

HOME DEMONSTRATION KITCHEN IN COURTHOUSE

EXCELLENT KITCHEN RESULT OF COOPERATIVE EFFORTS

We are very delighted to report that the Home Agents have moved into new office quarters during the past year.

The county added two wings to the Courthouse. When this work was first begun, the commissioners were then approached as to the possibilities of using one of these wings for the Home Agents office. Up until this time, we had a very small office space with no laboratory available.

The commissioners had the office wired for an electric stove and installed running water and heat.

A Council meeting was held and this was discussed with the women. As the County Council treasurer had some money that had been previously raised for the purpose of fixing up a county kitchen, they immediately began making plans toward getting this kitchen as well as office equipped. A committee was appointed to work on this project with the Home Agents. The Home Agents with this committee visited Sears and Roebuck Store in Greensboro and asked them for a donation for the kitchen. They very graciously accepted this request and gave us a double compartment sink for our kitchen. Of course, we were more than delighted with this gift.

We then contacted the cabinet maker in our county and made plans with him for building cabinets for the kitchen as well as storage cabinets for the office space. He made all these cabinets for us for a cost of $324.00 which was paid by the County Council treasurer. Then we decided that we certainly would like to have a refrigerator and an electric range. We visited the dealers for comparing prices. We finally decided to get a Hotpoint electric range and a Kelvinator refrigerator from the Duke Power Company. They sold both of these two items to us on the school plan. We paid approximately $336.00 for both of these items. Here again the County Council paid this bill.

We then began thinking how we could make our floors more attractive. The commissioners had the floors sanded for us. The women then decided to have asphalt tile put on all of the floors. This was done at a price of $120.00 which was paid by the County Council. The women purchased venetian blinds for all of the windows, the county commissioners had the office painted light green as well as the cabinets.

We are indeed happy over our new office quarters. We have a small office 10x15, and our kitchen is 17x27. By having this larger space, we have been able to have special interesting meetings in our kitchen laboratory as well as use it when we have County Council meetings for serving refreshments.

We feel that the addition of our new kitchen has been indeed a great step toward improving our work. The women have all made contributions toward getting it equipped and they feel that it is really theirs to use and enjoy.

Out-Of-Season Turkey Hunting Cost Men $81

Troy, April 24 — Alvin Brock, 31, of Uwharrie, and Alred Brock, 20, of Norwood, were found guilty of hunting turkeys out of season in Montgomery County Court today.

In addition the Brooks' were convicted of trespassing on a warrant sworn out by T. B. Andrews of Mt. Gilead. Fines and costs levied against the men by Judge David Harris amounted to $81.20 each.

The men were arrested early Monday morning by Max Capel, district game supervisor. Their shotguns were confiscated before the men fired at any game. Also confiscated was an antique turkey caller made about 65 years ago by the late George Brock, grandfather of the Brock men.

Ronda Home Club In Interesting Meeting

Ronda Home Demonstration club met with Mrs. John Hurt and Mrs. L. G. Hurt, April 21, at 2 o'clock, with 20 members present and two new members, Mrs. Tom Boyd and Mrs. Glenn Poplin, three ladies received pins for perfect attendance for 1 year. Mrs. Grady Dimmette, Mrs. W. E. Sale and Mrs. Silas Poplin; also Mrs. Avery Whittington received a chain for her pin with a 4 in it for four years attendance.

The club voted Mrs. Whittington the woman of the month.

Several ladies received nice gifts from heart sisters. Mrs. Whittington gave an interesting lecture on "Club Ethics."

We also exchanged flowers. We had a contest which netted the club with birthday money between $6.00 and $7.00; also appointed a committee to help in cancer drive. Mrs. Greene gave a very interesting lecture and picture of remodeling and arranging a home. The club had a picture made to send to our lady friend overseas.

The hostess served delicious refreshments, assisted by Mrs. E. F. Edwards, Dina Anne and Myrtle

Poor Teamwork Weakens Walls

For a trifling cut in costs, some builders foolishly team mis-matched masonry materials together. They use brick with practically no expansion factors to cover up substitute masonry that expands and contracts with every change in weather.

Such a wall cannot have maximum strength. The constant expansion and contraction of a part of a wall causes cracking.

When you buy or build, insist on solid brick or brick cavity walls. You'll have permanence and beauty without constant maintenance worries and expense.

Seated, a housewife is re-covering her own lamp shades by following directions on the chart shown in the hand of the Duke Power Company Specialist (standing).

When Spring Fever Strikes the Homemaker . . .

One sure symptom is the longing for something new and bright instead of the same dull interiors that have grown monotonous through long winter months.

One tested prescription is Light, and it grows more effective every season, as new ways of turning drabness into beauty are revealed by lighting experts.

This Spring, members of our Home Service staff are getting right down to realities. Why not, they ask, use some of your drape or curtain material to re-cover your shades. The effect in color unity is charming and individual, the cost within the most modest budget.

Or . . . how about getting thirty per cent more light without buying a single new lamp? Just "do over" the shades you have, making sure that the renovated shades are lined with white.

Before women's clubs, 4-H groups, and home demonstration meetings, our Home Service Specialists are demonstrating answers to these and other questions to help make Electricity more useful, in more ways, in more Piedmont homes.
