Ten Strand Fence
'Bound The Carolinas
That's the fence you could build with the power lines that serve the rural Piedmont Carolinas. The Duke Power Company's Rural Lines would go ten times around the entire boundary of the two states, and you could spare the wire.
The network was begun twenty-five years ago and has grown steadily. It grows faster today than ever before because Piedmont farmers are multiplying their uses of electricity to increase poultry and crop production without more power.
Approximately 17,000 miles of lines serve 156,120 rural users. It is one of the most progressive in rural electrification.

KING OF THE ROYAL MOUNTED By Zane Grey
TOMMY, I DROVE A SPRINT CAR BEFORE I JOINED THE MOUNTED POLICE!
THERE! WHEN TARPET TOUCHES THAT RESERVE FUEL TANK VALVE, THE 10,000 VOLTS STORED UP IN THAT CAPACITOR WILL WRECK HIM FOR SURE!
OH-OH! WHAT'S THIS? KING IS IN TARPET'S CAR! I WONDER IF HE'S GOING TO DRIVE THE RACE!
LOOK AT HIM GO!
I CUT MY HAND, POPPY. SO KANE IS DRIVING, AND IS DRIVING AWAY!
TOMMY'S CAR IS ON THE TRACK... WHO'S DRIVING IT?
I'LL NEVER FORGIVE MYSELF IF ANYTHING HAPPENS TO YOU, KING...
