Good News For Northeastern Wilkes

Thousands of people in the northeastern part of Wilkes county get some satisfaction from the fact that the State Highway Commission has advertised for bids on construction of part of the Traphill road.

On December 22 the commission is expected to let contract for construction and surfacing of 4.4 miles, which will extend from end of the present pavement near Hays to Dockery postoffice. This mileage represents about one-half of the road between Hays and Traphill, and there is assurance that the other half will be built.

For many years good people have been living in northeastern Wilkes several miles from the nearest pavement. They have been paying the same rate of gasoline and license taxes as other people. In the winter time they have been practically weather-bound. The so-called roads they have been forced to travel have worn out their vehicles rapidly and they have been forced to make costly repairs caused by road conditions.

Now it appears they are in for a better era and we can look to that part of Wilkes for rapid development.

Veterans Urged To Keep Discharge

How valuable is a military discharge? Probably no document of a personal nature is as important to a veteran during his lifetime as the piece of paper separating him honorably from service with his country.

A multitude of services and a wide variety of opportunities are afforded a war veteran, as well as his dependents, and the discharge certificate is the ready instrument to call forth any one or several benefits. Claims for hospitalization or compensation, employment opportunities, civil service, death benefits, education for both the veteran and his children, scholarships and old age pensions are but a few of the things for which a discharge is needed and required.

Many veterans are unaware that in time of emergency a delay in locating the discharge certificate may result in unnecessary inconveniences. Others who have lost their discharge certificates and have not applied for a substitute may penalize themselves without justification.

Laws in North Carolina provide for the recording of a discharge by the County Register of Deeds without charge. Federal laws permit veterans who have lost their certificates to apply for a certificate listing their war service. Certified or photostatic copies should be used whenever possible, thus eliminating the risk of losing the original. Every veteran or the dependents of a veteran should keep the original discharge certificate in a safe place so that when an emergency does arise it is readily accessible.

District Service Officers of the N. C. Veterans Commission and County Veterans Service Officers are ready to assist veterans in obtaining discharge certificates in lieu of those lost or stolen, or to have them properly recorded.

THE GREATNESS OF BEING A LADY

That it is great to be a real lady surely cannot be questioned. Perhaps no achievement in the life of a woman goes beyond that of genuine principles traits and characteristics that go to make her a lady in every sense of the word. She may rank high in education, in position, in leadership, but she reaches her highest peak in life when she can be truly and unmistakably classed as a lady. On the other hand she may not rank high in learning, nor position, nor in leadership, but she can be a lady of the highest type in the meantime. This should be the aim, plan and purpose of every woman. Anything short of this, regardless of a woman's achievements otherwise in life, places her beneath her God-given privilege, and the great goal that she should attain. We say this sincerely because we believe it to be the whole truth.

In order to be a real lady one must have a spotless character. She must be highly virtuous. Her walk before mankind must be thoroughly in accord with godliness and righteousness. She must major in cleanliness and purity of heart, mind, soul and spirit. She cannot stoop to the questionable, or to the sinful and wicked along any line, or keep the company of the vile, or spend any of her time in reading a low and degrading class of books, or literature, and be a lady of the finest and highest type.

There is in the inner life of every genuine lady a purity that is above and beyond the evil, trashy, smutty elements of this world. The principles of a true lady are heavenly. They come from God, not from Satan. No lady is addicted to bad habits and low, vile traits. She walks uprightly before God and man. She would not sell her virtue, her character, nor the great and sublime characteristics that make her a lady, for any price. Absolutely she is not for sale, regardless of the price that may be offered, and regardless of anyone who might offer to buy her character and ladyship. Jewels, diamonds and pearls make no appeal to her if these would require her character and would rob her of the greatness of being a lady. No man, however, regardless of his beauty, his wealth, his learning and his position, can buy her virtue, character and ladyship; or if she sells out she is no longer a lady, though she may try to put on a beautiful front.

Women IN THE CHURCH

WOMEN IN THE CHURCH

Mrs. Justice Justine Wise Poller, of the Domestic Relations Court in New York City, has been elected president of the Women's Division of the American Jewish Congress for a period of two years. Justice Poller is the daughter of the late Dr. Stephen S. Wise, founder and first president of the AJC, and long a spiritual leader of American Jewry. She has been a justice for fourteen years, author of a book on children's courts and active on the Citizens' Committee on Children. In her presidential address Justice Poller said that the Jewish people will not permit themselves to be used by those who give lip service to freedom, but who, then in power, deny freedom to those with whom they disagree.

Miss Katharine F. Lenroot, chief of the Children's Bureau Washington, D. C., recently challenged American churches to work so that every child, "regardless of race, creed, color geographic location, or economic circumstances," shall have a fair chance to enjoy a good life. That means, she said, the churches united in solving the issue of war, of poverty, of intolerance, of depression, of the four freedoms, which are "essentially spiritual problems." "They can be solved," she said "only in the measure that moral stature and spiritual strength are developed in people, beginning with the child."

Two internationally-known church women, both of whom have been associated with the Christian movement in India have been named to important posts by the World Council of Churches in the promotion of its ambitious survey and study of "The Life and Work of Women in the Church." Miss Sarah Chakko, president of Isabella Thoburn College, Lucknow, India, and Mrs. Kathleen Bliss, D. D., of England and India, are respectively the secretary of the commission making the study, and the writer of the final draft. The preliminary study was made by Mrs. Samuel M. Cavert, of New York, wife of the executive head of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ. Other notable women serving on the commission are Mrs. Frank G. Brooks, president of the Woman's Society of Christian Service (Methodist, U. S. A.), Mrs. C. M. Van Asch Van Wijk, of the Netherlands, former president of the World's YWCA, and Mrs. Geoffrey Fisher, wife of the Archbishop of Canterbury, England.

McE. Pietertje Ormsby, one of the five Holstein bulls in the artificial dairy breeding stud at State College, has been classified "excellent" by the Holstein-Friesian Association of America.
