He was married June 21, 1893, to Miss Frances Porter, of Asheboro, first cousin of William Sidney Porter (O. Henry). She had been a teacher in Randolph county schools. She died November 16, 1943. Surviving are two daugh-Mrs. C. Elbert Kearns, ters. Greensboro, and Hope Hubbard, of the home, and one grandchild, Elbert Kearns, Greensboro.

A brother, W. R. Hubbard, of Moravian Falls, and a sister, Mrs. W. S. Surratt, of Hyattsville, Md., also survive. The funeral was held Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock at Science Hill Friends church, near Farmer. Interment was made afterwards in the family plot in the Asheboro cemetery.

The following tribute to the life of Dr. Hubbard was read at the funeral service by Dr. G. W. Joyner, president of the Randolph Medical Association, on behalf of the association:

"The word of the passing of Dr. C. C. Hubbard brought to me that sense of weighty depression which always accompanies the sustaining of severe personal loss. As I consider the life of this man, who was an ornament to his profession here with Sgt. Meade's family, and to his county, I was moved to place upon the written page some of the countless thoughts and reflections which engaged my mind. "To the medical profession of Randolph county, the loss of our most reverened and respected col $legu_{\Theta}$  is irreplaceable. For more than 50 years he strove for the advancement of knowledge and the perfection of professional ideals through our medical association. He served us well as president, secretary, and as head of our most important committees, but of deeper signifance was the constant example of his own noble life and works. Wherever Dr. Hubbard sat in our councils, there was the head of the table. He retained a youthful and vigorous The music and singing will be outlook toward his chosen profurnished by the choir of Fishing fession; he was eager always to Creek church. The program is as advocate strenuously the exploration of any course of knowledge which might lead to the alleviation of human suffering and misery. E "To me personally, Dr. Hubbard was much more than a fellow-worker, a professional colleague. Although I enjoyed the privilege of his friendship only for a brief span of years, I could not Т hold him in higher regard if this privilege had extended through the whole course of his long and useful life. To me he was an imspiration—an inspiration which challenged me to greater achievement for the honor of the profession which he so nobly graced. To me he was guide, counselor, and friend. I think perhaps my first impression of Dr. Hubbard was: "Here is a man who practices medicine both with mind and heart". This early conviction was confirmed and strengthened as I came more and more into contact with men, women, and children Smith, Paul Smith, Mrs. Verna who were, or who had been, his McCann and Mrs. Ruby Cox, of patients. Their testimony composes a tribute to this great, Christian gentleman which is more four sisters and two brothers: enduring than if it were cast in bronze.
