The Cosmopolite. ON THE FIRST OF JANUARY WE WILL commence the publication, in the city of Baltimore, of a monthly literary Magazine. There is no publication of this character now issued South of New York city, and the closing of the war has left a large portion of the people of the country with no literary representative. The Cosmopolite will be devoted to literature, art, reviews, scientific reading, and we shall number among its contributors some of the first literary men of the South, with others from the North, and from London and Paris.

All matter not original, will be carefully selected from the newest and best of the English, French and German Publications; and its Editors will spare no effort or expense, to make it rank with the very first Magazines of the country. As its name imports, we have established the Cosmopolite upon no sectional basis. We hope to make it the center of general literature alone; and will be uninflected by any party or clique whatever. It will be mailed to subscribers in any part of the country upon receipt of the following subscriptions: Single Copies for One Year, $4 00 Ten Copies for One Year, $30 00 Liberal deductions will be made to book sellers and newsdealers.
