Wilkesboro Baptist W. M. U. Holds Monthly Meeting

Mrs. Charles Steelman, Mrs. George Kennedy, and Mrs. W. A. Stroud combined hospitality to the members of the Wilkesboro Baptist Missionary Society at the home of Mrs. Steelman Thursday evening. Fifteen members and two visitors were present. The topic, "An Urgent Gospel—Demands trained Heralds" was presented under the direction of Mrs. R. L. Wellborn with several of the women taking part. Mrs. O. K. Whittington led the devotional period, and the president, Mrs. George Johnson, was in charge of the business part of the meeting. Refreshments were enjoyed during the social hour.

Sans Souci Cub Met With Mrs. C. J. Swofford

The members of the Sans Souci club and one extra visitor, Mrs. R. E. Gibbs, were delightfully entertained by Mrs. C. J. Swofford at her home on F Street Thursday evening. The top score prize in the game, which was played at two tables, went to Miss Edith Brown. Mrs. Walter Eller received the award for the lowest score. A salad course was served at the conclusion of play.

Mrs. Robert S. Gibbs, Jr. Gives Two Parties

Two delightful parties of the week were the ones given by Mrs. Robert S. Gibbs, Jr., at her home on E Street, entertaining Friday and Saturday afternoons. At each party a dessert course preceded the bridge game at three tables. The high and low score prizes for Friday afternoon were won by Mrs. O. E. Triplett and Mrs. J. S. Zimmerman. The award for the highest score on Saturday afternoon went to Mrs. L. M. Neson while Mrs. James Somers received low score prize.

Miss Janie McDiarmid Is Hostess At Charming Tea

Miss Janie McDiarmid was hostess at a charming Mother-Daughter tea at her home on D Street Friday afternoon honoring her mother, Mrs. James McDiarmid, her two aunts, Mrs. Edward Johnston and Miss Eloise McDiarmid, both of Fayetteville, and the ladies of the Friday Afternoon Book club, of which Mrs. McDiarmid is a member.

Those assisting Miss McDiarmid with the receiving were Miss Ellen Robinson, Miss Becky Reins, Mrs. C. D. Coffey, Jr., Mrs. Archie Ogilvie, Mrs. E. H. Squir, of Eustis, Florida, who is here visiting the Ogilvies at Oakwoods, and the officers of the Book Club, Mrs. J. C. Reins, Mrs. C. D. Coffey, Sr., Mrs. W. E. Jones, Mrs. Leonard Vyne, and Mrs. C. E. Jenkins.

In the dining room Miss Rebecca Mosley poured tea and those serving were Miss Elizabeth Finley, Miss Ruby Blackburn, and Miss Gordon Reins. Good-byes were spoken to Miss Lizzie Hisle.

Miss Frances O'Daniel Is Bride of Mr. King

Charlotte — Mrs. Joseph J. King, of Charlotte, prior to her marriage last Sunday evening, August 24, was Miss Frances Elizabeth O'Daniel, of North Wilkesboro and Charlotte, and a daughter of C. C. O'Daniel and the late Mrs. Lillian Turner O'Daniel of North Wilkesboro. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. King, of Charlotte. Mr. and Mrs. King are now at home at the Frederick apartments.

Will Honor Youth Leaving For School

A picnic supper, to be followed by a short vesper prayer service will be given at the North Wilkesboro Methodist church Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock to honor the boys and girls of the church, who are going away to school and college this fall.

All members of the church are invited to attend, and bring their supper, which will be spread together on tables placed on the church lawn. Drinks are to be furnished by the church.

Every boy and girl of the church, who is planning to go away to school this fall is urged to be present.

The Ice Cream Soda Technique

Maybe it's chocolate and maybe it's vanilla. But whatever it is, the ice cream soda that Tom (George Murphy) has brought for Janie (Ginger Rogers) seems to be an effective device for holding a girl's attention while you tell her how much you love her. A scene from RKO Radio's supremely entertaining romantic comedy, "Tom, Dick and Harry." Dick and Harry, Tom's rivals in this game of hearts, are played by Alan Marshall and Burgess Meredith, respectively. This picture opens at Allen Theatre Thursday.

Lees-McRae College To Open Sept. 17

Banner Elk, Aug. 28.—The 1941-42 session at Lees-McRae College will begin on September 17 with every indication of a full enrollment, according to a statement by Dean Leo K. Pritchett. Statistics show that enrollment is ahead of last year.

The new term will begin with the official faculty meeting on Tuesday, the sixteenth.

Registration of students, re-examinations, and physical examinations will be held on September 17. First semester classes begin on the eighteenth, and English examinations for freshmen and conference meetings for all students will be held the same day. At the opening chapel exercises on the eighteenth, the students will be welcomed to the campus by President Edgar H. Tuitts.

Among the new curricula offered to students matriculating at Lees-McRae this year will be one for the training of hospital bookkeepers, and a curricula for students majoring in the field of music.

MATRESSES

Two new Greene County AAA mattress-making centers have been opened, one at Snow Hill and one at Walstonburg, says J. W. Grant, assistant county agent.

It's Retirement For Army Mule at Bragg Cheek Reunion

Fort Bragg.—Wild Root, with impressive claims of being the orneriest mule that ever stuck its nose into an army feed box, will be retired here some time in the very near future at the ripe age of 33 years with all the fanfare reserved for perfection in any art—be it ever so rambunctious.

When the event takes place, the 4th F. A. Bn., under the command of Lt. Col. William Clarke, with all the trappings of splendor, will be on hand with other distinguished company to pay tribute to a little dun-colored mule, which has the staggering reputation of having thrown a man a day for seven years and two on the final day she was saddled, just to show that she was not weakening.

On her dun-colored, time hewn hide is the fading brand of World War days and in her own dreamy eyes still lurks some of the fire that won for her without a struggle the title of the meanest mule in the 4th Field Artillery Battalion with which she has served since 1919.

No less a dignitary than Maj. Gen. Jacob L. Devers recognized that Wild Root had earned her rest. Several letters to the War Department by the organization resulted in no answer, and Wild Root was destined for destruction. But at the final minute Maj. Gen. Devers endorsed a letter to the War Department which brought "retirement to the pasture" for Wild Root. The General's endorsement read as follows: "It is my desire that this mule be recommended to the Quartermaster General for retirement."

The big day has not been yet set, but meanwhile preparations moved apace and soon it will be lush fields, leisure and plenty of canteen for Wild Root, a mule pith a past.

WE ARE NOT HOLDING OUR USED CARS to profit at the public's expense!

THIS MESSAGE FROM
Yadkin Valley Motor Co.
WILL INTEREST EVERY USED CAR BUYER IN WILKES COUNTY

Holding used cars for higher prices, as so many dealers are now said to be doing, is gambling, pure and simple—and, at the public's expense.

There is every indication that those who hold them will get higher prices for them. Prices have gone up, and the trend is still higher.

We think that holding used cars is inflationary. We're against such a policy.

The foundation of our business is new cars—and this community has given us record new-car sales this year. We will not now gamble in used cars, at the expense of the public who have given us one of the best years in our history. So—our used cars are priced downward, for immediate clearance.

On our lot, now—to an even greater extent than in recent months—you will find "buys" substantially under the market. We invite you to come in and look them over.
