

In Memory

We, the members of the Gilliam reunion, and near kin, wish to offer these resolutions of respect to the memory of our dear boys who so bravely paid the great sacrifice in giving their lives for our country: William Samuel Gilliam, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Gilliam, Benham; William C. Gilliam, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willie Gilliam, Thomasville; and Robert Sale, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Sale, of Ronda.

Union Grove R-2 News of Interest

Miss Evadene Comer, of Winston-Salem, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Comer, last week.
Mrs. John Howard and Misses Nora and Lora Lunsford, of Statesville, visited their parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Lunsford, during the week-end.
Mrs. N. W. Prevette and Mrs. S. C. Davis were the dinner guests of Mrs. R. G. Wright Sunday.

Folger Townsend Solicitor In 16th

Folger Townsend, well known Lenoir attorney, has been appointed solicitor of the 16th judicial district, which is composed of Catawba, Burke, Lincoln, Cleveland and Watauga, counties. He succeeds Solicitor L. S. Spurling, who died recently.

His paternal grand parents were the late Sanford Sale and Diana Gilliam Sale.

Whereas, in his wisdom God has taken from our midst our beloved sons and loved ones.

Therefore be it resolved: That we bow in humble submission to God's will, who doeth all things well.

That in their death we have lost our dear relatives.

To the immediate bereaved families we tender our deep sympathy, assuring them that we share their sorrow and loss, and commending them to the Father of mercies and God of all comfort.

That a copy of these resolutions be spread upon our record, a copy be sent to each deceased family and one to the local papers.

Women IN THE CHURCH
by Mary Fowler

Mrs. Nathaniel D. Singer, of the Civilian Defense Volunteer Office in New York City, and Josiah P. Marvel, of the Quaker Emergency Service, are enlisting women of Catholic, Protestant and Jewish congregations throughout Greater New York in a "crusade" against the black markets in foods. They characterize growing black market practices as a moral issue with which the churches have concern, and the "first step in the breakdown of the moral consciousness of the general public". For individual church women this means shunning all black markets and keeping informed on price ceilings.

Medical examinations to enable 300 youngsters to go to summer camps sponsored by the Church of All Nations, New York City, are provided through a "campship" grant of Gamma Phi Beta, national social sorority. Another "campship" will provide a two-week vacation for a child designated by the Methodist Camp Service of New York City. Both organizations are affiliated with the New York City Society of the Methodist Church, of which Dr. Frederick B. Newell is executive secretary. Before the war, Gamma Phi Beta sponsored its own camp program, but now it is sending children to camps operated by other agencies.

"The end of the war in Europe is but the beginning of a long process of rebuilding the broken bodies and spirits of whole peoples", says the United Council of Church Women in a recent resolution. "Food, clothing and other material supplies are immediate needs. The United States must take the lead to see that these needs are supplied without delay. . . . We church women pledge to cooperate in a continued program of rationing and price control. We urge renewal of the Price Control Act by Congress, and strengthening of the Office of Price Administration. We, the Christian homemakers of America, pledge to avoid waste in food in our daily lives and to sacrifice gladly a part of our share of scarce foods, so that the health and even lives of millions abroad may be saved. We urge our government to fulfill promptly its obligations under the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration."

Prevent Sour Milk Losses In Summer

Good sanitation, coupled with quick cooling after milking, will help prevent sour milk losses and provide more good milk for the fluid milk trade and manufacturing purposes this summer.

Souring of milk is caused by bacteria, which converts the milk sugar into lactic acid, says John A. Arey, in charge of Extension dairying at State College.

He explains that, regardless of all the sanitary precautions that can be taken, some bacteria will be introduced into the milk during the milking process. On the other hand, their development can be retarded by immediately cooling the milk after it is taken from the cow.

He suggests mechanical refrigeration on those farms that have electricity, reducing the temperature of the milk to about 45 to 50 degrees. On other farms the milk can be cooled in wooden barrels. The water should come as high on the outside of the can as the milk is in the can; there should be at least three times as much water in the barrel as there is milk to be cooled; and the water should be changed as often as necessary to keep the milk sweet.

Sanitation is very important. All vessels which come in contact with the milk should be thoroughly cleansed and sterilized after each use, according to Arey. The cow's udder should be washed and dried with a clean cloth before milking, which should be done with clean, dry hands or a thoroughly cleansed and sterilized mechanical milker.

The leaves of good hay constitute from one-third to one-half of the total volume of the hay but they contain about two-thirds of the total protein. Save those leaves.
