Dellaplane News

There was much activity in the churches in Antioch township last Sunday:

Children's Day exercises and a picnic dinner were held at Antioch. The grave of Mrs. Millie Staley, a teacher in the Antioch Sunday School more than 50 years, was decorated.

Rev. J. B. Ray preached at Cranberry and assisted the pastor, Rev. L. T. Younger, in administering the communion service.

A big baptizing was held at the old Parks mill near Frank Staley's. A revival had been running at Oak Forest three weeks; there were many converts there and a hundred or more were supposed to come from other places to be baptized.

A men's chorus, consisting of sixty voices, sang at Cranberry Saturday night, June 12.

Rev. Herman Johnson preached at Cranberry church recently. Herman is a former resident of this locality, oldest son of the late Silas Johnson.

The colored people held a Children's Day program and a spread dinner at their church, Union Grove, last Sunday.

Young men friends from Salisbury visited Jim Frank and Sherri Roberts over the week-end at the home their grandfather, Rev. N. T. Jarvis.

Several friends and relatives from Cranberry expect to attend the wedding of Miss Bonnie Sue Jarvis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dwight G. Jarvis, and Sidney Arnold Martin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy B. Martin, of Raleigh, at the First Baptist church, Hickory, next Sunday afternoon, Mr. and Mrs. Turner Church, of Boomer, will also attend.

Child Suffocated By Rubber Balloon

Elizabeth City, June 13.—Four-year-old boy died of suffocation en route to a hospital here today after swallowing a rubber balloon.

Doctors said that little Ernest Douglas White was dead on arrival at the hospital.

The boy's father, Ernest Shelton White of Weeksville, said the child was walking across the yard and fell down. When the father reached him, little Ernest was turning blue from lack of air. He died a few minutes later.

Gilliam Family Holds Reunion

By MRS. W. H. JONES

The members of the Gilliam family held their 17th consecutive reunion Sunday, June 12, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Gilliam five miles southwest of Elkin. The day was happily spent by the large concourse of relatives, friends and neighbors of the family, many of whom gathered prior to the reunion for the service at Bethel church near the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gilliam.

After the close of the worship the members of the clan joined others who had arrived at the Gilliam home, and a delightful luncheon was spread upon long tables arranged on the lawn under the spreading maple trees; before partaking of the delicious food, the secretary, Mrs. W. H. Jones made the announcement of the registrations, and W. A. Stroud of Wilkesboro who was master of ceremonies, in the absence of the chairman of this organization, J. A. Gilliam, North Wilkesboro, who was not able to attend—this being the first of this reunions Mr. Gilliam has missed.

A brief memorial service was held for W. H. Jones, the late husband of Jettie Gilliam Jones, who passed away since the reunion 1948.

The pastor of the above mentioned church, C. L. Leftwich, pronounced the blessings and returned thanks for the bountiful repast.

M. H. Wall, husband of the late Mollie Gilliam Wall, was the oldest relative to attend; Mr. Wall has celebrated his 83rd birthday anniversary while the youngest to enjoy the gathering was the attractive little 11 month old son of Mr. and Mrs. Horace D. Bruce, Horace Dalton, Jr., of Winston-Salem, grandson of Mrs. Lilla Gilliam Vannoy and Mr. Vannoy, Winston-Salem.

Guests registering outside the community were from: Traphill, Low Gap, Sparta, Newport News, Norfolk, Va.; Tarboro, N. C.; Van Wert, Ohio, Boyd, Md., Knoxville, Tenn., Winston-Salem, Mt. Holly, N. C., Wilkesboro, Elkin and Jonesville.

Scott Not Expected To Halt Execution

Raleigh, June 13.—Governor Scott has no intention at present of intervening in the death row case of James Edward Lewis, Paroles Commissioner T. C. Johnson said today.

Lewis, a 26-year-old negro, is scheduled to die in Central Prison's gas chamber Friday for the slaying of his wife.

He was convicted in Robeson county of shooting his wife, Lettie McMillan Lewis, twice with a shotgun and then beating her with its stock.
