Claudette Colbert, Fred MacMurray Together Again

SCREEN SWEETHEARTS of Paramount's romantic comedy, "No Time for Love", due Thursday and Friday at the Liberty Theatre, are Claudette Colbert and Fred MacMurray who haven't been seen together in too long. The stars appear as an arty woman photographer and a tunnel digger, respectively. The two get together underground and come up with a slam-bang love story. Others in the cast are Ilka Chase, Richard Haydn, Paul McGrath, June Havoc. The picture was directed by Mitchell Leisen, who megaphoned "Take a Letter, Darling", "Arise, My Love", "I Wanted Wings" and "Hold Back the Dawn".

Pvt. Morse M. Duncan Is Visiting Relatives

Sgt. William Carrigan Home On Leave

Sgt. William Carrigan, who is stationed at the army air base located near Boise, Idaho, is home on a leave which he is spending with his mother, Mrs. J. H. Carrigan, in Wilkesboro. Sgt. Carrigan is with the signal corps of the army air force, and prior to induction into the army was connected with the probation department of the middle federal district of North Carolina.

St. Sgt. Oren M. Hudson Now In England

St. Sgt. Oren M. Hudson is now in England, according to a letter received by his wife, the former Miss Edna Wiles. St. Sgt. Hudson states he is getting along fine. He entered the service three years ago with the National Guard unit and was formerly stationed at Fort Jackson, S. C., Carolina Beach, N. C., Fredericksburg, Va., Camp White, Oregon, Needles, Calif., and Camp Young, Calif.

Cpl. Charles Hudson, Jr., On Ascension Island

Fifth Tech. Charles Hudson, Jr., is stationed on the Ascension Island, the mighty midget whose bustling wartime activities have until now been kept a secret. It is said that Ascension is the loneliest and most inaccessible spot any American troops are called to serve in. Charles is expected home soon on a 30-day furlough for a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hudson. He has been on the Ascension Island two years.

St. Sgt. Adams Returns To Duty

St. Sgt. Hayes B. Adams recently returned to Asheville after spending a 15-day furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Adams, of Fairplains. St. Sgt. Adams submitted his request for foreign service in December and received official notice of his transfer to the air transport command in New Mexico. St. Sgt. Adams states that he has reasons to believe that he will be stationed in China or India after leaving New Mexico. He has been stationed in Asheville with the weather wing of the A.A.F. and is a member of the regular army, and has been in the service four years. He attended North Wilkesboro high school in 1938.

Four Sons in Service

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Marsh, of Wilkesboro, now have four sons in service—two in the U. S. army, one in the navy, and one in the marine corps.

Pfc. Odell A. Marsh has been in service for more than a year and is now stationed at Camp Phillips, Kansas.

Pvt. Paul Marsh has also seen more than a year of service, having spent ten months overseas. First, in Hawaii, and now in Australia.

Pvt. Parks Marsh, whose wife and small son reside at Millers Creek, has been in service with the U. S. Marine Corps for about a month.

A. S. Dewey D. Marsh entered the U. S. navy on December 16, and is receiving his "boot" training at the Naval Training Station at Bainbridge, Md.

Each of the boys likes his own branch of service and writes that he is getting along fine.

Mrs. P. B. Church Rites Held Today

Mrs. Minnie C. Church, age 30, wife of P. B. Church, of the Summit community, died suddenly on Sunday at the Wilkes hospital after a brief illness. Mrs. Church, daughter of the late W. A. LAST-MINUTE WAR NEWS DAILY

Can You Picture NORTH CAROLINA without Radio?

A "black-out" of radio in North Carolina would leave a bigger gap in the lives of our fellow citizens than most of us realize. We can look back to a time when radio was just a new-fangled gadget that sometimes worked — but today it would be hard to look ahead to a world without it.

To nearly half a million homes in North Carolina — that's more than 3 out of 5 — radio regularly brings its air-borne cargoes of entertainment and information. Operas and quizzes, variety shows and newscasts, comedies, war stories, symphonies, farm hours, dramas both real and make-believe, lectures and dance music — they're in our living rooms at the turn of a dial.

To bring us these varied programs and the advertising of their sponsors North Carolina has 28 radio stations broadcasting from 22 different towns and cities. Many of these programs are local in origin and interest—others go on the air from all parts of our nation, from microphones set up at the furthest corners of the world, and are brought here by the 7 networks serving North Carolina.

We North Carolinians, whose job it is to keep Greyhound buses rolling across this State of ours, feel that we're helping to make near neighbors and good neighbors of all the towns and cities we serve. Our buses link these communities to each other and to the rest of the Nation. We feel that radio, in a quite different way, is also doing much to bring closer together the people of our State and of our Country. Such unity is all-important to our full-scale, full-time war effort.
