tracks.

The patriotic citizens of America through their representatives in Congress can do this thing if they choose. When they speak Congress listens.
