British Mass Libyan Force For New Push

Germans Bothered With Third Front In Yugoslavia

Powerful Russian offensive hurled back a German Panzer army from the southern approaches to Moscow and pursued westward defeated Nazi divisions previously thrown out of Rostov and Taganrog. Soviet dispatches said Wednesday, while in Libya the British massed tanks and artillery for another attempt to knock out the two panzer divisions standing between them and the conquest of North Africa.

In occupied Yugoslavia, the Germans were reported to have sent three divisions in a major offensive against Serbian troops and irregulars entrenched in the valleys of the Morava River. Quarters saw in this campaign the opening of a "third front" with the Germans compelled to fight again in the Balkans.

Nazis Gain At Moscow
The Germans claimed that on the Moscow front Nazi tank units and infantry, supported by dive bombers, gained more ground "despite strong resistance and local enemy counterattacks" but gave no details regarding positions west of Rostov. The Germans said, Russian attacks were "no as strong as they were" but Nazi dispatches gave no details of the fighting there.

Pacific Crisis Enters Period of Dark Quiet

The American-Japanese crisis fell last night into one of its recurring periods of uneasy and relative quiet. The world watched to see what effect the great developments in southern Russia and the Middle East would have upon Tokyo—the continued German defeat back from Rostov and President Roosevelt's extension of lease-lend aid to Turkey.

This was so because Japan all along had seemed to become emboldened with Hitler's military successes and made cautious by his reversals.

Tokyo's reply to the latest American move—President Roosevelt's question as to what Japan meant to do with her greatly increased military forces in French Indo-China—had not been received.

New Albany, Ind.—Geo. Myers is not only pained, but also a little bored with the behavior of his left leg. Myers was admitted to a hospital last May 17 with a fracture suffered in a fall. On crutches, he tripped a month ago and re-broke the fracture. Today Myers is not only bored, but fears his conversation might be boring to listeners. He is telling the same old story: "Still on crutches, I broke the same leg, same place. That's the third time."

Young Marine Is Victim Of Crash Of Dive Bomber

Body to Arrive Saturday and Funeral Will Be At Mt. Pleasant Church

Theodore Church, 19-year-old old marine, was the first Wilkes county casualty in the armed forces of national defense. He was killed in the crash of a bomber at San Diego, California on Thursday.

He was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. L. Church, of Purlear route one in the Mount Pleasant community.

The body will be brought back to Wilkes for burial and the funeral service will be held Saturday afternoon, 1:30, at Mount Pleasant Baptist church with the pastor, Rev. Grady Hamby, in charge. The body will arrive here by train about noon, accompanied by Pvt. Keith M. Anderson, of his marine corps platoon, as escort.

The young man was killed when the Navy dive bomber he was in crashed soon after takeoff from the San Diego airport during a practice flight. The pilot, Russell L. Garner, 22, aviation chief machinists' mate, was also killed. They were the only members of the crew. The plane burst into flames after it crashed and crash crews removed the bodies from the wreckage.

Church had been in the marine corps six months and had made an excellent record. He was studying aviation mechanics and would have graduated from that course on December 17. His grades had averaged between 90 and 95. Prior to his enlistment in the marines he had been in a C. C. Camp in Utah for 5 months. Surviving are his father and mother, two brothers, George B. and Robert Church, and two sisters, Vivian and Irene Church, all of whom reside at the home.

The father, a farmer of modest means, said here that he was deeply grieved at the loss of his son but was consoled in the knowledge that he died in the service of his country. He expressed deep appreciation for a telegram of consolation from Mrs. Elaine Garner, widow of the pilot who was the other victim of the crash.
