Eleven Years As Mission Worker

REV. CHARLES A. KEYS, Jr.

Eleven years ago, this month, at the early age of fourteen, in the hills of Virginia, Charles Andrew Keys, Jr., known throughout Wilkes county as an earnest Christian worker in Home Mission Evangelistic work, began this great work which through many difficulties and trials he has carried on up to this day by faith, leading men and women to Christ.

He was known a few years ago as "The Boy Preacher" and youngest mission worker in the nation.

For many years Charles Andrew Keys, Jr., has preached the gospel in Wilkes and when he is passing through North Wilkesboro to fill an appointment he has never failed for over 10 years to stop somewhere on the street, open a song book, sing, pray and preach that men may find Christ in the byways.

Many a person has been converted in these services, and today are devoted Christians. He began preaching at the age of five, being inspired by God to quote scripture and talk to the public at that age. He delivered his first soul saving message at fourteen years of age in the First Baptist church of Glade Springs, Va., to a crowded house and many of his schoolmates and friends found Christ on that day, which will never be forgotten by the people in that little green valley of Virginia, eleven years ago. From that day on the evangelist gained wide publicity and quite a reputation, known as the boy preacher throughout the nation, and held successful revival meetings at 15 years of age, and from that day to the present time he has devoted his time to Home Mission Evangelistic work, working in neglected and isolated sections of the country, bringing many to Christ who have never been to church and who are today Christian workers in churches of many denominations, some converted from bootlegging and gamblers to ministers of the gospel.

As the young evangelist is a Methodist by faith, his work is known as "The Christ's Gospel Home Mission Evangelistic work", has always been inter-denominational and his converts may join any church of their choice.

OLD TIME RESIDENT REGAINS 10 POUNDS

Retonga Promptly Relieved Distress From Nervous Indigestion and Sluggish Elimination, She States. Feels Fine Now.

Among the hundreds of well known Carolina residents praising Retonga for the splendid relief it brought them is Mrs. Bessie Seawell, 411 Church St., and for thirty-seven years a well known and highly respected resident of Greensboro. Discussing her relief through this noted vitaminized gastric tonic, Mrs. Seawell happily declares:

"I suffered so much distress from nervous indigestion and gas in my stomach that sometimes I felt like I could not get a deep breath. Food did not seem to give me any strength and I felt so weak and undernourished that I hardly had the heart to do anything. I had to take such strong laxatives that they seemed to upset me all over. My nerves were on edge, I seldom got a full night's sleep, and I lost ten or fifteen pounds.

"Retonga happily relieved all this distress from indigestion and gas, and I have regained ten pounds. The nervousness, constipation, and rundown feeling are also relieved, and I feel fine. I guess I am about the most grateful woman in Greensboro to Retonga."

Retonga is intended to relieve distress due to Vitamin B-1 deficiency, constipation, insufficient flow of gastric juices in the stomach, and loss of appetite. A good substitute Retonga may be obtained in North Wilkesboro at Seawell's Drug Store.
