Improve Your Soil By Seeding Pastures

Nitrogen equal to 1000 pounds of nitrate of soda is added to the soil by one acre of ladino clover, according to W. W. Woodhouse, Jr., soil fertility scientist with the North Carolina Experiment Station.

Woodhouse says the beneficial effects that legumes have on succeeding crops is just one more good reason for seeding pasture.

One experiment with corn conducted at the Station showed that where alfalfa had been turned under, the yield was 115 bushels per acre. When lespedeza was turned under, the resulting yield was 48 bushels per acre. On an adjacent field with no legume turned under, the yield was only 25 bushels per acre.

The increase in the corn yield following alfalfa would more than pay for the cost of seeding the alfalfa at present prices, Woodhouse says. Any hay or grazing crops that were taken between seeding and turning would be free.

In addition to the nitrogen added by legumes, improved pastures make another contribution to the soil. Woodhouse found that a sod which produced 2,834 pounds of forage, contained 27,400 pounds of organic matter in the upper six inches of soil at the end of five years. Organic matter improves the structure of soils, increases their water holding capacity and furnishes plant nutrients.

Doctors And Editors

In a coast-to-coast radio address, the new president of the American Medical Association Dr. Elmer L. Henderson, said, "The newspapers of America, with few exceptions, have taken a strong stand, not only against socialized medicine, but against all forms of state socialism in this country—and the doctors of America are proud to take their stand beside the fighting editors of America in the battle to save our freedom and the system of individual initiative which maintains it."

This position of the American press is not surprising. Newspaper people have an exceptionally good understanding of what socialism has done to the economics and liberties of other peoples — and they are completely aware of what it could do here. The welfare state, despite all the attractive theoretical arguments in its behalf, has a grim habit of turning into a slave state.

As for socialized medicine, it is simply part of an all-inclusive scheme to have the government run everything and everybody—under the camouflage of benefiting everything and everybody. Government medicine and government in business and government regimentation of our resources and energies all come out of the same ideological bin. All are spokes in the socialistic wheel.

The splendid support the doctors have been given in their fight to preserve medical freedom — and to preserve medical progress with it — certainly proves that more and more Americans understand that what is at stake is the system of government this country has always stood for.

He who has not learned how to be gentle, forgiving, loving, and happy has learned very little, great though his book learning and profound through his acquaintance with Scriptures may be; for it is in the process of becoming gentle, pure, and happy that deep, real, enduring lessons of life are learned.—Bulletin of First Baptist Church, Forest City.

Fifty Billions Spent For Defense

A number of congressmen and senators have raised the question about United States defense and are wanting to know what the armed services and the defense department under Secretary Johnson did with fifty billion dollars in four years.

Fifty billions represent the amount appropriated for defense in four "peace time" years.

Nevertheless, the Korean war caught the United States unprepared and if reports are correct Russian-made weapons in use by Korean Reds are superior to ours.

Of course, the location of the war must be considered. Korea is several thousand miles from the United States and there was no concentration of modern weapons in Japan, which has been one of the most peaceful nations on the earth for the past four years.

However, it seems there should have been enough foresight in Washington after the Reds overrun China to know that the Orient was a hotbed of trouble. Hind-sight is always better than foresight, or at least is more accurate, and now it appears a great mistake that Russia was allowed to occupy half of Korea following World War II for Russia's token participation in the war against Japan, which was won by the United States with valuable help from Australia.

Russia's occupation of part of Korea gave the Soviet a base of operations which threatens Japan and every democracy in the far east, including Indo-China, the Philippines and the East Indies.

WHY ARE PEOPLE SO THOUGHTLESS?

This is a question that may be hard to answer. However, it is a question that should be sincerely considered. We should especially think of the question from the standpoint of the soul's salvation.

People are very thoughtless about many things that pertain to their welfare, and the welfare of others about them, which oftentimes have serious outcomes; but the one thing about which the majority of people seem very thoughtless as they go through life is the welfare of the soul. Knowing that all have a soul, and that we shall answer for ourselves, personally and individually, at the judgment bar of God, why is it that the vast majority are so careless and thoughtless about preparing to meet God? It is hard to understand, except that the devil has them in his grip and just lulls them to sleep in the cradle of indifference.

It seems that the vast majority of mankind are far more thoughtful about this life and world than they are of the life and world beyond. They give their time and labor to meet the needs of the body, and to cultivate and educate the mind, but give little or no thought to the soul, neither seek to get it in a readiness to meet God. Why are people so thoughtless along this line, even knowing that the soul is the pearl of greatest price? Multitudes of parents are thoughtful of the education of their children, but seem absolutely thoughtless of the salvation of their precious souls, and their eternal welfare. I am made to wonder at the indifference of others and mothers toward even the morality of their sons and daughters. Too many never seem to care as to what kind of company their children keep, and seem satisfied if they run with the wicked, rowdy, immoral boys and girls of the community.

I am made to wonder also at the indifference and thoughtlessness of parents toward the Bible, the church, the Sunday school, and all that is uplifting, ennobling and sublime. What will it be at the judgment? "Every one of us shall give account of himself to God." (Rom. 14:12).

One sad thing about the Korean War is the realization that this results in civil war in a country which has a large Christian element in it. There are undoubtedly a great number of Christians in line of battle on both sides of the conflict. Along with multitudes of others, many Protestant missionaries have suffered a great deal because of the war. Religious News Service reports that about 100 Protestant missionaries, men, women and children, evacuated from Korea are temporarily housed in Kobe, Japan, awaiting the outcome of the Communist attack on South Korea.—Biblical Recorder.
