

Soil Conservation In Wilkes

By R. E. DUNN and JASPER G. CHIPMAN

Mr. Robert L. Smith who lives just south of Ronda, recently had terrace lines staked on a field that had been cleared in the past year. Mr. Smith wants to use terraces to help keep the field from washing, until a permanent sod of grass and clover can be established.

The entire personnel of the Tri-Creek Soil Conservation District spent the day Tuesday, August 8th, Forsyth county studying fish pond management and other phases of wildlife work under the direction of Verne E. Davison, Southeastern Regional Biologist, of the Soil Conservation Service, from Spartanburg, South Carolina. Mr. Cornell and Ted Mitchell from the Wildlife Resources Commission were also present and gave some very interesting information on various phases of Wildlife work in N. C.

By treating his land according to its needs, Mr. Homer Elledge, of Hays, has established some very excellent pasture on land that two or three years ago was growing scrub pines.

Mr. Homer Brookshire recently had soil samples taken to determine the kind of fertilized needs for pasture to be seeded this fall. Mr. Brookshire in cooperation with his mother is doing a good job in pasture improvement. Their pasture is in good shape and carrying their present number of livestock well despite the recent dry weather. The Brookshire family is located out on the Lenoir road near Boomer.

Mesquite and Utah Juniper, regarded as "past" trees in the southwest, have been found to make good fence posts.

Rev Charles A. Keyes Now In Kentucky

Evangelist Charles A. Keyes, Jr., who has been confined with sickness in a hospital for a period of time, announces his plans to further the advancement of his Mission work to the "Man Furthest Back", into the isolated neglected wilds of the Kentucky Mountains. Rev. Mr. Keyes, who has given most of his youthful life in Christian work, working among mountain people, preaching, establishing missions, and helping the poor and underprivileged, has found through his missionary co-workers of the Christ Gospel Home Missionary Work a great field for christian work for concentrated, spirit filled, christian workers in the rugged mountains of Kentucky.

Rev. Mr. Keyes said, "These people who live furthest back in the mountains, through personal contact, and observation with many, many, I find without a doubt they are greatly in need of spiritual help, and religious education. Through my many years as a consecrated minister of the gospel and mission worker, I find these mountain people of the "Blue Grass" State of Kentucky, different from people in many ways. Those in other territories where I have labored. It takes plenty of patience, understanding, a spirit of humanity and unconquered sacrificial determination, to go forward into these wilds, work by faith in God and bring these people into the light and understanding of the Christian way of life".

At present Rev. Mr. Keyes has under his direction two young men, working entirely by faith in the mountains, holding services, distributing gospel literature, Bibles, and teaching the Bible in several neglected mountain sections, where plans, are now under way for a place of worship in the near future. He has other mission work carried on by faithful, spirit filled christians in Tennessee, Virginia, and throughout North Carolina. In one spot where the Evangelist made several missionary journeys to conduct services in an old fashioned open Arbor, very far back in the hills; today on the same spot stands a beautiful little white church, with a nice membership, and a humble minister, who preaches an old fashioned gospel.

Dellaplane News

A revival has been in progress all this week at Antioch Baptist church. Rev. Andrew Call, guest minister, is doing the preaching. The services are largely attended. Little Miss Annie May Anderson returned home the first of the week after visiting a week or so with her aunt in High Point. Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Swain, of near Oakwoods, visited Miss Ruth Linney Monday morning. Mr. Swain also visited Mr. Monroe Smithey, who is a first cousin of Mr. Swain's wife. A singing school was held at Antioch last week. Rev. Noah Hayes, the pastor, preached a good sermon to a very large congregation at Antioch last Sunday. The church auditorium was recently enlarged and 4 Sunday school rooms added. 139 are enrolled in Sunday school at Antioch. Monroe Smithey has been ill from dizziness and went to see a doctor last week. A meeting has been going on in the arbor or tabernacle near here. Willie Anderson ran or backed his pick-up over his best dog, a very handsome puppy of good stock, and killed him. Miss Ethel Love has returned home after being in Davis Hospital, Statesville, and having a syst removed from her leg. She is recovering splendidly.

Cranberry News

The pastor, Rev. L. T. Younger filled his regular appointment at Cranberry church, Saturday and Sunday. He delivered two very interesting sermons. Mr. Flake Rumble and Mr. I. T. Mathis are on a tour of the western states, expecting to visit Yellowstone National Park and the Grand Canyon of Colorado. Miss Nola Howard, of Cycle, spent Sunday afternoon visiting in the home of Rev. N. T. Jarvis. Buddy Mathis, football player of the Wilkesboro team, is spending two weeks at Boone in preparation for the football season. Mr. and Mrs. Noah T. Jarvis and family spent the week-end of August 6th at Carolina Beach. Miss Percy Chambers, with her son and daughter, Paul and Katharine, attended service at Cranberry Sunday. Ex-Governor of Fla. Recuperating In N. C. Hendersonville — Former Florida Governor Cary A. Hardee of Live Oak was recuperating yesterday at a local hospital after an operation Monday. He came here Aug. 4. With him are Mrs. Hardee and a daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Day of Live Oak.
